Negro Held For False LBJ Threat

Said Sect Planned To Kill President

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — An unemployed Negro handyman was under arrest today on a charge he had told the FBI the Black Muslim sect planned to assassinate President Johnson.

The report was untrue, Joseph K. Ponder, special agent in charge of the Buffalo FBI office, said.

A leader of the Black Muslims described the idea as ridiculous.

Admits False Story

Ponder said there was "every indication" that Philip A. Booker Jr., 28, of Rochester, who was arrested Wednesday night, was not a member of the Black Muslims.

Booker admitted telling a false story "to test the investigative ability of those agencies of the United States government whose responsibility it is to protect the President," Ponder said.

Ponder said Booker, a Negro, called the FBI's Buffalo office from Rochester Tuesday and said:

"I have some information for you. . .President Johnson will be assassinated."

Booker did not identify himself but later was located and identified, Ponder said.

Then, said Ponder, Booker told the FBI this story:

He attended a meeting Tuesday in Rochester of 50 Black Muslims—a Negro separatist organization—who discussed assassinating the president.

Bares Plot

The plot called for 10 handpicked Black Muslims to leave Rochester at midnight, Jan. 14 in two automobiles en route to Washington via New York City. The 10 were to meet in Washington with other Black Muslims to carry out the assassination.

Ponder said investigation of the story by the FBI and U.S. Secret Service in Rochester, Buffalo, Albany, New York, Washington and Baltimore proved it to be "untrue and not a fact."

Booker, a native of Baltimore, worked in Cohocton, Steuben County, N.Y., before coming to Rochester in October, Ponder said.

6 GOP Senators Offer Own Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Republican senators offered legislation today to provide a public-private health care plan for the aged that they described as the most comprehensive yet presented to Congress.

One part would provide 45 days of hospital care, up to 180 days of skilled nursing home care, or more than 200 days of home health care following treatment in a hospital for all persons 65 or over.

This would be financed by an increase of ½ to 1 per cent in the Social Security pay roll tax to be deposited in a separate health fund.

The other part of the program would create a national, federally chartered association of private insurance and group service companies which would authorize a standard medical-surgical policy for those over 65.

Best Chance: Javits

By enabling private insurance firms to pool their risks, a standard policy could be made available at a cost of about $2 a week, sponsors estimated.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. chief spokesman for the sponsors of the measure, called it "the program with the best chance of becoming law in 1964." It is based on the recommendations of the National Committee on Health Care of the Aged, which submitted its findings to the late President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 14.

The American Medical Association opposed and Congress stymied Kennedy's program to provide hospital, nursing and out-patient care for the elderly by boosting the Social Security tax on employer and employe ¼ of 1 per cent.

To Resume Monday

The House Ways and Means Committee is to resume hearings on the administration bill Monday. Wednesday, President Johnson reaffirmed his support for the measure and predicted it "is going to be the law of the land."

"We have just begun to fight," the President told leaders of organizations of senior citizens at a White House meeting. He emphasized that under the plan the insured would be able to choose his own physician and hospital.

Javits said he thinks the bill offered by the Republican senators has the best chance of winning broad bipartisan support.

Joining him in offering the measure were Sens. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Thomas H. Kuchel of California and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Prize Bulls Lost In Dutchess Fire, Some Herded Out

Five prize-winning Angus bulls, one valued at more than $100,000, perished in a fire Wednesday night that extensively damaged the show barn on Ankony Farms, River Road, Rhinebeck.

Five Units Respond

Ten dairy cows and an equal number of black Angus show cows, were rescued by farm workers who were attracted by the flames. Five fire companies battled the raging flames for hours and managed to prevent the fire from spreading to other sections of the huge barn.

The farm is owned by Lee L. Leachman, president of the Dutchess County Fair Association, and Allan A. Ryan Jr., of Rhinebeck and 333 East 68th Street, New York City. Both were away at the time the fire was discovered.

Mrs. Robert Ernst, wife of the Ankony Farm herdsman, and her daughter, Mary Lou, were in their home watching television shortly after 9 p. m. yesterday. "Suddenly the lights went out, and all electricity in the house was off," Mrs. Ernst told a Freeman reported.

"The clocks stopped at 9:03 p. m. My daughter and I ran to a window to look out to see why the lights were off," Mrs. Ernst said. "We saw a red glow in the sky and we knew there was a fire. I hurried to the telephone and called firemen."

Companies from Rhinebeck, Rhinecliff, Red Hook, Milan and Hillside responded to a call with upwards of 150 volunteers.

One Had $100,000 Value

Mrs. Ernst said one show bull, Paragon, valued at more than $100,000 perished in the flames. She said two other prize Angus—Baronet and Babylonian, also were destroyed in the fire, along with two other show bulls.

"The five bulls lost in the fire were in the show barn, a section of the huge barn in which the show livestock were sheltered," Mrs. Ernst said. She

Probe Committee Will Continue to Watch Over State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The controversial State Investigation Commission (SIC) had a new lease on life today with a decision to reappoint its four members.

A possibility had existed that the commission would be allowed to die this year by being denied a fresh appropriation.

Get New Terms

This threat was dispelled Wednesday by Gov. Rockefeller's announcement that he and the Republican leaders of the Legislature would give new terms to the incumbent members — two Democrats and two Republicans.

Their terms had expired last April 30. They have been serving on a temporary basis since then.

Top Republican leadership never has been happy with the bi-partisan commission, because it operates on its own without having to answer directly either to the governor or the Legislature.

The SIC made headlines in recent months with its investigations of alleged links between police and the underworld in predominantly Republican Westchester County and its inquiry into purchasing practices of Albany County, a Democratic stronghold.

Other Developments

In another developments in state government, Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki said he would call for a solid party-line vote by Democrats against Rockefeller's proposal to repeal the state's full-crew laws. The laws, said by railroads to be a source of "featherbedding," specify the minimum size of train crews.

The members of the SIC were reappointed for two-year terms, ending April 30, 1965. The commission itself also expires on that date.

Rockefeller will reappoint the two Democratic members of the first appointed by former Gov. Averell Harriman, also a Democrat, are Myles J. Lane of New York City and Goodman A. Sarachan of Rochester.

Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino will reappoint Jacob Grumet, whose original appointment was made by Carlino's predecessor, the late Speaker Oswald D. Heck.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney will reappoint John W. Ryan Jr. of Buffalo, whom Mahoney first appointed.

Members of the commission are paid $18,000 a year.

Spend More On Planes, Johnson Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is asking Congress to cut spending on missiles and ships by more than a billion dollars and to increase spending on planes by $300 million.

This was revealed Wednesday when the Defense Department sent Congress its authorization request for the 1965 fiscal year.

The request included $10.6 billion for procurement of missiles, ships and planes. Last year, Congress appropriated $11.4 billion for procurement.

Vinson Not Disturbed

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee that must consider the request, said "I am not disturbed at all" by the requested cut in procurement spending.

"We will see what the justification is when the hearings begin," he continued.

Vinson said the committee would begin its hearings on Jan. 27. Secretary of Defense obert S. McNamara is scheduled as the first witness.

The authorization bill actually totaled $17.2 billion — the largest authorization ever sent to Congress by the Defense Department.

Research Included

But Vinson pointed out that this figure included an authorization of $6.6 billion for research and development. In the past, Congress has not included research and development in the annual military authorization bill.

The department's authorization request presages even deeper cuts in the military procurement program. Congress usually appropriates less money than it authorizes.

The timing of the authorization bill came as a surprise because it preceded the scheduled date for President Johnson's budget message by almost a week.

UR Mobile Unit Not Moving Due to Snow

A mobile unit used to inform residents of downtown's Broadway East urban renewal area of relocation procedure is to remain inactive until further notice, Ralph A. Marallo, relocation director announced today.

Its stops at various downtown intersections has been canceled because of weather conditions. The schedule will be announced when conditions permit its reappearance in the area.

JFK Team Likely to Keep Jobs

Seen Staying On Through Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top-level White House team put together by John F. Kennedy is expected to remain on the job, relatively intact, at least through the November election.

But there has been a break, the resignation Wednesday, effective Feb. 29, of special counsel Theodore C. Sorensen. And a second break could come in a few weeks if Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., the historian turned presidential assistant, decides to return to private life.

Schlesinger Uncertain

An intimate of the late president said that with the possible exception of Schlesinger he felt certain the Kennedy staff would continue to serve President Johnson.

Sorensen wrote Johnson that he was quitting "to devote the next several months to writing a book about the late president and my 11 years of service with him."

There was no indication that Sorensen, one of Kennedy's chief aides, had experienced any disenchantment with Johnson. And, he told a news conference Wednesday, he hoped his move "would not encourage others to follow suit."

Really Wants to Write

Sorensen said "I feel that I have a book to write." And he added that if it wasn't written now, it might never be written. He said he would try to portray Kennedy both as an individual and as president.

In a sense, it seemed that Sorensen felt an obligation to write the Kennedy story as a stand-in for the slain chief executive. He said he never had planned to write a Kennedy book but that he and the late president had talked several times about the book Kennedy would have written after leaving office.

Urged to Remain

Schlesinger, historian of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, is expected to follow Sorensen through the White House door—although Johnson repeatedly has urged him and other Kennedy aides to remain.

The former Harvard professor has emphasized his belief that every president should be surrounded with assistants of his own choosing. And he obviously does not think that Johnson, left to his own designs, would have chosen him for the White House staff.

Astronaut Glenn May Talk Today On Senate Race

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — World - famous astronaut John Glenn Jr. may reveal today if he plans to leave the space venture to run for U.S. senator from Ohio.

Glenn would not comment Wednesday on rising published speculation that he definitely will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination in Ohio's May 5 primary. He said, however, he would issue a statement this morning through the Manned Spacecraft Center, probably from public affairs officer Paul Haney.

Silent About Trip

In Washington, a source close to the situation confirmed the validity of the report that Glenn would challenge incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland for the nomination.

Glenn would not say if he planned a trip to Columbus to personally announce his candidacy today.

"Someone has done some surmising on their own," was the only comment from the 42-year-old astronaut.

Kennedy Arrives Today For Talks on Malaysia

By JOHN RODERICK
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived in Tokyo today for talks with President Sukarno of Indonesia in an effort to cool Indonesia's hostility toward the new Federation of Malaysia.

The late president's brother arrived by Air Force jet with his wife, Ethel. It is his first assignment by President Johnson as a diplomatic troubleshooter.

Kennedy said he is counting on a "bond of friendship between the United States and Indonesia" to help ease the dispute. He meets with Sukarno Friday.

Asians Know Best

The 38-year-old attorney general added, however, that the Malaysian crisis is "best decided, resolved, determined by Asian countries, not by ourselves."

Kennedy met Sukarno in 1962 on a Far Eastern tour for his brother. Although Sukarno has been openly critical of the United States, he is said to respect Kennedy's honesty and ability.

To Meet Principals

Kennedy's personal efforts in the Malaysian dispute will take him around the world to meet with all the principals. Monday, he flies to Manila to confer with President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines. He is also expected to talk with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in London.

Under British sponsorship, the British territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sabah (British North Borneo) and Sarawak formed the Federation of Malaysia last September. From the start, it was opposed by the Philippines, which claims Sabah, and Indonesia, which occupies the rest of Borneo.

Sukarno, by far the more militant opponent, vowed to crush Malaysia, calling it an instrument of British neo imperialism. Philippine opposition to Malaysia has been milder.

Civil Rule Returns to Canal Zone

Chiari Balks, May Not Restore Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army turned back control of the Panama Canal Zone to its civilian governor today even as a new eruption of U.S.-Panamanian differences threatened to wreck a one-day old diplomatic truce agreement.

High U.S. officials said the situation was very confused.

Hope for Clarification

They hope for clarfication in a meeting to be held by U.S. trouble-shooter Edwin M. Martin and Panamanian President Roberto Chiari in the course of the day. Chiari requested Martin to see him. Martin's instructions are to try to keep the agreement in force.

Despite the shifting developments the Defense Department announced that the Army had turned back to civilian authorities responsibility for security in the Canal Zone.

Gov. Robert J. Fleming Jr. turned over control to Gen. Andrew J. O'Meara, Army commander in the zone, last Friday, when riotous mobs began attacking U.S. installations and personnel. The violence cost the lives of four American soldiers and 21 Panamanians. Scores were wounded.

Wednesday, U.S. - Panamanian negotiations resulted in an agreement sponsored by the five - nation Inter - American Peace Commission that the two countries would resume normal diplomatic relations and 30 days thereafter would put all their problems on the conference table.

Must Have Voice: Chiari

The United States said the agreement was to "discuss" the problems. Panama said it was to "negotiate."

Within 24 hours of the announcement of this peace deal, Chiari told a throng of demonstrating students outside his palace in Panama City that he would not restore normal relations with the United States unless the United States agreed to negotiate a new Panama Canal Zone treaty. Chiari wants to eliminate U.S. absolute control of the zone and get a voice for Panama in the operation of the canal.

Element of Uncertainty

On the surface, officials said, the Chiari government seemed to be backing away from the pecially attractive type of finan agreement to restore normal relations and get on with the talks on differences over the Canal Zone. For the moment, however, he had not forced the issue diplomatically and it was that element of uncertainty in his real position that gave special importance to his meeting with Martin.

Today the pentagon 3rd graf 154

Today the Pentagon announced it had received this announcement from the general:

"I hereby relinquish to Robert J. Flemming Jr., governor of the Canal Zone, responsibility for law and order in the Canal Zone and all other responsibilities within the Canal Zone other than the command of United States military forces and United States military installations."

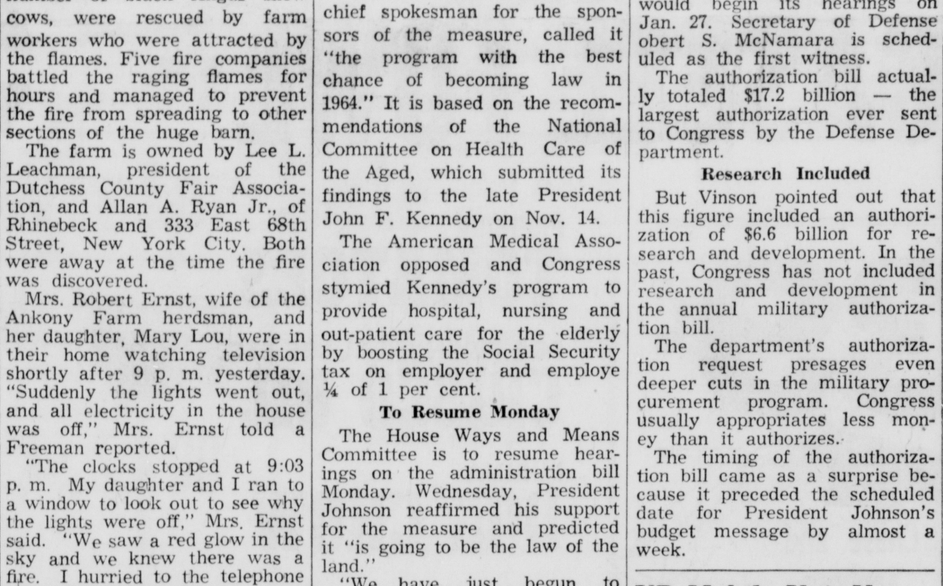

There was no immediate explanation here of just how the shift, suggesting a military view that the situation had quieted down, squares with word from Panama Wednesday night that the Army had moved small units back up to the border as new violence appeared to threaten.

Life Nears Normalcy

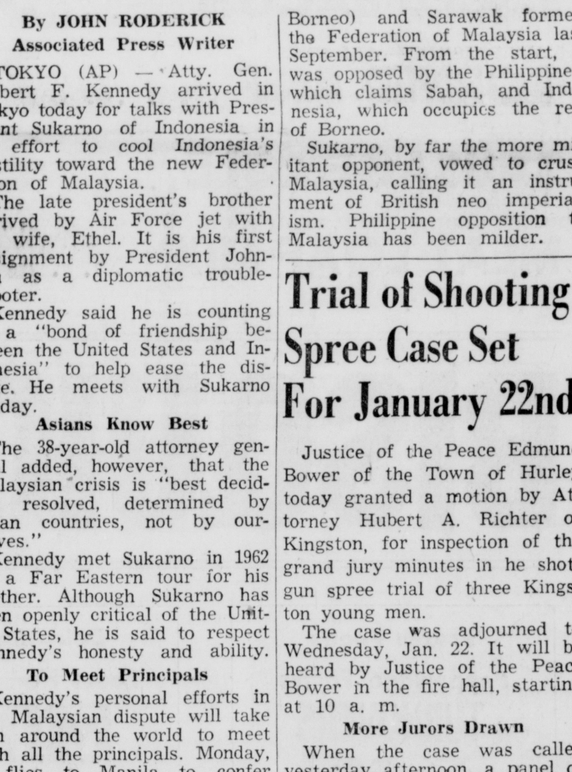

The dispatch reporting that move; however, also said that life within the zone itself was back to a semblance of normalcy.

Along with the announcement of the shift of control, the Pentagon relayed word that O'Meara and Flemming are designating Friday, Jan. 17, as a day of prayer throughout the Canal Zone in memory of the men who lost their lives "in the performance of their duty during the events that transpired since Thursday, Jan. 9."

Four American servicemen and 21 Panamanians were reported killed in the disorders which followed a dispute over efforts of Canal Zone high school students to fly the Stars and Stripes alone at their school house. Under a U.S.-Panama agreement the Panamanian flag would be flown alongside the U.S. banner in public displays.

The signing here coincides with the nationwide celebration of the 44th anniversary of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. Kennedy said he is counting on a "bond of friendship between the United States and Indonesia" to help ease the dispute. He meets with Sukarno Friday.

Asians Know Best

The 38-year-old attorney general added, however, that the Malaysian crisis is "best decided, resolved, determined by Asian countries, not by ourselves."

Kennedy met Sukarno in 1962 on a Far Eastern tour for his brother. Although Sukarno has been openly critical of the United States, he is said to respect Kennedy's honesty and ability.

To Meet Principals

Kennedy's personal efforts in the Malaysian dispute will take him around the world to meet with all the principals. Monday, he flies to Manila to confer with President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines. He is also expected to talk with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in London.

Under British sponsorship, the British territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sabah (British North Borneo) and Sarawak formed the Federation of Malaysia last September. From the start, it was opposed by the Philippines, which claims Sabah, and Indonesia, which occupies the rest of Borneo.

Sukarno, by far the more militant opponent, vowed to crush Malaysia, calling it an instrument of British neo imperialism. Philippine opposition to Malaysia has been milder.

Civil Rule Returns to Canal Zone

Chiari Balks, May Not Restore Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army turned back control of the Panama Canal Zone to its civilian governor today even as a new eruption of U.S.-Panamanian differences threatened to wreck a one-day old diplomatic truce agreement.

High U.S. officials said the situation was very confused.

Hope for Clarification

They hope for clarfication in a meeting to be held by U.S. trouble-shooter Edwin M. Martin and Panamanian President Roberto Chiari in the course of the day. Chiari requested Martin to see him. Martin's instructions are to try to keep the agreement in force.

Despite the shifting developments the Defense Department announced that the Army had turned back to civilian authorities responsibility for security in the Canal Zone.

Gov. Robert J. Fleming Jr. turned over control to Gen. Andrew J. O'Meara, Army commander in the zone, last Friday, when riotous mobs began attacking U.S. installations and personnel. The violence cost the lives of four American soldiers and 21 Panamanians. Scores were wounded.

Wednesday, U.S. - Panamanian negotiations resulted in an agreement sponsored by the five - nation Inter - American Peace Commission that the two countries would resume normal diplomatic relations and 30 days thereafter would put all their problems on the conference table.

Must Have Voice: Chiari

The United States said the agreement was to "discuss" the problems. Panama said it was to "negotiate."

Within 24 hours of the announcement of this peace deal, Chiari told a throng of demonstrating students outside his palace in Panama City that he would not restore normal relations with the United States unless the United States agreed to negotiate a new Panama Canal Zone treaty. Chiari wants to eliminate U.S. absolute control of the zone and get a voice for Panama in the operation of the canal.

Element of Uncertainty

On the surface, officials said, the Chiari government seemed to be backing away from the pecially attractive type of finan agreement to restore normal relations and get on with the talks on differences over the Canal Zone. For the moment, however, he had not forced the issue diplomatically and it was that element of uncertainty in his real position that gave special importance to his meeting with Martin.

Today the pentagon 3rd graf 154

Today the Pentagon announced it had received this announcement from the general:

"I hereby relinquish to Robert J. Flemming Jr., governor of the Canal Zone, responsibility for law and order in the Canal Zone and all other responsibilities within the Canal Zone other than the command of United States military forces and United States military installations."

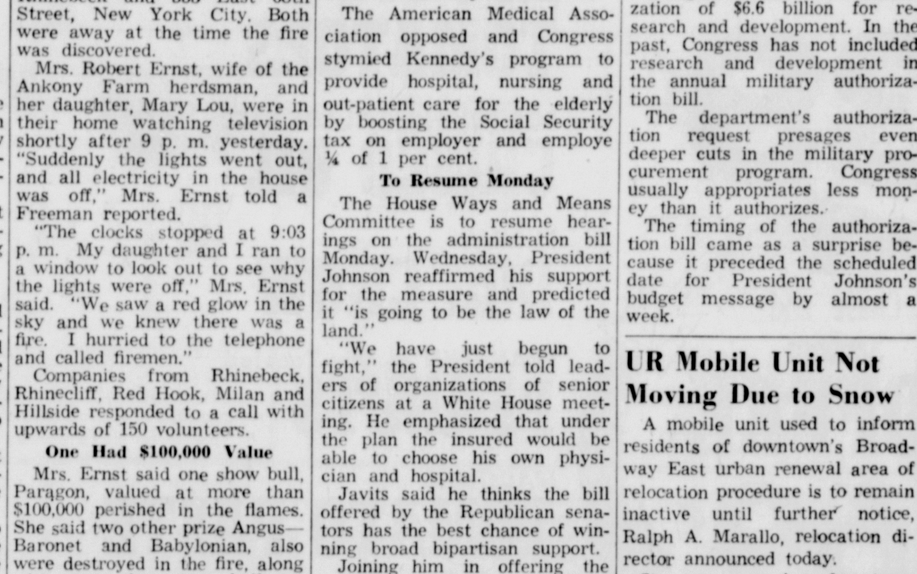

There was no immediate explanation here of just how the shift, suggesting a military view that the situation had quieted down, squares with word from Panama Wednesday night that the Army had moved small units back up to the border as new violence appeared to threaten.

Life Nears Normalcy

The dispatch reporting that move; however, also said that life within the zone itself was back to a semblance of normalcy.

Along with the announcement of the shift of control, the Pentagon relayed word that O'Meara and Flemming are designating Friday, Jan. 17, as a day of prayer throughout the Canal Zone in memory of the men who lost their lives "in the performance of their duty during the events that transpired since Thursday, Jan. 9."

Four American servicemen and 21 Panamanians were reported killed in the disorders which followed a dispute over efforts of Canal Zone high school students to fly the Stars and Stripes alone at their school house. Under a U.S.-Panama agreement the Panamanian flag would be flown alongside the U.S. banner in public displays.

PROCLAIMING JAYCEE WEEK — In a proclamation issued this week, Mayor John J. Schwenk stressed the observance of Jaycee Week in Kingston during Jan. 19 and 25. He said civic leaders and service organizations and departments of local government recognize the great service to the community by Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce, such as the model fallout shelter at Forsyth Park, given to the city as a comfort station; the Miss New York State Pageant, held here; Christmas shopping tour for underprivileged children; Teen-Age Road-e-o Safe Driving programs and various other projects. The signing here coincides with the nationwide celebration of the 44th anniversary of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jack Teagarden's Lazy Trombone Is Silenced by Death

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The jazz trombone of Jack Teagarden—sometimes lazy and lyrical, sometimes brash and brassy—has been silenced.

Teagarden was found dead Wednesday in his motel room, not far from the night clubs of the historic French Quarter where his Dixieland beat set feet tapping so many times. He was 58.

An autopsy was planned today to determine the cause of death.

Teagarden was found face down on the floor. He wore a dress shirt and undershorts.

His last engagement was at the Dream Room, a Bourbon Street nightclub within earshot of his motel room.

The engagement was scheduled to end today, said Walter Noto, co-owner of the Dream Room, "but he took sick on Thursday the 9th."

"About one o'clock in the morning, he said he couldn't play anymore," said Noto. "I didn't know he was still in town. I thought he was going to his home at Pompano Beach, Fla., the next day."

Almost entirely self - taught, Teagarden played his trombone with its pulsating rhythms throughout the nation's jazz haunts for the past four decades. He had a style all his own, jazz experts said.

Teagarden, a heavy - set, moon-faced man, was also a band leader and jazz singer of note. His husky singing voice sounded not unlike the bellows of his lazy trombone.

Goldwater Calling For Reliefers to Work for Checks

By WALTER R. MEARS

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, calling for an attack on what he termed "the Santa Claus" of the "government handout," has urged that able-bodied men on relief be put to work for their welfare check.

The Arizona Republican accused President Johnson of making "Santa Clause promises" in his State of the Union message.

Johnson's program adds up to saying "that the bureaucracy in Washington can solve all our problems, end poverty and create prosperity," Goldwater said.

Carrying his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination into the home town of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his only announced rival, Goldwater charged Wednesday night the Democratic party has "reduced rewards for good work and also reduced the penalties for laziness or waste."

He told the Economic Club of New York that the government should investigate "whether the attitude or the action of the small group not participating in the general prosperity has anything to do with the situation."

In his State of the Union message Johnson outlined proposals that would cost about one billion dollars over the next few years to combat poverty.

Johnson also proposed a $97.9 billion federal budget, saying it would cut expenditures $500 million below those of this fiscal year.

Goldwater called that "a fast shuffle of figures" and said Johnson actually wants $2 billion more than Congress authorized for this year.

Goldwater said that to deal with the problem of poverty:

"I would, if I were in a position to do so, call a conference with participation from all of the states to study this problem of poverty and jobs, to pin down the figures, to survey all the solutions and not seek to impose the federal one."

Sameness Not Lack of Originality

Rocky's Criticism Same As Directed at Kennedy

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's criticisms of the Kennedy administration have been transferred almost intact to the Johnson administration.

For this reason, the governor's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination is beginning to sound much as it did last fall, before the death of one president and the accession of a new one.

LBJ Target Now

Many phrases in his anti-Kennedy speeches now abound in statements attacking the present administration.

Rockefeller complained that Kennedy had substituted press agentry for constructive action.

He said of Johnson's economy drive that "most of the progress has been made in public statements," not in cash savings.

Under Kennedy, Rockefeller frequently called for "principle instead of expediency" in the national government and this phrase has cropped up in speeches directed to the Johnson administration.

The governor has listed U.S. inaction in the face of the continuing presence of Soviet troops in Cuba as a failure of the Johnson administration. It also was on the Rockefeller list when Kennedy was president.

The governor asserted last week that Johnson's State-of-the-Union message held out no constructive steps for dealing with major international problems and the continuing threat of Communism.

He frequently had criticized Kennedy's programs on the same grounds.

Same Objections

Inasmuch as Johnson has espoused the Kennedy tax-cut plan, Rockefeller has continued the same objections to it—that it should be made effective in one step, instead of the two proposed in pending legislation, and should be tied in more closely with government economies designed to offset the revenue loss.

The governor has questioned Johnson's leadership abilities—as he did Kennedy's—because of the refusal of the Democratic-controlled Congress to accede to presidential requests for legislation.

The sameness is not caused by a lack of originality among the Rockefeller advisers. While the nation has gone through a political upheaval, the major problems have remained the same, and the differences of opinion on how they should be met remain essentially unchanged.

A tardy reporter kept Rockefeller waiting for a radio interview this week. The governor sat patiently. Some one suggested a substitute interviewer be found.

"Oh, I don't mind at all," said the chief executive, who often is tardy for engagements. "This makes up for some of the time I'VE kept people waiting."

When the interview ended, the governor surprised other reporters present by calling an on-the-spot, general news conference.

It was his first in Albany since last Sept. 9, when he caused a political uproar by stating, under questioning, that he no longer stood by his campaign pledge not to increase taxes through 1966.

Growing protests against the prolonged period without a news conference apparently had reached the executive chamber, resulting in the governor's decision to answer questions this week.

Rockefeller Urged To Reject Plan On Rail Authority

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller had before him today a recommendation that he reject a plan calling for a public authority to operate commuter services of the New York Central and New Haven Railroads.

The governor received the advise Wednesday from William J. Roman, his top adviser on railroad matters and other governmental affairs.

"There is no need at this time to establish an elaborate and unduly expensive public authority," Ronan said in a report to the governor.

The report was focused on a recent statement by the Institute of Public Administration (IPA), a private research group.

The institute proposed the public authority plan, basing its recommendations on a two-year study financed by the Ford Foundation.

The railroads contend that commuter service involves heavy financial losses.

He described as "just not so" reports that the New York Central and Long Island Railroads want to get out of the commuter business.

Everywhere Penguins

MIAMI (AP) — A Miami dentist lives with a thousand penguins—collected from curio shops throughout the world. Marble, wood, iron, tin and glass penguins in assorted colors and sizes roost on dressers and tables and stand on the floor in Dr. Gonzalo Jose Gallegos' seventh floor hotel room on Biscayne Boulevard. "Every time I pass a curio shop, I browse for new penguins," said Dr. Gallegos, who came to Miami from his native Costa Rica 30 years ago.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red meat and poultry are competing for the housewives' favor at the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

Lower beef and pork prices continue to reflect heavy marketings.

But supplies of broiler chickens are beginning to pick up also, and prices show it.

Supermarkets are pushing roasts and steaks. Among the cuts most widely featured are round and chuck cuts, sirloin and porterhouse steaks and ground beef.

Ribs of beef are down about 5 cents a pound at wholesale at West Coast markets.

Top pork features include loin roasts, chops and bacon.

Eggs and dairy foods are other protein features.

Vegetable supplies have felt the pinch of winter weather, with the damage of the recent sharp freeze in the South yet to be assessed fully. In the Southwest, cold weather drove up prices on cabbage, peppers and tomatoes.

General vegetable attractions include brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, radishes and potatoes.

Best fruit buys include apples, avocados, grapefruit and oranges.

Mt. Tremper

MT. TREMPER — An all day sewing meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Carlton Hoyt Tuesday. The members of the Ladies' Sewing Circle cut and sewed material for rag rugs to be sold at the summer fair.

The members of the Grange had an all day work session at the hall. Among the chores were the putting up of the new fluorescent lights and storm windows.

Sameness Not Lack of Originality

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's criticisms of the Kennedy administration have been transferred almost intact to the Johnson administration.

For this reason, the governor's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination is beginning to sound much as it did last fall, before the death of one president and the accession of a new one.

LBJ Target Now

Many phrases in his anti-Kennedy speeches now abound in statements attacking the present administration.

Rockefeller complained that Kennedy had substituted press agentry for constructive action.

He said of Johnson's economy drive that "most of the progress has been made in public statements," not in cash savings.

Under Kennedy, Rockefeller frequently called for "principle instead of expediency" in the national government and this phrase has cropped up in speeches directed to the Johnson administration.

The governor has listed U.S. inaction in the face of the continuing presence of Soviet troops in Cuba as a failure of the Johnson administration. It also was on the Rockefeller list when Kennedy was president.

The governor asserted last week that Johnson's State-of-the-Union message held out no constructive steps for dealing with major international problems and the continuing threat of Communism.

He frequently had criticized Kennedy's programs on the same grounds.

Same Objections

Inasmuch as Johnson has espoused the Kennedy tax-cut plan, Rockefeller has continued the same objections to it—that it should be made effective in one step, instead of the two proposed in pending legislation, and should be tied in more closely with government economies designed to offset the revenue loss.

The governor has questioned Johnson's leadership abilities—as he did Kennedy's—because of the refusal of the Democratic-controlled Congress to accede to presidential requests for legislation.

The sameness is not caused by a lack of originality among the Rockefeller advisers. While the nation has gone through a political upheaval, the major problems have remained the same, and the differences of opinion on how they should be met remain essentially unchanged.

A tardy reporter kept Rockefeller waiting for a radio interview this week. The governor sat patiently. Some one suggested a substitute interviewer be found.

"Oh, I don't mind at all," said the chief executive, who often is tardy for engagements. "This makes up for some of the time I'VE kept people waiting."

When the interview ended, the governor surprised other reporters present by calling an on-the-spot, general news conference.

It was his first in Albany since last Sept. 9, when he caused a political uproar by stating, under questioning, that he no longer stood by his campaign pledge not to increase taxes through 1966.

Growing protests against the prolonged period without a news conference apparently had reached the executive chamber, resulting in the governor's decision to answer questions this week.

Rockefeller Urged To Reject Plan On Rail Authority

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller had before him today a recommendation that he reject a plan calling for a public authority to operate commuter services of the New York Central and New Haven Railroads.

The governor received the advise Wednesday from William J. Roman, his top adviser on railroad matters and other governmental affairs.

"There is no need at this time to establish an elaborate and unduly expensive public authority," Ronan said in a report to the governor.

The report was focused on a recent statement by the Institute of Public Administration (IPA), a private research group.

The institute proposed the public authority plan, basing its recommendations on a two-year study financed by the Ford Foundation.

The railroads contend that commuter service involves heavy financial losses.

He described as "just not so" reports that the New York Central and Long Island Railroads want to get out of the commuter business.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red meat and poultry are competing for the housewives' favor at the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

Lower beef and pork prices continue to reflect heavy marketings.

But supplies of broiler chickens are beginning to pick up also, and prices show it.

Supermarkets are pushing roasts and steaks. Among the cuts most widely featured are round and chuck cuts, sirloin and porterhouse steaks and ground beef.

Ribs of beef are down about 5 cents a pound at wholesale at West Coast markets.

Top pork features include loin roasts, chops and bacon.

Eggs and dairy foods are other protein features.

Vegetable supplies have felt the pinch of winter weather, with the damage of the recent sharp freeze in the South yet to be assessed fully. In the Southwest, cold weather drove up prices on cabbage, peppers and tomatoes.

General vegetable attractions include brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, radishes and potatoes.

Best fruit buys include apples, avocados, grapefruit and oranges.

Everywhere Penguins

MIAMI (AP) — A Miami dentist lives with a thousand penguins—collected from curio shops throughout the world. Marble, wood, iron, tin and glass penguins in assorted colors and sizes roost on dressers and tables and stand on the floor in Dr. Gonzalo Jose Gallegos' seventh floor hotel room on Biscayne Boulevard. "Every time I pass a curio shop, I browse for new penguins," said Dr. Gallegos, who came to Miami from his native Costa Rica 30 years ago.

HOMEWORK—ETERNAL TASK

High school students, scribbling out an English composition assignment, might take some comfort in the knowledge that much the same thing was required of young people way, way back in the dim dawn of recorded history.

Four thousand years ago, a Sumerian student's copybook was a hunk of soft clay on which he punched cuneiform characters with a wedge-tipped stick. The clay was then baked or allowed to harden in the sun, much to the delight of modern archeologists and historians.

Thousands of such tablets have been unearthed in the Middle East and lie in the basements of museums around the world, waiting until specialists have a chance to classify and translate them.

Mining and musing in some of these lodes of baked human thought, Samuel Noah Kramer of the University of Pennsylvania has come up with a number of essays whose production once furrowed the brows of students and teachers alike in a time so long ago that it was completely forgotten by the world until the breaking of the cuneiform code.

One essay, written by a boy who obviously knew his audience, lavishly flatters the teacher who taught him such practical matters as applied mathematics and how to get on in the world.

Another student describes some of the activities in the Sumerian school system and then complains that the six days' vacation he has a month are all too brief. As he explains:

"Here is my monthly school schedule: I have three days recess in the month, I (also) have three (holy) feast days in the month, (so that) 24 days (each) month I have to stay in school—(and) long days they are."

Lastly, one essay begins exuberantly: "Fellows, today we don't do any work."

THE POOR ARE THERE

President Johnson's declaration of "unconditional war" on poverty in this affluent country is a further jolt for the complacent idea that all but a handful of Americans share that affluence. The fact is that an enormous number of Americans perhaps a fifth of the entire population, suffer from want in the midst of plenty.

Millions of Americans are downright poor. Other millions live at economic levels well below those supposed to be the lot of Americans generally. It is hard to pin down the exact number of the economically deprived, but some light is shed by this figure: Thirty-six million of our fellow citizens have annual family income of less than $3,000, compared with the national average of $7,140.

Analysts say that the poor of this nation are in a sense "invisible." This simply means that great numbers of the poor are more or less outside the daily ken of middle class society. Many of them live in the rundown central areas of cities, whereas the general trend has been to outer residential areas or suburbs. Pockets of the poor also are to be found in remote rural sections outside the main stream; many suffering deprivation are migrant workers that never stay long in one community.

There may be another kind of "invisibility" at work here. To some extent, perhaps, we do not see the poor because we do not want to see them. We give to the various fund-raising campaigns and then put the poor resolutely out of our minds, depending on our charitable institutions to provide minimal support.

The poor are going to become a lot more visible, now that the administration has so strikingly called attention to their plight. There will be debate over the means of dealing with poverty. But the facts that the problem exists, that it is serious, and that it must be dealt with—these facts cannot be evaded.

Soviet agriculture is experiencing troubles. Who says the United States doesn't have anything in common with Russia?

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THEY'RE ALL CONSERVATIVES NOW

There must be at least 19 million people in America who don't want to be President. And, when you come right down to it, most of these people don't care who is President — provided he does things their way.

The faith of our fathers in party labels has been slipping for a long time. As for myself, I am distinctly one of the "don't-care-about-labels" crowd; I have split tickets all my life. I liked Franklin Roosevelt for a period after he had junked the Fascistic NRA in favor of enforcing competition; I liked Harry Truman when he stopped Stalin in Greece and Korea; I liked Kennedy for his social graces and for trying to expand international trade. Though in general I have been a Republican, I don't think anyone can say I have been rabid about personalities.

For 1964, my desires are simple: I want a government that will do its best to enlarge the areas that are open to the voluntary action of citizens. I don't care what political party provides this. I would support any man, Republican or Democratic, who comes up with some good ideas about letting people "opt out" of compulsory social security schemes when they can prove they carry their own insurance. Since I am just as fervently against poverty as anybody else, I would support any man, Republican or Democratic, who offers measures designed to encourage job-making investment capital to go to work. I would like to see a less steeply progressive type of income tax, with fewer loopholes for the rich and a break for the poor wherever it can be established that they are being over-exploited by sales and real estate taxes that do not particularly hurt the well-to-do. I am for a "flexible" approach to foreign policy, but if Nikita Khrushchev persists in supporting "wars of liberation," I think we should match him (beginning in Cuba), or at least "flexibly" withdraw some of the advantages which we have already given him.

Listening to the candidates as of this month, it is obvious that Barry Goldwater is doing a better job than the rest of them in proposing ways and means of reintroducing choice into our society without turning people out into the streets to starve. If this makes him a hard-hearted "Manchester" or "devil-take-the-hindmost" relic of the nineteenth century, as certain pundits have affirmed, then I am a one-eyed orang-utan who can't read a dictionary.

But, being of the "don't-care-about-labels" school, I can shrug off even the shrillest attacks of the name-callers. I am satisfied that Barry Goldwater, whether he be called a "reactionary" or a "true liberal," is putting his mark on the campaign, and that all the candidates will be the better for it. Even now they are all moving toward his position, which is a wonderful thing for those among us who don't care who is President — provided he does things our way.

There is Lyndon Johnson, who knows a thing or two about populart mandates. Lyndon surprised everybody by cutting the budget for fiscal 1965 to $97.9 billion, which he surely would not have bothered to do if he hadn't caught the signal from the folks back home. Then there is Nelson Rockefeller, who has promised his constituents in New York State that he won't raise taxes this year. Rocky got the signal, too.

In short, they are all making like conservatives. I don't suppose that Barry Goldwater can win, but if all the others steal his ideas and then proceed to act upon them, how can I lose?

As a matter of fact I like Lyndon Johnson and, depending on who his opponent is, could even vote for him on the basis of his budget-cuttin', we-don't-propose-to-be-buried stance. I intend to try to hold him to his promises, however, if and when he wins. If Scranton or Romney or whoever beats Goldwater out for the Republican nomination. I will cheer the victor on — provided the Goldwater attitude shapes the platform, and the victor promises to be sincere in standing on that platform.

This may make me seem a very unsatisfactory "team man" when it comes to politics. But the best way to have your way with officeholders or potential officeholders is to keep them off balance. Let them have a lively gratitude for votes to come. That's democracy, chums. There's nothin' like it, believe me.

Q—How does one get ringworm? Do you have to touch a sore, or could you get it from touching objects that a person with ringworm has touched?

A—The fungi of ringworm are so widely distributed that we all harbor them on our skin at all times. They do not gain a foothold in the deeper layers of your skin and cause lesions, unless there is a combination of rubbing and excessive moisture. That is why the lesions are most frequently seen in the groin and between the toes. Once they become established, they are often hard to get rid of.

Q—Is it safe for me to take Preludin tablets continually to keep my weight down?

A—The phenmetrazine (Preludin) you are taking is habit-forming. Such side effects as dryness or bad taste in the mouth have been reported. This drug should not be used for more than two weeks at a time.

Those who are sincere in their wish to lose weight can do so without the use of potentially dangerous drugs. This is a case where the cure may be worse than the disease.

Q—I am 74, and have a complete prolapse of the uterus which causes chafing and itching. Is there any danger of infection? Can this condition be repaired without a complete hysterectomy?

A—Prolapse is always associated with some danger of infection, especially of the urinary bladder. Any infection of the bladder or vagina should be treated before operation, but some form of operation should be performed.

In mild degrees of prolapse it is sometimes possible at operation to secure the uterus in its normal position, but when prolapse is complete in a woman who has passed the childbearing age the uterus should be removed. Among other advantages, this prevents the development of uterine cancer.

Q—I recently lost my first baby at full term due to placenta previa. Is it likely that this will happen to me a second time?

A—Placenta previa is a partial separation of the placenta from the uterus before labor. This is a cause of serious uterine hemorrhage. It is usually due to the fact that the placenta is placed too near the outlet of the uterus.

Since this is a relatively rare mischance, it is most unlikely that it would happen to you in another pregnancy.

Q—I am 12. Last summer I had chicken pox and I was left with purple scars on my legs and little pits on my forehead. Is there anything that can be done for them?

A—The purple spots should gradually fade out in time. Meanwhile, there are cosmetics that can be used to make them less noticeable. If the pittina persists you may want to consider surgical planing.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Opening the door for easier, cheaper credit for many families is now being discussed by some of President Johnson's top housing advisers.

The plan now being considered would make it easy for a homeowner who has paid off several thousand dollars of his mortgage to go back and borrow more. He wouldn't be required to take out a costly second mortgage. He would have, in effect, a sort of open-end, expandable first mortgage, within fixed limits.

The homeowner could use the money for any reasonable purpose—to help finance college educations for his children, a new automobile, large emergency medical expenses, a refrigerator and other household appliances, even a vacation.

USING USUAL CHANNELS, money borrowed for a refrigerator may cost up to 12 per cent. Borrowing for a car may cost 9 per cent. Other borrowing may be equally expensive—except for some college student loans.

But borrowing on a first mortgage on a home can be usually done at .6 per cent, or less, depending on the year. And the average man has difficulty borrowing in other ways the sizable funds he can borrow on a home.

According to the proposals now being discussed, the Federal Housing Administration would be directed to encourage the expandable or open-end mortgage concept in the loans it insures.

The FHA, according to this proposed plan, would also agree that when a bank or other lending institution loaned additional money on an FHA-insured expandable mortgage, the FHA would insure the expanded loan too, up to a limit.

THE PLAN WOULD WORK something like this:

John Smith starts out with a $14,000 loan, FHA-insured. Over the course of time, he pays off $5,000 of that loan and still owes $9,000. He has made his payments regularly. His credit is good.

Smith gets in touch with the mortgage holder, says he'd like to expand his loan back to say $13,000 and thus have an additional $4,000 to keep his children in college.

With a good credit rating and an open-end mortgage arrangement, Smith probably would get the funds he needs with FHA insurance, without costly refinancing and without paying the high cost of a second mortgage.

Presumably, the term of the total loan would be lengthened and there would be no increase in payments. Presumably also, the new loan would not be great enough to bring the mortgage up to its original total. There would have to be some allowance for depreciation unless home values had increased appreciably.

THERE IS EVIDENCE that even without special FHA encouragement, an increasing number of homeowners are trying out this type of borrowing, one way or another, to meet special expenses or emergencies.

Officials pushing for this program say this loan concept has worked well where it has been tried. They hold that if FHA gets in with expandable mortgage guarantees, this will open up rather quickly a wide source of cheaper, easily available credit for the average man.

These advisers argue the program would give an extra lift to the economy and employment. Opponents say such expansion of credit would be inflationary.

The program could lead to an increase in foreclosures. Foreclosure rates on conventional mortgages declined from 2.48 per thousand in 1960 to 2.34 in 1962. Foreclosures on FHA-insured mortgages rose from 3.02 per thousand in 1960 to 9.27 in 1962.

CIA Upheld for Revealing Data About Red Economy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Perhaps the most constructive step taken by the United States government in the debate over the cold war was the recent decision to let the Central Intelligence Agency come out in the open and give the world—including the American people—the facts about the economic difficulties confronting the Soviet Union.

Naturally there has been some criticism. But even in the face of expected comments of an adverse nature—particularly from Moscow newspapers—the CIA has disclosed some valuable information about the Soviet economic crisis. This presumably couldn't have been done without the consent of the President. Discussion of the CIA's scope of activities, however, didn't arise for the first time under the present Administration. It has been up again and again. Obviously, the CIA has to operate in secrecy, but the image of the agency given to the American public has been primarily of the cloak and dagger type.

It has always been assumed generally that espionage is the main function of the agency. The most valuable service performed by the CIA is to gather and analyze information from different parts of the world which the press cannot always collect or which the American embassies and consular officials are not equipped to gather without a substantial increase in their staffs.

As for actual "intelligence"—the data relating to military matters — this is collected not only by the CIA, whenever possible, but to a considerable extent also by the intelligence units of the U. S. Army, the Air Force and the Navy, respectively. The Central Intelligence Agency would probably have been better named the World Information Agency, because its time and money are spent for the most part in getting information from foreign countries that isn't military at all.

Perhaps one of the least known functions of the CIA is to maintain contacts with the intelligence agencies of friendly governments so that data can be exchanged or verified. All intelligence units occasionally make mistakes and are sometimes misled, but the longer they are in operation, the better they function. America's experience with intelligence activity has covered a relatively short period. In foreign intelligence agencies, however, there is today a healthy respect for the American CIA.

Some criticism has come incidentally, from the press here about the CIA's news conference, inasmuch as the questions asked by the reporters were not always answered. The CIA cannot serve usually as a vehicle of information for the press, but it can at times give out that which it is in the interest of the United States government to make public. In the past, the directors of the CIA have made speeches discussing various aspects of the cold war, but these have not been as specific as the type of information given out at the recent news conference.

The value of economic information about what is going on behind the Iron Curtain can hardly be over-estimated. Thus, it has been revealed that the Soviets have not made in recent years the progress often attributed to them. It is apparent also that, if the Moscow government is to develop, for example, chemical fertilizers on a large scale to improve Soviet agriculture, chemical production for use in nuclear weapons and other explosives will have to be cut down. turn in the cold war for the United States, and certainly it could reduce some of the pressure here to spend billions for the accumulation of unnecessary armament.

There has been, some talk that the State Department should have complete control of what information is made public about foreign countries. This is what the bureaucrats always want—a centralization of authority. But the ill effects of such a procedure have often been noted in the way the State Department has at times exercised control over the output of the Voice of America, reducing the value of its broadcasts and actually impairing the power of this agency as a propaganda apparatus in the battle of the air waves.

If the CIA is permitted to reveal the truth about what is happening on the economic front throughout the world, selecting the most significant developments for analysis, the interests of the United States will be served. It has been suggested that the CIA give out information but remain anonymous. This, however, would not help but would hurt the cause — the furnishing of accurate information about what is happening in the pro-Communist countries, not only in Europe but in Africa, Latin America and Asia. The true story, for instance, of what is really occurring in Red China would be a most valuable contribution to public knowledge, and if the CIA gave it out on its own authority, the facts would be accepted not only in this country but throughout the world.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have a Kingston Daily Leader, of Saturday morning, Sept. 14, 1901, and the front page headlines read: "President McKinley died this morning." There are hand-drawn pictures of McKinley and his family throughout the paper, and the black lines of mourning.

Several months ago, I remember, Sam Scudder telling me, that when he was a small child, and visited the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo with his father, he saw McKinley at the time of the assassination. President McKinley died after lingering unconscious for several hours. The Kingston Leader wrote: "The assassin's bullet has accomplished the end of a man beloved by his party, admired by his opponents, and respected for his convictions . . . Our people stand bewildered before the terrible calamity . . . dazed by its suddenness and appalled into dismal mourning. America has lost a man it was proud to say 'He is a typical American.'"

Further on they tell that William McKinley was born Jan. 29, 1843, at Niles, Ohio. He was to teach school in 1860, and clerk in a post office, and later to enlist as a private in Company E, 23rd Ohio volunteers. In 1862 he was promoted to commissary sergeant and later to second lieutenant on the staff of Rutherford B. Hayes (19th President of U.S.A. 1877-1881). McKinley was made major in 1865, and after being discharged with honor, came back to study law at Albany Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1867. In 1871 he married Miss Ida Saxton of Canton. In 1876 he was elected to Congress as representative from Ohio, and stayed there for 14 years.

In 1890, McKinley acted as chairman of the ways and means committee which framed the bill which later was called McKinley tariff law. In 1891 he was elected Governor of Ohio, and re-elected in 1893, and in 1896 elected President of the United States. In 1898 he personally supervised the conduct of the Spanish-American war. In 1899 he shaped the policy which resulted in the extension of our domain far beyond its former borders, and in 1900 he was re-elected by a popular plurality of 852,000. In 1901 he began his second administration with the establishment of civil government in the Philippines and was preparing to inaugurate home rule in Cuba.

Early in the spring he toured the country from Washington to San Francisco, but had to interrupt his journey because of Mrs. McKinley's illness. When she was better, he accepted the invitation to visit the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, and it was at the close of his third day there, that he was shot.

His executive ability was noted during one of the bloodiest days of the Civil War, Sept. 17, 1862, while on Hayes staff, in the battle of Antietam, when Sgt. McKinley organized a staff of men, who took food and coffee around to the dying and wounded under fire. Sgt. McKinley was seen everywhere, handing out food, and consoling the men, and he seemed to care little for his own safety. This was brought to the attention of Gov. Todd of Ohio, by Major Hayes. Later McKinley was made major by brevet "for gallant and meritorious service at the battles of Opequan, Cedar Creek and Fisher's Hill." His commission was signed at the time by "A. Lincoln."

GOD OF HEAVEN: This element, which is used in making the atomic bomb, is named after heaven. But it got its name in a roundabout way. In 1781 Sir William Herschel discovered a planet which he named Uranus (after the Greek god of heaven). Eight years later the German scientist Kloproth discovered element 92 and named it Uranium in honor of Herschel, who he thought was a better scientist since Uranium was then thought to be valueless.

HOMEWORK—ETERNAL TASK

High school students, scribbling out an English composition assignment, might take some comfort in the knowledge that much the same thing was required of young people way, way back in the dim dawn of recorded history.

Four thousand years ago, a Sumerian student's copybook was a hunk of soft clay on which he punched cuneiform characters with a wedge-tipped stick. The clay was then baked or allowed to harden in the sun, much to the delight of modern archeologists and historians.

Thousands of such tablets have been unearthed in the Middle East and lie in the basements of museums around the world, waiting until specialists have a chance to classify and translate them.

Mining and musing in some of these lodes of baked human thought, Samuel Noah Kramer of the University of Pennsylvania has come up with a number of essays whose production once furrowed the brows of students and teachers alike in a time so long ago that it was completely forgotten by the world until the breaking of the cuneiform code.

One essay, written by a boy who obviously knew his audience, lavishly flatters the teacher who taught him such practical matters as applied mathematics and how to get on in the world.

Another student describes some of the activities in the Sumerian school system and then complains that the six days' vacation he has a month are all too brief. As he explains:

"Here is my monthly school schedule: I have three days recess in the month, I (also) have three (holy) feast days in the month, (so that) 24 days (each) month I have to stay in school—(and) long days they are."

Lastly, one essay begins exuberantly: "Fellows, today we don't do any work."

THE POOR ARE THERE

President Johnson's declaration of "unconditional war" on poverty in this affluent country is a further jolt for the complacent idea that all but a handful of Americans share that affluence. The fact is that an enormous number of Americans perhaps a fifth of the entire population, suffer from want in the midst of plenty.

Millions of Americans are downright poor. Other millions live at economic levels well below those supposed to be the lot of Americans generally. It is hard to pin down the exact number of the economically deprived, but some light is shed by this figure: Thirty-six million of our fellow citizens have annual family income of less than $3,000, compared with the national average of $7,140.

Analysts say that the poor of this nation are in a sense "invisible." This simply means that great numbers of the poor are more or less outside the daily ken of middle class society. Many of them live in the rundown central areas of cities, whereas the general trend has been to outer residential areas or suburbs. Pockets of the poor also are to be found in remote rural sections outside the main stream; many suffering deprivation are migrant workers that never stay long in one community.

There may be another kind of "invisibility" at work here. To some extent, perhaps, we do not see the poor because we do not want to see them. We give to the various fund-raising campaigns and then put the poor resolutely out of our minds, depending on our charitable institutions to provide minimal support.

The poor are going to become a lot more visible, now that the administration has so strikingly called attention to their plight. There will be debate over the means of dealing with poverty. But the facts that the problem exists, that it is serious, and that it must be dealt with—these facts cannot be evaded.

Soviet agriculture is experiencing troubles. Who says the United States doesn't have anything in common with Russia?

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THEY'RE ALL CONSERVATIVES NOW

There must be at least 19 million people in America who don't want to be President. And, when you come right down to it, most of these people don't care who is President — provided he does things their way.

The faith of our fathers in party labels has been slipping for a long time. As for myself, I am distinctly one of the "don't-care-about-labels" crowd; I have split tickets all my life. I liked Franklin Roosevelt for a period after he had junked the Fascistic NRA in favor of enforcing competition; I liked Harry Truman when he stopped Stalin in Greece and Korea; I liked Kennedy for his social graces and for trying to expand international trade. Though in general I have been a Republican, I don't think anyone can say I have been rabid about personalities.

For 1964, my desires are simple: I want a government that will do its best to enlarge the areas that are open to the voluntary action of citizens. I don't care what political party provides this. I would support any man, Republican or Democratic, who comes up with some good ideas about letting people "opt out" of compulsory social security schemes when they can prove they carry their own insurance. Since I am just as fervently against poverty as anybody else, I would support any man, Republican or Democratic, who offers measures designed to encourage job-making investment capital to go to work. I would like to see a less steeply progressive type of income tax, with fewer loopholes for the rich and a break for the poor wherever it can be established that they are being over-exploited by sales and real estate taxes that do not particularly hurt the well-to-do. I am for a "flexible" approach to foreign policy, but if Nikita Khrushchev persists in supporting "wars of liberation," I think we should match him (beginning in Cuba), or at least "flexibly" withdraw some of the advantages which we have already given him.

Listening to the candidates as of this month, it is obvious that Barry Goldwater is doing a better job than the rest of them in proposing ways and means of reintroducing choice into our society without turning people out into the streets to starve. If this makes him a hard-hearted "Manchester" or "devil-take-the-hindmost" relic of the nineteenth century, as certain pundits have affirmed, then I am a one-eyed orang-utan who can't read a dictionary.

But, being of the "don't-care-about-labels" school, I can shrug off even the shrillest attacks of the name-callers. I am satisfied that Barry Goldwater, whether he be called a "reactionary" or a "true liberal," is putting his mark on the campaign, and that all the candidates will be the better for it. Even now they are all moving toward his position, which is a wonderful thing for those among us who don't care who is President — provided he does things our way.

There is Lyndon Johnson, who knows a thing or two about popularr mandates. Lyndon surprised everybody by cutting the budget for fiscal 1965 to $97.9 billion, which he surely would not have bothered to do if he hadn't caught the signal from the folks back home. Then there is Nelson Rockefeller, who has promised his constituents in New York State that he won't raise taxes this year. Rocky got the signal, too.

In short, they are all making like conservatives. I don't suppose that Barry Goldwater can win, but if all the others steal his ideas and then proceed to act upon them, how can I lose?

As a matter of fact I like Lyndon Johnson and, depending on who his opponent is, could even vote for him on the basis of his budget-cuttin', we-don't-propose-to-be-buried stance. I intend to try to hold him to his promises, however, if and when he wins. If Scranton or Romney or whoever beats Goldwater out for the Republican nomination. I will cheer the victor on — provided the Goldwater attitude shapes the platform, and the victor promises to be sincere in standing on that platform.

This may make me seem a very unsatisfactory "team man" when it comes to politics. But the best way to have your way with officeholders or potential officeholders is to keep them off balance. Let them have a lively gratitude for votes to come. That's democracy, chums. There's nothin' like it, believe me.

It has been up again and again. Obviously, the CIA has to operate in secrecy, but the image of the agency given to the American public has been primarily of the cloak and dagger type.

It has always been assumed generally that espionage is the main function of the agency. The most valuable service performed by the CIA is to gather and analyze information from different parts of the world which the press cannot always collect or which the American embassies and consular officials are not equipped to gather without a substantial increase in their staffs.

As for actual "intelligence"—the data relating to military matters — this is collected not only by the CIA, whenever possible, but to a considerable extent also by the intelligence units of the U. S. Army, the Air Force and the Navy, respectively. The Central Intelligence Agency would probably have been better named the World Information Agency, because its time and money are spent for the most part in getting information from foreign countries that isn't military at all.

Perhaps one of the least known functions of the CIA is to maintain contacts with the intelligence agencies of friendly governments so that data can be exchanged or verified. All intelligence units occasionally make mistakes and are sometimes misled, but the longer they are in operation, the better they function. America's experience with intelligence activity has covered a relatively short period. In foreign intelligence agencies, however, there is today a healthy respect for the American CIA.

Some criticism has come incidentally, from the press here about the CIA's news conference, inasmuch as the questions asked by the reporters were not always answered. The CIA cannot serve usually as a vehicle of information for the press, but it can at times give out that which it is in the interest of the United States government to make public. In the past, the directors of the CIA have made speeches discussing various aspects of the cold war, but these have not been as specific as the type of information given out at the recent news conference.

The value of economic information about what is going on behind the Iron Curtain can hardly be over-estimated. Thus, it has been revealed that the Soviets have not made in recent years the progress often attributed to them. It is apparent also that, if the Moscow government is to develop, for example, chemical fertilizers on a large scale to improve Soviet agriculture, chemical production for use in nuclear weapons and other explosives will have to be cut down. turn in the cold war for the United States, and certainly it could reduce some of the pressure here to spend billions for the accumulation of unnecessary armament.

There has been, some talk that the State Department should have complete control of what information is made public about foreign countries. This is what the bureaucrats always want—a centralization of authority. But the ill effects of such a procedure have often been noted in the way the State Department has at times exercised control over the output of the Voice of America, reducing the value of its broadcasts and actually impairing the power of this agency as a propaganda apparatus in the battle of the air waves.

If the CIA is permitted to reveal the truth about what is happening on the economic front throughout the world, selecting the most significant developments for analysis, the interests of the United States will be served. It has been suggested that the CIA give out information but remain anonymous. This, however, would not help but would hurt the cause — the furnishing of accurate information about what is happening in the pro-Communist countries, not only in Europe but in Africa, Latin America and Asia. The true story, for instance, of what is really occurring in Red China would be a most valuable contribution to public knowledge, and if the CIA gave it out on its own authority, the facts would be accepted not only in this country but throughout the world.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have a Kingston Daily Leader, of Saturday morning, Sept. 14, 1901, and the front page headlines read: "President McKinley died this morning." There are hand-drawn pictures of McKinley and his family throughout the paper, and the black lines of mourning.

Several months ago, I remember, Sam Scudder telling me, that when he was a small child, and visited the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo with his father, he saw McKinley at the time of the assassination. President McKinley died after lingering unconscious for several hours. The Kingston Leader wrote: "The assassin's bullet has accomplished the end of a man beloved by his party, admired by his opponents, and respected for his convictions . . . Our people stand bewildered before the terrible calamity . . . dazed by its suddenness and appalled into dismal mourning. America has lost a man it was proud to say 'He is a typical American.'"

Further on they tell that William McKinley was born Jan. 29, 1843, at Niles, Ohio. He was to teach school in 1860, and clerk in a post office, and later to enlist as a private in Company E, 23rd Ohio volunteers. In 1862 he was promoted to commissary sergeant and later to second lieutenant on the staff of Rutherford B. Hayes (19th President of U.S.A. 1877-1881). McKinley was made major in 1865, and after being discharged with honor, came back to study law at Albany Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1867. In 1871 he married Miss Ida Saxton of Canton. In 1876 he was elected to Congress as representative from Ohio, and stayed there for 14 years.

In 1890, McKinley acted as chairman of the ways and means committee which framed the bill which later was called McKinley tariff law. In 1891 he was elected Governor of Ohio, and re-elected in 1893, and in 1896 elected President of the United States. In 1898 he personally supervised the conduct of the Spanish-American war. In 1899 he shaped the policy which resulted in the extension of our domain far beyond its former borders, and in 1900 he was re-elected by a popular plurality of 852,000. In 1901 he began his second administration with the establishment of civil government in the Philippines and was preparing to inaugurate home rule in Cuba.

Early in the spring he toured the country from Washington to San Francisco, but had to interrupt his journey because of Mrs. McKinley's illness. When she was better, he accepted the invitation to visit the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, and it was at the close of his third day there, that he was shot.

His executive ability was noted during one of the bloodiest days of the Civil War, Sept. 17, 1862, while on Hayes staff, in the battle of Antietam, when Sgt. McKinley organized a staff of men, who took food and coffee around to the dying and wounded under fire. Sgt. McKinley was seen everywhere, handing out food, and consoling the men, and he seemed to care little for his own safety. This was brought to the attention of Gov. Todd of Ohio, by Major Hayes. Later McKinley was made major by brevet "for gallant and meritorious service at the battles of Opequan, Cedar Creek and Fisher's Hill." His commission was signed at the time by "A. Lincoln."

Why We Say--

GOD OF HEAVEN: This element, which is used in making the atomic bomb, is named after heaven. But it got its name in a roundabout way. In 1781 Sir William Herschel discovered a planet which he named Uranus (after the Greek god of heaven). Eight years later the German scientist Kloproth discovered element 92 and named it Uranium in honor of Herschel, who he thought was a better scientist since Uranium was then thought to be valueless.

Governor Hands Out Awards for Long-Time Farms

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says his roots might have been in soil rather than oil if his millionaire grandfather had remained on the farm.

Rockefeller speculated on that possibility Wednesday night as he presented awards to farmers whose land had been in the same family for 100 years or more.

The elder Rockefeller moved from a farm near Richford, Tioga County, to Cleveland, where he eventually went into the oil business and compiled one of the world's largest fortunes.

"If he hadn't gone to Cleveland," the governor suggested, "maybe I would be here as a member of a Century Farm Family."

Rockefeller presented Century Farm awards to the Ernest Gleason family, which has a farm near Malone; the Gaylor Loveless family, residing on the shore of Skaneateles Lake in Onondaga County; the Clifton Miller family of Ancramdale, Columbia County, and the Saile family of Batavia.

In a statement published in connection with the dinner, Rockefeller greeted as "most welcome news" the announced federal approval of a 29,500-acre allotment for growing sugar beets in the Finger Lakes Region.

Congress Needs Ethics Code For Its Members, Employes

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate, called the world's most exclusive club, is still very choosy, as the Bobby Baker case and other events show.

It has two sets of rules on conduct: One for other people; a different one for members of the Senate.

For the past 14 years or so, but particularly this year, liberal senators have called on the House and Senate to do unto themselves what they do to others.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republican, put it this way:

"Congress is constantly laying down regulations for the conduct of those in the executive branch, telling them what they should and shouldn't do.

"It is not right for us to exempt the legislative branch from the rules and regulations we have imposed on the executive branch."

Double-Standard

He called it a double-standard and said "it has undermined confidence in our good faith."

This is what he was talking about:

Congress has taken various steps to prevent conflict of interest among employes of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest can be described as mixing a government job with personal gain.

Congress has not only passed a law against conflict of interest among executive branch employes but subsequently tightened and broadened it.

Congressional committees require men appointed by the President to his Cabinet to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government.

None of this applies to members of Congress or employes of Congress.

Needs Code Too

Various liberal senators have proposed legislation — which Congress has consistently ignored — for Congress to establish a code of ethics for itself and its employes on conflict of interest.

There were more such demands, also ignored, when the Robert G. Baker case broke, although not through disclosure in Congress.

Baker, who had been secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate for years, quit his job Oct. 7 when, as it became clear, he had wide-ranging financial interests and deals while working for the Senate.

The Senate finally authorized its Rules Committee to investigate to see whether Baker's outside activities had conflicted with his official duties.

The Procedure

It went further:

It authorized the investigation into the financial or business interests or activities of any officer or employe of the Senate, if the Baker investigation made that necessary.

The Senate stopped there. It didn't authorize the committee to investigate any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Yet, the Senate's Democratic majority leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, revealed Senate employes who owe their jobs to the Democrats are being required to list their assets and sources of income.

A number of liberal senators had previously demanded that members of the Senate itself be required to list publicly their assets and income. This was neatly ignored.

Nevertheless, Sen. B. Everett Jordan, North Carolina Democrat and chairman of the Rules Committee's investigation of Baker, said two months ago that any leads uncovered would be followed up regardless of who was involved. He said he had no indication any senator was involved.

This week a witness said Sen. George Smathers, Florida Democrat, was in with Baker in a land deal in Florida.

Is Senate Interested

Later Smathers said in a statement:

He had sold Baker and another man one-eighth interest each in his share of the land venture because they were young men raising families.

Would Smathers now be called to testify before Jordan's committee? Jordan said: "We don't need him—we're not investigating senators."

And he added this: If the committee needs any additional information from Smathers "we will get it but we will not bring him in."

This raises a question: Is the Senate interested in a thorough investigation of the Baker case?

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon with selected blue chips boosting the averages slightly.

The general run of key stocks showed fractional gains or losses in active trading.

Cigar manufacturers moved up sharply in response to reports that many smokers are being converted to cigars because of the government health report that linked cigarette smoking with various diseases and laid little blame on cigar and pipe smoking.

Cigarette stocks were narrowly mixed. The trend was uneven also among motors, aerospace issues, office equipments and nonferrous metals. Steels and airlines were slightly lower.

Utilities, rails and chemicals improved.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 290.4, topping Wednesday's historic closing high. Industrials were up 1.1, rails .5 and utilities .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .71 at 775.42, still below its most recent all-time peak.

American Telephone touched a new historic high of 142¼ and held a thin gain.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Saugerties Vols Quell Shop Fire

Fire caused extensive damage to Edward Flanagan's garage and workshop on Post Street, Saugerties today despite efforts of all local fire companies in command of Chief Earl Martin.

Police said pump streams and booster lines were used by firemen to quell the flames that reportedly burned through the workshop and the ceiling. The police said the alarm was sounded after 10:30 a. m. and firemen were at the scene more than two hours.

Segni Rejects Paris-Bonn Axis For West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Antonio Segni of Italy has told President Johnson his country would tolerate neither French nor German domination of Western Europe—nor a combination of the two.

And the Italian foreign minister, Giuseppe Saragat, told a news conference Wednesday that the "Paris - Bonn axis" failed because it was an attempt to dominate Western Europe.

Johnson and his foreign policy aides noted Segni's firm declaration with obvious satisfaction, American observers reported. And Saragat's remark was very much to Washington's taste, an authoritiative source said.

Segni and Saragat confirmed their country's obligation to participate in the preliminary talks held simultaneously in Paris and in Washington between countries interested in creating a Polaris - equipped surface fleet manned by multination crews. But the two Italians also made clear that they could not go beyond this to commit their country irrevocably to participating in the fleet itself.

Trial of Shooting

Richter, the defense attorney, asked to inspect the grand jury minutes.

Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon appeared for the prosecution Wednesday afternoon, but Richter was not present. He represents the three denfendants, Jay Warner Stanley, 23, of 1 Cottage Row; Terry Curtis, 24, of 23 West Pierpont Street, and John Dunn, 22, of 4 Tietjen Avenue.

Result of Jury Probe

The charge is that the three young men, in company with three others, drove about the city and adjoining area discharging firearms. During the spree it is alleged a dog owned by Burton Shoemaker of 20 Dunneman Avenue, was shot. The trio is being brought before Justice Bower under information filed by the district attorney after a grand jury investigation.

Motions seeking dismissal of informantions are pending and have delayed city court action involving three of the six on the alleged shooting spree. Due for city court hearing are: Thomas Ashdown, 20, of 537 Albany Avenue Extension; Uhland Kaschel, 23, of 286 East Chester Street, and Terry Curtis, 24, of 23 West Pierpont Street.

Campochiaro New Director; Trust Co. Renames Rusk

At the annual meeting of the Kingston Trust Company held Wednesday several changes were made in the official staff. Stephen D. Hiltebrandt, a director for many years, requested that he not be re-elected because his physical condition prevented his attendance at board meetings. The board reluctantly accepted his resignation and Frank Campochiaro, prominent local attorney, was elected to the board of directors.

Bernard A. Feeney Sr., Alfred D. Ronder and Richard J. Whalen were re-elected to the board.

Promotions Made

Walter L. Foster and Joseph W. Robertson were elevated to vice-presidents and Mrs. Edyth Phillips and Eugene Milanisi were named assistant treasurers. George D. Reisenauer was named auditor.

At the director's meeting which followed the shareholder's meeting George Rusk was reelected president; Arthur A. Davis, chairman of the board and Ernest LeFevre, vice-chairman of the board.

Other Officers

Other officers re-elected are:

Kenneth C. Pratt, executive vice president; Fred P. Carpenter, vice-president and treasurer; Harry E. Miller, John T. Molloy, assistant vice-presidents; Maude D. Snyder, secretary; Frank Finley, William J. Fitzgibbons, Walter K. Hubbard, William A. Thiel, William J. Lawrence, assistant treasurers; Margaret Smith, assistant secretary and Gordon A. Craig, auditor.

Ellis H. Griffith was re-elected to the office of trust officer and Earle H. Foster to the office of assistant Trust Officer.

Successful Year

In a report to the shareholders of the Kingston Trust Company it was pointed out that 1963 proved another successful year for the bank as new highs were reached in deposits, loans and resources. Net operating earnings showed satisfactory improvement despite increased operating costs and adequate reserves for taxes and contingencies were set aside. A cash dividend of $4.50 per share was paid and $70,000 was added to undivided profits.

More than 5,000 borrowers were served by the small loans department. Auto loans, home improvement loans and personal loans at the end of year amounted to more than $4,000,000, indicating wide acceptance of those facilities throughout the area.

In September the Phoenicia Branch held open house in celebration of the 10th anniversary of its opening. This office has deposits of more than $2,500,000.

Resources Grow

The resources of the Kingston Trust Company as of the close of 1963 were $29,492,333.36, as compared to $27,806,844.66 at the end of the 1962 business year.

Frank Campochiario, newly elected director, has been a lifelong resident of Ulster County. He was born in Glasco and attended St. Mary's of the Snow Parochial School in the village of Saugerties and was graduated from Saugerties High School. After graduation he attended New York University and graduated from St. John's Law School in Brooklyn. He was admitted to the bar in 1933 and practices his profession in all courts of New York State.

In 1942 he was admitted to practice in the Federal Court for the Southern District of New York. He is a member of the New York State and Ulster County Bar Association and has been journal clerk of the New York State Senate for many years.

Lifetime Fireman

He attends St. Joseph's Church in Kingston and is a member of St. Joseph's Holy Name Society. He is also a member of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Fourth Degree Assembly of Kingston Council. He has been a member of the Glasco Fire Company for a number of years and recently was elected a lifetime member.

During the past year the Elston property on Fair Street adjoining the bankinghouse was purchased and plans for a modern street level facility for the Trust Department are under way. It is also planned to move the Consumer Load Department to this building where the increasing volume of business can be more readily handled.

Hearing Is Set For Tucson Man On Murder Try

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A preliminary hearing has been set for Charles Leonard Hughes, a Tucson man accused of trying to kill his step-daughter to collect her life insurance.

Hughes, 29, was arrested Wednesday and charged with attempted murder. He was held under $25,000 bond.

County Atty. Norman Green said Hughes took his 3½-year-old step-daughter Sherri Lynn Hoffman in his car Dec. 13 and crashed the car into the front of a Tucson market.

Hughes blamed the accident on faulty brakes. He escaped with minor injuries and the child suffered a skull fracture.

Green said Hughes staged the crash in an attempt to collect $30,000 life insurance he had taken out on the child. Sheriff's detective Richard C. Smith said investigators found a brake fluid valve had been opened by hand.

Prize Bulls Lost

explained that the barn is made up of several sections—all connected.

"My husband, who is herdsman on the farm, was in Denver, Colo. attending a stock show with Mr. Leachman," Mrs. Ernst said. "They took 14 or 15 of the show Angus with them. If those bulls had been here, the loss undoubtedly would have been more extensive.

Ryan, co-owner of the internationally known farm, was in New York City, when notified of the fire.

Saves 4-H Club Steer

Mary Lou Ernst hurried from her home to a section of the barn and saved her 4-H Club steer after the fire was discovered, her mother told a reporter.

The origin of the fire was not immediately determined. Mrs. Ernst said no estimate of the loss could be reported until the return of her husband and the farm owners.

Mrs. Ernst commended volunteer firemen highly for their efforts. "The firemen made a quick run to the farm after learning of the fire," Mrs. Ernst said. "They all did wonderful work in saving most of the barn and contents."

Seen for Miles

Rhinebeck state police said Senior Investigator Emmett F. Donohue of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation is conducting an investigation in an effort to determine the cause of the fire, which could be seen for miles away.

Worried Investors Regret Flyers in Low-Priced Jump

Q) "I want to speculate with $1,000. I am not interested in yield, only in growth, and I would like to buy stocks under $5 a share. What do you suggest?" — C. P.

A) I suggest that you alter your thinking a little.

One of the most common and dangerous delusions I encounter is that very low-priced stocks are necessarily cheap stocks. It is perfectly true that in the earlier stages of this bull market, some large fortunes were made in very low-priced issues. But the bull market has roared on for 14 years, the market has been scoured for values, and there are few if any issues now selling below $5 that are not in that range because their quality is poor or their risk is high.

I beg you not to get speculation confused with growth. Speculation means the deliberate assumption of risk in the hope of attaining substantial profit. When you buy growth, you expect over a period of time a steady advance in price which is achieved by rising earnings and dividends.

I know of no good speculation or growth stock in the price range you designate. In fact, my mail is full of requests from worried investors who bought very low-priced stocks within the past year or two, have suffered severe losses, and now wonder what to do about them.

Q) "We have started a trust account for our son to pay for his education 12 years hence. He has 25 shares of General Foods. With dividends and gifts he will have about $100 every few months going into the savings bank. Should we invest this or leave it in the bank?" — G. R.

A) I advise you to let the money accumulate in the savings bank until you have at least $400-$500 to invest.

The minimum commission is $6 on a single purchase of stocks amounting to $100, which is equivalent to adding 6 points to your purchase price.

Rocky's Office Denies Move to Scuttle Wharton

A. K. Gage, chairman of the Columbia County Conservative Party, said Wednesday that party members and Conservative Republicans view with alarm reports "the Rockefeller machine" is planning to scuttle the political career of Representative J. Ernest Wharton of the 28th Congressional District.

Governor Rockefeller's office said it had "no knowledge of any such so-called scuttling plans."

"We have suspected such a move," Gage said, "since the first trial balloon was sent up mentioning the name of Rockefeller's cousin, Alexander Aldrich, as successor to Congressman Wharton."

Would Oppose Try

Gage theorized that Wharton apparently is on Rockefeller's blacklist because he doesn't support the Rockefeller brand of New Dealism." In a statement, Gage said, the Conservative Party will oppose any move by the Republicans to replace Congressman Wharton "with a liberal, New Deal, Socialist representative."

If efforts to purge Wharton from the New York delegation are successful, Gage contended, the Conservative Party will run its own candidate for Congress in the 28th District. Gage noted that last fall, Wharton received a citation from the Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA) for his fine voting record in the Congress.

Defends Record

"Congressman Wharton has faithfully and courageously fulfilled his responsibilities to his constituents as well as to all the people of the United States in supporting sound legislative proposals and the principles of the limitation of governmental power as specifically set forth by the founding fathers of the nation in the Constitution," Gage said.

The ACA, Gage noted, gave Congressman Wharton a rating of 87 per cent as compared with liberal Congressman Samuel Stratton's 13 per cent. The ratings are based on issues involving sound money, balanced budgets, limitation of central powers, communism and foreign policy, including foreign aid.

"Wharton decisively defeated his last Democratic opponent, ultra-liberal playwright Gore Vidal," Gage said. The 28th Congressional district includes Columbia, Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Schoharie Counties.

May Not Follow Cuba Pattern, Zanzibar View

ZANZIBAR (AP) — Foreign Minister Abdul Rohman Mohammed Babu said today that Zanzibar's new government will be Socialist but will not necessarily follow the Cuban pattern.

In a roadside interview Babu said the island "quite possibly" will remain within the British commonwealth.

Babu, who has been known for Communist sympathies, was accompanied by four armed lieutenants. One said he had been trained in Cuba along with "many" Zanzibaris.

Several other Zanzibari rebels are believed to have been trained in Peking and a correspondent of Communist China's New China news agency (NCNA) arrived here Jan. 10, two days before the revolution.

(In London, Western and African diplomats speculated that Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai, now on a tour of Africa, might visit Zanzibar to display Peking's support for the revolutionaries.)

Cigarette Sales Drop

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Slight drops in cigarette sales have been reported by two wholesale tobacco firms in this cigarette-manufacturing center, following the U.S. surgeon general's report on smoking and health.

The firms also said Wednesday there had been a marked increase in orders for pipes, tobacco pouches, pipe tobacco and cigars. The report said cigarette smoking is more of a health hazard than cigars or pipes.

Protest to Assessment Hike

Jail Former Educator, Defied Clothesline Ban

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — "I'm the spunky, talkative one," says 63-year-old Mrs. Webster Stover. "I'm the one who should be in jail, not my husband."

Dr. Webster Stover, once a college president, went to jail Wednesday for defying a city ban against hanging clothes in front lawns. The Stovers did it to protest increased tax assessments on their red-brick, colonial home in this New York City suburb.

The clothesline came down last October after the U.S. Supreme Court decision refused to review the dispute. But Mrs. Stover said Wednesday she'll picket their house until her husband finishes his 30-day term, interrupted by the appeal, in 19 days.

She, too, was convicted of violating the anti-clothesline ordinance, but she received a suspended sentence.

Stover, 61, once president of what used to be Arnold College in New Haven, Conn., runs a teacher placement service.

The Stovers contend their assessments went up faster than those on other neighborhood houses because they refused to sell to a politician. They bought it for $8,000 in 1942. Its assessed value today is $22,200.

The clotheslines went up in 1956. Five years later, the city passed an ordinance requiring a permit for such lines. The Stovers were denied a permit.

The Stovers continued paying taxes, but under protest.

Congress Needs Ethics Code For Its Members, Employes

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate, called the world's most exclusive club, is still very choosy, as the Bobby Baker case and other events show.

It has two sets of rules on conduct: One for other people; a different one for members of the Senate.

For the past 14 years or so, but particularly this year, liberal senators have called on the House and Senate to do unto themselves what they do to others.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republican, put it this way:

"Congress is constantly laying down regulations for the conduct of those in the executive branch, telling them what they should and shouldn't do.

"It is not right for us to exempt the legislative branch from the rules and regulations we have imposed on the executive branch."

Double-Standard

He called it a double-standard and said "it has undermined confidence in our good faith."

This is what he was talking about:

Congress has taken various steps to prevent conflict of interest among employes of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest can be described as mixing a government job with personal gain.

Congress has not only passed a law against conflict of interest among executive branch employes but subsequently tightened and broadened it.

Congressional committees require men appointed by the President to his Cabinet to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government.

None of this applies to members of Congress or employes of Congress.

Needs Code Too

Various liberal senators have proposed legislation — which Congress has consistently ignored — for Congress to establish a code of ethics for itself and its employes on conflict of interest.

There were more such demands, also ignored, when the Robert G. Baker case broke, although not through disclosure in Congress.

Baker, who had been secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate for years, quit his job Oct. 7 when, as it became clear, he had wide-ranging financial interests and deals while working for the Senate.

The Senate finally authorized its Rules Committee to investigate to see whether Baker's outside activities had conflicted with his official duties.

The Procedure

It went further:

It authorized the investigation into the financial or business interests or activities of any officer or employe of the Senate, if the Baker investigation made that necessary.

The Senate stopped there. It didn't authorize the committee to investigate any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Yet, the Senate's Democratic majority leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, revealed Senate employes who owe their jobs to the Democrats are being required to list their assets and sources of income.

A number of liberal senators had previously demanded that members of the Senate itself be required to list publicly their assets and income. This was neatly ignored.

Nevertheless, Sen. B. Everett Jordan, North Carolina Democrat and chairman of the Rules Committee's investigation of Baker, said two months ago that any leads uncovered would be followed up regardless of who was involved. He said he had no indication any senator was involved.

This week a witness said Sen. George Smathers, Florida Democrat, was in with Baker in a land deal in Florida.

Is Senate Interested

Later Smathers said in a statement:

He had sold Baker and another man one-eighth interest each in his share of the land venture because they were young men raising families.

Would Smathers now be called to testify before Jordan's committee? Jordan said: "We don't need him—we're not investigating senators."

And he added this: If the committee needs any additional information from Smathers "we will get it but we will not bring him in."

This raises a question: Is the Senate interested in a thorough investigation of the Baker case?

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon with selected blue chips boosting the averages slightly.

The general run of key stocks showed fractional gains or losses in active trading.

Cigar manufacturers moved up sharply in response to reports that many smokers are being converted to cigars because of the government health report that linked cigarette smoking with various diseases and laid little blame on cigar and pipe smoking.

Cigarette stocks were narrowly mixed. The trend was uneven also among motors, aerospace issues, office equipments and nonferrous metals. Steels and airlines were slightly lower.

Utilities, rails and chemicals improved.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 290.4, topping Wednesday's historic closing high. Industrials were up 1.1, rails .5 and utilities .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .71 at 775.42, still below its most recent all-t9me peak.

American Telephone touched a new historic high of 142¼ and held a thin gain.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Saugerties Vols Quell Shop Fire

Fire caused extensive damage to Edward Flanagan's garage and workshop on Post Street, Saugerties today despite efforts of all local fire companies in command of Chief Earl Martin.

Police said pump streams and booster lines were used by firemen to quell the flames that reportedly burned through the workshop and the ceiling. The police said the alarm was sounded after 10:30 a. m. and firemen were at the scene more than two hours.

Segni Rejects Paris-Bonn Axis For West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Antonio Segni of Italy has told President Johnson his country would tolerate neither French nor German domination of Western Europe—nor a combination of the two.

And the Italian foreign minister, Giuseppe Saragat, told a news conference Wednesday that the "Paris - Bonn axis" failed because it was an attempt to dominate Western Europe.

Johnson and his foreign policy aides noted Segni's firm declaration with obvious satisfaction, American observers reported. And Saragat's remark was very much to Washington's taste, an authoritiative source said.

Segni and Saragat confirmed their country's obligation to participate in the preliminary talks held simultaneously in Paris and in Washington between countries interested in creating a Polaris - equipped surface fleet manned by multination crews. But the two Italians also made clear that they could not go beyond this to commit their country irrevocably to participating in the fleet itself.

Trial of Shooting

Richter, the defense attorney, asked to inspect the grand jury minutes.

Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon appeared for the prosecution Wednesday afternoon, but Richter was not present. He represents the three denfendants, Jay Warner Stanley, 23, of 1 Cottage Row; Terry Curtis, 24, of 23 West Pierpont Street, and John Dunn, 22, of 4 Tietjen Avenue.

Result of Jury Probe

The charge is that the three young men, in company with three others, drove about the city and adjoining area discharging firearms. During the spree it is alleged a dog owned by Burton Shoemaker of 20 Dunneman Avenue, was shot. The trio is being brought before Justice Bower under information filed by the district attorney after a grand jury investigation.

Motions seeking dismissal of informantions are pending and have delayed city court action involving three of the six on the alleged shooting spree. Due for city court hearing are: Thomas Ashdown, 20, of 537 Albany Avenue Extension; Uhland Kaschel, 23, of 286 East Chester Street, and Terry Curtis, 24, of 23 West Pierpont Street.

Campochiaro New Director; Trust Co. Renames Rusk

At the annual meeting of the Kingston Trust Company held Wednesday several changes were made in the official staff. Stephen D. Hiltebrandt, a director for many years, requested that he not be re-elected because his physical condition prevented his attendance at board meetings. The board reluctantly accepted his resignation and Frank Campochiaro, prominent local attorney, was elected to the board of directors.

Bernard A. Feeney Sr., Alfred D. Ronder and Richard J. Whalen were re-elected to the board.

Promotions Made

Walter L. Foster and Joseph W. Robertson were elevated to vice-presidents and Mrs. Edyth Phillips and Eugene Milanisi were named assistant treasurers. George D. Reisenauer was named auditor.

At the director's meeting which followed the shareholder's meeting George Rusk was reelected president; Arthur A. Davis, chairman of the board and Ernest LeFevre, vice-chairman of the board.

Other Officers

Other officers re-elected are: Kenneth C. Pratt, executive vice president; Fred P. Carpenter, vice-president and treasurer; Harry E. Miller, John T. Molloy, assistant vice-presidents; Maude D. Snyder, secretary; Frank Finley, William J. Fitzgibbons, Walter K. Hubbard, William A. Thiel, William J. Lawrence, assistant treasurers; Margaret Smith, assistant secretary and Gordon A. Craig, auditor.

Ellis H. Griffith was re-elected to the office of trust officer and Earle H. Foster to the office of assistant Trust Officer.

Successful Year

In a report to the shareholders of the Kingston Trust Company it was pointed out that 1963 proved another successful year for the bank as new highs were reached in deposits, loans and resources. Net operating earnings showed satisfactory improvement despite increased operating costs and adequate reserves for taxes and contingencies were set aside. A cash dividend of $4.50 per share was paid and $70,000 was added to undivided profits.

More than 5,000 borrowers were served by the small loans department. Auto loans, home improvement loans and personal loans at the end of year amounted to more than $4,000,000, indicating wide acceptance of those facilities throughout the area.

In September the Phoenicia Branch held open house in celebration of the 10th anniversary of its opening. This office has deposits of more than $2,500,000.

Resources Grow

The resources of the Kingston Trust Company as of the close of 1963 were $29,492,333.36, as compared to $27,806,844.66 at the end of the 1962 business year.

Frank Campochiario, newly elected director, has been a lifelong resident of Ulster County. He was born in Glasco and attended St. Mary's of the Snow Parochial School in the village of Saugerties and was graduated from Saugerties High School. After graduation he attended New York University and graduated from St. John's Law School in Brooklyn. He was admitted to the bar in 1933 and practices his profession in all courts of New York State.

In 1942 he was admitted to practice in the Federal Court for the Southern District of New York. He is a member of the New York State and Ulster County Bar Association and has been journal clerk of the New York State Senate for many years.

Lifetime Fireman

He attends St. Joseph's Church in Kingston and is a member of St. Joseph's Holy Name Society. He is also a member of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Fourth Degree Assembly of Kingston Council. He has been a member of the Glasco Fire Company for a number of years and recently was elected a lifetime member.

During the past year the Elston property on Fair Street adjoining the bankinghouse was purchased and plans for a modern street level facility for the Trust Department are under way. It is also planned to move the Consumer Load Department to this building where the increasing volume of business can be more readily handled.

Hearing Is Set For Tucson Man On Murder Try

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A preliminary hearing has been set for Charles Leonard Hughes, a Tucson man accused of trying to kill his step-daughter to collect her life insurance.

Hughes, 29, was arrested Wednesday and charged with attempted murder. He was held under $25,000 bond.

County Atty. Norman Green said Hughes took his 3½-year-old step-daughter Sherri Lynn Hoffman in his car Dec. 13 and crashed the car into the front of a Tucson market.

Hughes blamed the accident on faulty brakes. He escaped with minor injuries and the child suffered a skull fracture.

Green said Hughes staged the crash in an attempt to collect $30,000 life insurance he had taken out on the child. Sheriff's detective Richard C. Smith said investigators found a brake fluid valve had been opened by hand.

Prize Bulls Lost

explained that the barn is made up of several sections—all connected.

"My husband, who is herdsman on the farm, was in Denver, Colo. attending a stock show with Mr. Leachman," Mrs. Ernst said. "They took 14 or 15 of the show Angus with them. If those bulls had been here, the loss undoubtedly would have been more extensive.

Ryan, co-owner of the internationally known farm, was in New York City, when notified of the fire.

Saves 4-H Club Steer

Mary Lou Ernst hurried from her home to a section of the barn and saved her 4-H Club steer after the fire was discovered, her mother told a reporter.

The origin of the fire was not immediately determined. Mrs. Ernst said no estimate of the loss could be reported until the return of her husband and the farm owners.

Mrs. Ernst commended volunteer firemen highly for their efforts. "The firemen made a quick run to the farm after learning of the fire," Mrs. Ernst said. "They all did wonderful work in saving most of the barn and contents."

Seen for Miles

Rhinebeck state police said Senior Investigator Emmett F. Donohue of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation is conducting an investigation in an effort to determine the cause of the fire, which could be seen for miles away.

I beg you not to get speculation confused with growth. Speculation means the deliberate assumption of risk in the hope of attaining substantial profit. When you buy growth, you expect over a period of time a steady advance in price which is achieved by rising earnings and dividends.

I know of no good speculation or growth stock in the price range you designate. In fact, my mail is full of requests from worried investors who bought very low-priced stocks within the past year or two, have suffered severe losses, and now wonder what to do about them.

Q) "We have started a trust account for our son to pay for his education 12 years hence. He has 25 shares of General Foods. With dividends and gifts he will have about $100 every few months going into the savings bank. Should we invest this or leave it in the bank?" — G. R.

A) I advise you to let the money accumulate in the savings bank until you have at least $400-$500 to invest.

The minimum commission is $6 on a single purchase of stocks amounting to $100, which is equivalent to adding 6 points to your purchase price.

Rocky's Office Denies Move to Scuttle Wharton

A. K. Gage, chairman of the Columbia County Conservative Party, said Wednesday that party members and Conservative Republicans view with alarm reports "the Rockefeller machine" is planning to scuttle the political career of Representative J. Ernest Wharton of the 28th Congressional District.

Governor Rockefeller's office said it had "no knowledge of any such so-called scuttling plans."

"We have suspected such a move," Gage said, "since the first trial balloon was sent up mentioning the name of Rockefeller's cousin, Alexander Aldrich, as successor to Congressman Wharton."

Would Oppose Try

Gage theorized that Wharton apparently is on Rockefeller's blacklist because he doesn't support the Rockefeller brand of New Dealism." In a statement, Gage said, the Conservative Party will oppose any move by the Republicans to replace Congressman Wharton "with a liberal, New Deal, Socialist representative."

If efforts to purge Wharton from the New York delegation are successful, Gage contended, the Conservative Party will run its own candidate for Congress in the 28th District. Gage noted that last fall, Wharton received a citation from the Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA) for his fine voting record in the Congress.

Defends Record

"Congressman Wharton has faithfully and courageously fulfilled his responsibilities to his constituents as well as to all the people of the United States in supporting sound legislative proposals and the principles of the limitation of governmental power as specifically set forth by the founding fathers of the nation in the Constitution," Gage said.

The ACA, Gage noted, gave Congressman Wharton a rating of 87 per cent as compared with liberal Congressman Samuel Stratton's 13 per cent. The ratings are based on issues involving sound money, balanced budgets, limitation of central powers, communism and foreign policy, including foreign aid.

"Wharton decisively defeated his last Democratic opponent, ultra-liberal playwright Gore Vidal," Gage said. The 28th Congressional district includes Columbia, Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Schoharie Counties.

May Not Follow Cuba Pattern, Zanzibar View

ZANZIBAR (AP) — Foreign Minister Abdul Rohman Mohammed Babu said today that Zanzibar's new government will be Socialist but will not necessarily follow the Cuban pattern.

In a roadside interview Babu said the island "quite possibly" will remain within the British commonwealth.

Babu, who has been known for Communist sympathies, was accompanied by four armed lieutenants. One said he had been trained in Cuba along with "many" Zanzibaris.

Several other Zanzibari rebels are believed to have been trained in Peking and a correspondent of Communist China's New China news agency (NCNA) arrived here Jan. 10, two days before the revolution.

(In London, Western and African diplomats speculated that Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai, now on a tour of Africa, might visit Zanzibar to display Peking's support for the revolutionaries.)

Cigarette Sales Drop

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Slight drops in cigarette sales have been reported by two wholesale tobacco firms in this cigarette-manufacturing center, following the U.S. surgeon general's report on smoking and health.

The firms also said Wednesday there had been a marked increase in orders for pipes, tobacco pouches, pipe tobacco and cigars. The report said cigarette smoking is more of a health hazard than cigars or pipes.

Protest to Assessment Hike

Jail Former Educator, Defied Clothesline Ban

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — "I'm the spunky, talkative one," says 63-year-old Mrs. Webster Stover. "I'm the one who should be in jail, not my husband."

Dr. Webster Stover, once a college president, went to jail Wednesday for defying a city ban against hanging clothes in front lawns. The Stovers did it to protest increased tax assessments on their red-brick, colonial home in this New York City suburb.

The clothesline came down last October after the U.S. Supreme Court decision refused to review the dispute. But Mrs. Stover said Wednesday she'll picket their house until her husband finishes his 30-day term, interrupted by the appeal, in 19 days.

She, too, was convicted of violating the anti-clothesline ordinance, but she received a suspended sentence.

Stover, 61, once president of what used to be Arnold College in New Haven, Conn., runs a teacher placement service.

The Stovers contend their assessments went up faster than those on other neighborhood houses because they refused to sell to a politician. They bought it for $8,000 in 1942. Its assessed value today is $22,200.

The clotheslines went up in 1956. Five years later, the city passed an ordinance requiring a permit for such lines. The Stovers were denied a permit.

The Stovers continued paying taxes, but under protest.

'Traitors Beware'

Gonzales Bares Threat to 20 Solons of U.S.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Post quotes U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., as saying a "thinly veiled threat" has been made against him and 19 other Democratic congressmen in a publication.

The Post said Wednesday in a copyright story from its Washington bureau that Gonzalez asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to investigate a group he identified as the Minutemen. He said a copy of the group's publication "On Target" contains the threat against him and the other 19 congressmen.

Becoming Sensitive

In his letter to Kennedy, the San Antonio, Tex., congressman said "in the light of recent developments I have become decidedly more sensitive about some of the hate material that is so widely distributed."

The newspaper said Gonzales referred to the death of President John F. Kennedy and the slaying of the man accused of assassinating him.

Gonzalez was quoted as saying the threat was directed at him and the others who voted against increasing funds to operate the House Committee on un-American Activities last year.

He said the second page of the publication "On Target" dated March 15, 1963, contains the names of the 20 congressmen, bordered in black and headed with the words: "In memoriam."

Others on List

Gonzalez said the other congressmen are James Roosevelt, George Brown Jr., W. D. Edwards and Edward Roybal, all of California; William Fitts Ryan, Abraham Multer, Leonard Farbstein and Benjamin Rosenthal, all of New York; Mrs. Edith Green and Robert Duncan of Oregon; Robert W. Kastenmeir of Wisconsin; Barratt O'Hare of Illinois; Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio; Charles Diggs, John Dingell, Lucian Nedzi and Neil Staebler, all of Michigan; Thomas Gill of Hawaii; and Donald Frazier of Minnesota.

Gonzalez said one portion of the publication contains these words: "Traitors beware. Even now the cross-hairs are on the back of your necks. These Patriots are not going to let you take their freedom away from them."

Election Is Held By 1st Federal, Report on Growth

John B. Sterley, Clair S. Shaeffer and Wilmer S. Nickerson were re-elected directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association for a term of three years at the annual meeting Wednesday. Other directors of the Association include Robert A. MacKinnon, Harry Halverson, George C. Swart, J. Allan Wood, Deweese W. DeWitt, Joseph Kelly and George Svirsky.

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president, reporting to stockholders on gains during the past year said "The total assets have increased from slightly under $20 million to somewhat over $24 million. This is twice as much as the Association has ever enjoyed before.

"Mortgage applications have continued at a very brisk pace especially in Dutchess County."

During his report, DeWitt said that figures showed First Federal was the fastest growing savings institution in the area.

JOHN B. STERLEY

Elect Sterley President

The directors met for organization immediately following the meeting of the members and re-elected John B. Sterley, president; J. Allan Wood and Harry Halverson, vice presidents; Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president and treasurer; William D. Costello, auditor; Charles R. Carpenter, assistant secretary, and Rosalind B. Wilber, administrative assistant.

Three promotions were made by the board. William F. Paulus was named assistant vice-president. Alexander J. McKittrick, who is at present assistant secretary and branch manager of the Hyde Park office was named assistant vice-president and manager of the Hyde Park office, and Sam D. Bradley was named assistant secretary.

With Loan Since 1953

Paulus joined First Federal in May of 1953 and for the past few years has held the office of assistant treasurer. He is a past president of the Southeastern League of Savings and Loan Associations, presidents of the Capital District Chapter American Savings and Loan Institute, and has completed the three-year course at the Graduate School of Savings and Loan at Indiana University and has earned his Graduate School key.

Alexander J. McKittrick is at present assistant secretary and branch manager at the Hyde Park office and came to the Association in July of 1961. He is a graduate of Lafayette College, class of 1950 and served with the U. S. Army from 1945 to 1947. He holds a graduate diploma from the American Savings and Loan Institute and at present is enrolled at the Graduate School of Savings and Loan at Indiana University. He is active in civic and community affairs in Hyde Park.

Came From Florida

Sam D. Bradley, who came with the First Federal in April of 1963 and at present is manager of the Central Broadway office was named assistant secretary. He has had 10 years experience in the real estate business in Lakeland and Vero Beach, Florida, before coming to Kingston. He and Mrs. Bradley reside at West Hurley. He is active in the Kingston Kiwanis Club and was prominent in the Lakeland, Fla., Kiwanis Club before coming to Kingston.

Preceding the election of directors, Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president, reported to the members on the review of operations for the year 1963 as follows:

"A year ago I told you that 1963 looked like a good year for the Institution I had no idea as to the extent of the gains which we would experience during the year 1963. The total assets have increased from slightly under $20,000,000 to somewhat over $24,000,000. This is about twice as much as the Association has ever enjoyed before. Mortgage applications have continued at a very brisk pace especially in Dutchess County. The total outstanding is now slightly over $21,000,000, with a gain of $4,500,000 during the year. Savings did not increase quite as much percentagewise as they did in 1962. We did, however, gain $2,278,000, which was at the rate of 13 and 1/10th per cent. This made us the fastest growing savings institution in this area.

Dutchess Branch Popular

"Our Hyde Park office has continued to be very popular with persons living in Dutchess County. Builders and persons interested in mortgages have come to realize that they can receive very fast service through our Hyde Park office. This has doubtless contributed to a large extent to the heavy demand which we have for mortgages in that area. A year ago I predicted that earnings would pass the $1,000,000 mark in 1963. This has proved to be the case with gross income being at $1,138,000.

"1963 was the first year that savings and loan associations became subject to the Federal Income Tax under the law passed in 1962. After paying dividends in 1962 at the record te of $730,000 ample funds were left for taking care of required additions to surplus and provision for Federal Income Tax.

"During 1963 First Federal availed itself of a new type of lending recently authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This is the making of loans for land development. This is an especially attractive type of financing as it places the Association in a preferred position in relation to home construction in a development. It also gives us an opportunity to see that a development is properly laid out so that it would be atractive for future home owners.

"The continued increase in mortgage demand has made the directors of First Federal place greater emphasis on proper appraisal procedure. Through the cooperation of the Ulster County Real Estate Board a panel of appraisers has been selected to do all of our appraisal work. This makes it impossible for pressures to be exerted upon the Association for an appraisal in excess of market value as these men have no interest except to see that we receive a correct appraisal.

Difficult to Predict

"It is difficult to make a prediction for 1964 at this time. 1963 passed previous records by a wide range and it seems hardly possible that the gains of 1964 can equal those of '63. The general economy of the country continued to rise during 1963 and predictions are that it will remain healthy during 1964. Your directors, however, are approaching the situation with even greater caution than they did a year ago. They realize that conditions can change quickly and are making every provision to be prepared for any eventuality.

"First Federal has always paid the highest dividend consistent with safety. At the beginning of 1964 the going rate for savings in this community was established at 4¼ per cent. An analysis of anticipated earnings of this Association for 1964 showed that we could pay this rate and accordingly an official announcement to that effect was made through the public press. There is no waiting period to obtain the full 4¼ per cent and deposits made on or before the 15th day of January, April, July and October draw dividends from the 1st. The other eight months of the year payments may be made up to the 10th of the month and draw dividends from the 1st."

Denies Murrow Will Quit USIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Information Agency denies Edward R. Murrow is quitting as USIA director because of his health, or is likely to do so.

Asked Wednesday night about a new report that Murrow had submitted his resignation, a spokesman said:

"There isn't even a likelihood of his retiring because of ill health."

The spokesman said Murrow appears to be in the best condition he has been in since he underwent chest surgery last Oct. 5.

'Traitors Beware'

Gonzales Bares Threat to 20 Solons of U.S.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Post quotes U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., as saying a "thinly veiled threat" has been made against him and 19 other Democratic congressmen in a publication.

The Post said Wednesday in a copyright story from its Washington bureau that Gonzalez asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to investigate a group he identified as the Minutemen. He said a copy of the group's publication "On Target" contains the threat against him and the other 19 congressmen.

Becoming Sensitive

In his letter to Kennedy, the San Antonio, Tex., congressman said "in the light of recent developments I have become decidedly more sensitive about some of the hate material that is so widely distributed."

The newspaper said Gonzales referred to the death of President John F. Kennedy and the slaying of the man accused of assassinating him.

Gonzalez was quoted as saying the threat was directed at him and the others who voted against increasing funds to operate the House Committee on un-American Activities last year.

He said the second page of the publication "On Target" dated March 15, 1963, contains the names of the 20 congressmen, bordered in black and headed with the words: "In memoriam."

Others on List

Gonzalez said the other congressmen are James Roosevelt, George Brown Jr., W. D. Edwards and Edward Roybal, all of California; William Fitts Ryan, Abraham Multer, Leonard Farbstein and Benjamin Rosenthal, all of New York; Mrs. Edith Green and Robert Duncan of Oregon; Robert W. Kastenmeir of Wisconsin; Barratt O'Hare of Illinois; Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio; Charles Diggs, John Dingell, Lucian Nedzi and Neil Staebler, all of Michigan; Thomas Gill of Hawaii; and Donald Frazier of Minnesota.

Gonzalez said one portion of the publication contains these words: "Traitors beware. Even now the cross-hairs are on the back of your necks. These Patriots are not going to let you take their freedom away from them."

Election Is Held By 1st Federal, Report on Growth

John B. Sterley, Clair S. Shaeffer and Wilmer S. Nickerson were re-elected directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association for a term of three years at the annual meeting Wednesday. Other directors of the Association include Robert A. MacKinnon, Harry Halverson, George C. Swart, J. Allan Wood, Deweese W. DeWitt, Joseph Kelly and George Svirsky.

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president, reporting to stockholders on gains during the past year said "The total assets have increased from slightly under $20 million to somewhat over $24 million. This is twice as much as the Association has ever enjoyed before.

"Mortgage applications have continued at a very brisk pace especially in Dutchess County."

During his report, DeWitt said that figures showed First Federal was the fastest growing savings institution in the area.

Elect Sterley President

The directors met for organization immediately following the meeting of the members and re-elected John B. Sterley, president; J. Allan Wood and Harry Halverson, vice presidents; Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president and treasurer; William D. Costello, auditor; Charles R. Carpenter, assistant secretary, and Rosalind B. Wilber, administrative assistant.

Three promotions were made by the board. William F. Paulus was named assistant vice-president. Alexander J. McKittrick, who is at present assistant secretary and branch manager of the Hyde Park office was named assistant vice-president and manager of the Hyde Park office, and Sam D. Bradley was named assistant secretary.

With Loan Since 1953

Paulus joined First Federal in May of 1953 and for the past few years has held the office of assistant treasurer. He is a past president of the Southeastern League of Savings and Loan Associations, presidents of the Capital District Chapter American Savings and Loan Institute, and has completed the three-year course at the Graduate School of Savings and Loan at Indiana University and has earned his Graduate School key.

Alexander J. McKittrick is at present assistant secretary and branch manager at the Hyde Park office and came to the Association in July of 1961. He is a graduate of Lafayette College, class of 1950 and served with the U. S. Army from 1945 to 1947. He holds a graduate diploma from the American Savings and Loan Institute and at present is enrolled at the Graduate School of Savings and Loan at Indiana University. He is active in civic and community affairs in Hyde Park.

Came From Florida

Sam D. Bradley, who came with the First Federal in April of 1963 and at present is manager of the Central Broadway office was named assistant secretary. He has had 10 years experience in the real estate business in Lakeland and Vero Beach, Florida, before coming to Kingston. He and Mrs. Bradley reside at West Hurley. He is active in the Kingston Kiwanis Club and was prominent in the Lakeland, Fla., Kiwanis Club before coming to Kingston.

Preceding the election of directors, Deweese W. DeWitt, executive vice president, reported to the members on the review of operations for the year 1963 as follows:

JOHN B. STERLEY

"A year ago I told you that 1963 looked like a good year for the Institution I had no idea as to the extent of the gains which we would experience during the year 1963. The total assets have increased from slightly under $20,000,000 to somewhat over $24,000,000. This is about twice as much as the Association has ever enjoyed before. Mortgage applications have continued at a very brisk pace especially in Dutchess County. The total outstanding is now slightly over $21,000,000, with a gain of $4,500,000 during the year. Savings did not increase quite as much percentagewise as they did in 1962. We did, however, gain $2,278,000, which was at the rate of 13 and 1/10th per cent. This made us the fastest growing savings institution in this area.

Dutchess Branch Popular

"Our Hyde Park office has continued to be very popular with persons living in Dutchess County. Builders and persons interested in mortgages have come to realize that they can receive very fast service through our Hyde Park office. This has doubtless contributed to a large extent to the heavy demand which we have for mortgages in that area. A year ago I predicted that earnings would pass the $1,000,000 mark in 1963. This has proved to be the case with gross income being at $1,138,000.

"1963 was the first year that savings and loan associations became subject to the Federal Income Tax under the law passed in 1962. After paying dividends in 1962 at the record rate of $730,000 ample funds were left for taking care of required additions to surplus and provision for Federal Income Tax.

"During 1963 First Federal availed itself of a new type of lending recently authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This is the making of loans for land development. This is an especially attractive type of financing as it places the Association in a preferred position in relation to home construction in a development. It also gives us an opportunity to see that a development is properly laid out so that it would be atractive for future home owners.

"The continued increase in mortgage demand has made the directors of First Federal place greater emphasis on proper appraisal procedure. Through the cooperation of the Ulster County Real Estate Board a panel of appraisers has been selected to do all of our appraisal work. This makes it impossible for pressures to be exerted upon the Association for an appraisal in excess of market value as these men have no interest except to see that we receive a correct appraisal.

Difficult to Predict

"It is difficult to make a prediction for 1964 at this time. 1963 passed previous records by a wide range and it seems hardly possible that the gains of 1964 can equal those of '63. The general economy of the country continued to rise during 1963 and predictions are that it will remain healthy during 1964. Your directors, however, are approaching the situation with even greater caution than they did a year ago. They realize that conditions can change quickly and are making every provision to be prepared for any eventuality.

"First Federal has always paid the highest dividend consistent with safety. At the beginning of 1964 the going rate for savings in this community was established at 4¼ per cent. An analysis of anticipated earnings of this Association for 1964 showed that we could pay this rate and accordingly an official announcement to that effect was made through the public press. There is no waiting period to obtain the full 4¼ per cent and deposits made on or before the 15th day of January, April, July and October draw dividends from the 1st. The other eight months of the year payments may be made up to the 10th of the month and draw dividends from the 1st."

W. F. Drescher, 84, Has Unique Hobby

Uses Hands Instead of Chisel To Make Designs of Old Roots

By CHARLES M. McCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

If you happen to have any old cedar tree roots lying around the house, don't throw them away.

There's an ambitious man who can make them into anything from a sprawling, ostentatious floral design to a simple, petrified conversation piece.

He's William F. Drescher Sr., of the Old Post Road, Esopus. He is in addition to being ambitious — 84 years old.

And, he'll tell you that his hobby isn't as easy as it sounds. But you'll have to admit that it's unusual.

Drescher selects tree roots that look like they would lend themselves to a particular design, then proceeds to "rub them down" to their natural lustre with his bare hands, until he has perfected the shape and hue he desires.

Drescher took up the hobby 10 years ago. Why? Well, to quote him directly, "I always was the type who likes to roam and look around and see the unusual." But to him, the particular "unusual" in this case is where mother nature has left something that is in itself beautiful or has a beauty potential. Like a young bird, a freshly-blossomed flower, or a tree stump.

There's a philosophical angle to the hobby. Who would think that an uprooted tree stump would, through the mind and hands of an 84-year-old man, be shaped into an articulate or even handsome design that gives pleasure to the eyes of its beholder?

Among the dozens of works that Drescher started, there were, originally, no two roots that were alike.

Thus, the finished collection provides a wide variety of objects. There is one which resembles a snipe—a shore bird. Another is an interpretation of Hindu deity. Still another designed after the legendary Phoenix Bird, represented by the ancient Egyptians as having lived several centuries in the Arabian desert, being consumed in fire by its own act then rising in youthful freshness from its own ashes.

Resembles Castro

One of the designs, when tilted to the correct angle, bears an amazing profile of Fidel Castro. Parrots and birds are among favorite subjects of the octogenarian hobbiest. In fact, Drescher's knowledge of natural history makes him something more than a mere student. He was employed six years by the Botannical Gardens in New York City after his retirement in 1946 as a printing pressman. He also has spent hundreds of hours at museums in this country and in Europe. In addition, he has recorded 175 different species of birds.

The complete hobby collection represents thousands of hours of effort. Drescher estimates that it takes five or six months to complete some of the designs, depending on size and shape, representing two or three hours a day. He said that most of the designs have been polished to their natural lustre, but some have been shellacked or varnished to attain a different shade.

Art Museum Explains

There's an interesting story behind Drescher's collection. He once made application to enter some choice selections from his hobby in an exhibit at an upstate art museum. He was rejected. He took exception to the rejection and wrote to an official of the museum. He said the official told him that had he applied under a category other than that for which he made application, the applications may have been accepted.

Apparently there's a difference between wood sculpture and other similar general classifications.

Drescher's vast collection has been notably depleted through his generosity, but still is physical evidence of a dedicated hobby. Are there any particular, or a single favorite, that he has among them?

"I like them all," said Drescher, "to me they represent so much pleasure and enjoyment. Particularly if they give the same to others."

Needless to say, this is typical of an attitude which could inspire only a great patience and the will to accomplish something that gives pleasure.

As was once written: "From these roots."

'FROM THESE ROOTS' come things of beauty fashioned by hand into dozens of forms and shapes. It's the rare art of taking cedar roots and rubbing them by hand until they attain the shape and hue of the desired design. The hobbyist, William S. Drescher Sr. of Esopus, pauses next to his collection long enough to accommodate lensman. (Freeman photo)

C of C President Issues Statement On Aims of 1964

In his first statement of the year embodying the aims of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce for 1964, Joseph Bosco Jr., newly elected president of the Chamber asks for cooperation of all for community betterment.

"If a community could take a vitamin pill or eat a hearty breakfast to pick itself up from that business or industrial droop, wouldn't it be a revelation? If it could feed numbers into a giant machine and come up with the answers to its problems . . . parking, street maintenance, traffic . . . what a grand year we could look forward to.

"Vitamins are not the answer, for a town is a living, breathing thing. It must be nourished to survive; it must be loved, respected, understood, coddled. These needs must be administered to by all who accept the shelter of this community. It is the duty of the government, industry, merchants, doctors, lawyers, educators, the housewife, the fathers and even the children, all cooperating to be sure their town is free from want, protect it from slander or abuse, look forward to its growth, point out its shortcomings but do not let them overshadow its accomplishments. The Chamber of Commerce accepts this responsibility.

"Committees such as Highway, Legal and Legislation, Civic Pride, Education, Christmas Lights, Merchants Committee, and Industrial will function to assure our community the help it needs.

"Our merchants have shown that support to Saugerties by taking heed of the results shown in a survey completed in 1958, by the Chamber, working in cooperation with the New York State Department of Commerce. Much was done to comply with these results, for example, two new parking lots have been added to the community. Many stores have enlarged and modernized.

"Others are planning to enlarge and modernize because thy have faith and confidence in our community. There is more than that can be done and will be done if we all have the same faith and support our town. In 1964, I look forward to a healthy community, because a healthy community houses happy people."

Mrs. Leon Morrier and her U.N. committee are to be congratulated for making this topic not only informative but also interesting. The Saugerties Provisional League of Woman Voters was privileged to have as guest at its past meeting Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, former U.N. chairman from the Woodstock League. Some of the highlights of the program were:

Mrs. Maurice Patenaude—How U.N. monies are spent and the division of the U.N. budget.

Mrs. John Lowther — Present financial situation with an interesting not that Nationalist China has usually been responsible for three quarters of the total arrears because she is assessed for the area comprising Communist China also.

Miss Jane Ziegler — The World Court of Justice role in the question of a member nation losing its vote if two years in arrears.

Mrs. Robert Emery — What part the General Assembly plays in the peacekeeping operation with discussion on the many issues involved. After the committee presented the material a lively question and answer period followed.

Also on the agenda for that night was an explanation by Mrs. Roy Ohno of the Continuing Responsibilities the League has taken up. Flyers were passed out to all members present concerning this study. Particular emphasis was placed on the Family Court section of the Judicial System.

Vols, Auxiliary Fete Cindy Chase On 16th Birthday

Firemen of the Centerville Fire Company and ladies of the Fire Auxiliary tendered Cindy Chase formerly of Pine Grove, a sweet sixteen party at the firehouse Saturday night.

The ladies with the men supplied all the cake, sandwiches, soda and ice cream. The buffet table was decorated for the occasion and a large white swan adorned the center. Cindy received from her grandmother a sugar corsage. She also received a birthday cake. Numerous gifts were presented to her by friends, who came from Saugerties, Kingston and Saratoga.

The music for this occasion was donated by the "Country Three", Jack Russell, Sherm Myers, and Shorty Overbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase are overwhelmed by the kind deeds, and help that they have received from the community, and said they are very grateful.

SUNY Post Still Open, Deny Job Offer to Ronan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The "help-wanted" sign has been up for more than a year as trustees search for a man they deem qualified to fill the vacant post of president of the State University of New York.

The spotlight fell again Wednesday on the vacant president's chairman when it was reported that Gov. Rockefeller's secretary, William J. Ronan, was being considered for the job.

A high-level source told the Associated Press, however, that the $27,875-a-year post had not been offered to Ronan. The source said that Ronan's name was among several under active consideration and that no decision had been made by university trustees.

Ronan, 51, is a former dean of New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service. He has been secretary to the governor since Rockefeller was inaugurated in 1959.

The president's job has been vacant since Thomas H. Hamilton resigned more than a year ago to become president of the University of Hawaii.

2 Plead Guilty To School Arson, Reopens Today

MOUNT MORRIS, N.Y. (AP) —Mount Morris Central School, closed since Monday because of heavy damage from fires allegedly started by two former students, was scheduled to reopen today.

John L. McCart, 20, and William Briggs, 17, accused of setting the fires and ransacking the school, pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of third-degree arson, third - degree burglary and petit larceny. Both are from Mount Morris.

They entered the pleas in Livingston County Court in Geneseo. Judge Austin W. Erwin Jr. set Jan. 22 for sentencing.

The fires Sunday caused an estimated $75,000 damage, school officials said. About $30 was reported missing from the school.

The sun compass, for use in the Arctic and Antarctic, where neither the magnetic nor gyroscopic compass works properly, was invented by Albert H. Bumstead. Explorer Richard E. Byrd said this compass made it possible to fly both poles with confidence.

An easy way to cook pork chops is to dip them in milk and then in seasoned crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for about three-quarters of an hour for half-inch chops.

Stratton Opposes Further Cuts in Tariffs on Twine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D.—N.Y., wants the Tariff Commission to recommend against further cuts in Tariffs on industrial twine and cordage in upcoming trade negotiations.

He made the recommendation yesterday in support of testimony by Legare Hole of the Columbia Rope Co., Auburn, N.Y.

As a result of previous tariff concessions, Stratton said twine imports had jumped over the past 12 years from 24 per cent of the domestic market to 67 per cent.

Employment at the Auburn plant has dropped from 1,100 to 500 over the same period, he added.

To Abandon Crossing

LA SALLE, Colo. (AP) — A grade crossing where 20 children died in a train-school bus collision in December 1961 will be closed.

The Colorado Public Utilities Commission gave the Union Pacific Railroad permission Wednesday to abandon the crossing, several miles northeast of La Salle. A flashing signal will be installed at a new crossing a quarter mile away.

$4.52 Milk Price

NEW YORK (AP)—Milk delivered to handlers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed in December will bring a uniform farm price of $4.52 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) — 14 cents below the November price.

The price in December 1962 was $4.36.

A. J. Pollard, associate market administrator, also announced Wednesday a December producer butterfat differential of 5.4 cents for each pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

Phantom Thief Strikes Again

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Spokane's phantom car thief has struck again.

For the fourth time in three weeks he has taken the same 1959-model car from the same Spokane used car lot and abandoned it in the same spot.

Owners of the car lot have tried sabotaging the car. But the persistent thief makes repairs. They've tried watching it. He drives it away when they're not looking.

The car is located after a few minutes parked in its usual spot downtown, and as usual, the doors are carefully locked.

Emotional Upset Noted in Transfer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Witnesses say repetition of classwork and emotional upset have resulted from the transfer of 118 children, most of them Negro, to a previously all-white school.

The testimony came Wednesday in a State Supreme Court hearing as 181 children were kept home from School 30 by their parents in protest against the transfer.

It was the third straight day of wholesale absences from School 30, to which the 118 pupils were transferred Monday from School 3.

The hearing, ordered for consideration of a petition by parents for a court order to block the transfer, was scheduled to continue today.

School official contend the pupils from School 3, which has a predominantly Negro enrollment, were transferred to correct overcrowding.

Real Heroes: Those Who Will Listen to Former Smokers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The cigarette addicts who used to get smoke in our eyes now simply get in our hair.

Since they swore off the filthy weed as a result of the present health scare, they have become matchless bores.

Mark Twain pointed out long ago there was no problem in quitting smoking. "I've done it a thousand times," he said.

But the current crop of swearer-offers is making a big production out of it. If you look around your own social circle, you may find the following types of ex-smokers familiar—perhaps only too familiar:

The Crusader — Not content with giving up smoking himself, he wants everyone else to quit, too. "If I had my way," he mutters darkly, "I'd put a torch to every tobacco field in the country."

Secret Backslider — He denounces nicotine in public, but several times a day sneaks out to the office washroom and smokes three cigarettes like crazy. Then he chews a couple of mints so no one can smell tobacco on his breath.

Rationed Abstainer — This cheapskate hasn't quit smoking cigarettes. He has just quit buying them. By the end of the day he has put away three packs—all borrowed. He borrows the matches, too.

Confessor — Like a reformed drunk, this fellow is compelled to brag to one and all about how awful he used to be before he saw the light and changed his ways. "I was a four pack a day man," he says, holding on to your lapel. "But I finally shook it. Haven't had one since 5:33 p.m. yesterday."

Switch Artist—He gave up cigarettes, and took up pipe smoking. "I don't seem to have the hang of it," he moans. "In the last week I've burned holes in two of my best suits."

Substituter — After cigarettes went out of his life, sweets came in. He went from one candy bar a day to six, then went on to malted milks. In a month he gained 15 pounds. He no longer worries about his lungs. "I'm so fat now I can hardly breathe," he complains. "Unless I get this weight off I'll probably get a heart attack. What's a good diet?"

Liar—at the office he thumps his chest and brags, "Don't miss 'em a bit. Never felt better in my life. Should have done it years ago." But at home he snaps at his wife and children, kicks his dog, and if you look closely at his fingernails you will see they are gnawed down to the first knuckle.

Those who give up cigarette smoking aren't the heroes. The real heroes are the rest of us—who have to listen to them.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Mrs. Cornwell Loos of Inwood, L. I. A native Longyear, the former Evelyn Wands of the old village of Shokan, writes local relatives from Winter Park, Fla., where she moved a few years ago from Alburquerque, N. Mex. Mrs. Wands and her husband had been school teachers in Ulster County and they also lived for a time at Hillburn. She and her brother, Thedore Dewitt Wands and their sisters, Bessie and Amy, spent much of their childhood years at the home of their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt C. Davis, in the Sand Hill neighborhood of Shokan.

John Kelly Jr. recently visited his aunt, Mrs. Paul Shaver, Fleischmanns.

Kendall L. Every, local resident who died Jan. 8 had many friends in the twin villages as well as in Kingston and other sections of the county. Mr. Every's home here was adjacent to that of Mrs. Every's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant.

Marie Decker who has been employed in Kingston, recently spent two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Decker, in Arkville.

John Schmidt, Ridge Road, reportedly has aquired 11 acres of woodland along the west side of Ridge Road and opposite his home, from Kaye Winnie. Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt formerly operated a farm in the South Oilve sector.

Having a birthday Jan. 19, is Katherine (Mrs. William J.) Loos of Inwood, L. I. A native of Blauvelt, she also lived at Orangeburg as a girl. Mrs. Loos who has a summer place along the east side of Ridge Road, has three daughters, Josephine, Patricia and Margaret. She is sister-in-law of Mrs. Patrick Kelly, also of Inwood, who with her husband and two daughters have a summer home on part of the one time R. W. Longyear farm, Old State Road.

Bertha Marx, 68, who died Dec. 20 in Fox Hospital, Oneonta, was a native of Andes, Delaware County, and had taught school at that place for 45 years previous to retiring five years ago. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Martin Hyzer, Andes.

Cards have been received from Viva Winnie, former Olive tax collector, who is sojourning in southern California.

Long Time Ago: One of the readers comes up with a copy of the Ulster Democrat, one of three weeklies published in Kingston a century ago. The other two were, The Republican, A. I. Hommel, proprietor, was printed on a handpress and it took half a day to run off the edition. Still another was The Press, published by Daniel Bradbury who at one time ran the tavern in the old village of Shokan. Perhaps the wackiest ad in Bradbury's sheet—and perhaps of all time for that matter—is that of the uptown merchant who signs himself "Boot," and runs, in part, as follows:

"I belong to the Democrat Union, U. S. A., President Pierce, D. D. D. I belong to the Broadway, Frenchman, Indian Chief, sheriff, Village Hall. I'm no Buchanan, no American, no Republican, but a public officer . . . I belong to the mail bags, then to Albany, to drafts, notes—all bills is par, no counterfeits . . . We live in a land where there is plenty to eat, and drink—muslin and calico, boots and shoes. The bills come in sheets, let 'em come; keeps money in circulation. We plow and sow. Their boots come in sheets and pairs. So let 'em come that way; and I belong to selling 'em as cheap as they do. I belong to the navy, what darn fools there are in the world! Some know it and some don't . . . The great cheap and boot store is at 90 North Front, head of Wall, Kingston, N. Y."

Decision About Death

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A basic experience essential to becoming a monk is the recognition that life becomes senseless unless it transcends death. Brother David Steindl-Rast told a University of Michigan audience.

A monk of Mt. Savior monastary, Pine City, N. Y., he said: "By detachment, continence and obedience to a master, the monk strips himself of the goods of which death will deprive all men, especially money, sex, independence, which our society clutches in despair."

The proposed work would include raising bridges on the segment of the barge canal from the Great Lakes to the Hudson River.

Another $1.15 million will be requested for barge canal improvements, he said.

Real Heroes: Those Who Will Listen to Former Smokers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The cigarette addicts who used to get smoke in our eyes now simply get in our hair.

Since they swore off the filthy weed as a result of the present health scare, they have become matchless bores.

Mark Twain pointed out long ago there was no problem in quitting smoking. "I've done it a thousand times," he said.

But the current crop of swearer-offers is making a big production out of it. If you look around your own social circle, you may find the following types of ex-smokers familiar—perhaps only too familiar:

The Crusader — Not content with giving up smoking himself, he wants everyone else to quit, too. "If I had my way," he mutters darkly, "I'd put a torch to every tobacco field in the country."

Secret Backslider — He denounces nicotine in public, but several times a day sneaks out to the office washroom and smokes three cigarettes like crazy. Then he chews a couple of mints so no one can smell tobacco on his breath.

Rationed Abstainer — This cheapskate hasn't quit smoking cigarettes. He has just quit buying them. By the end of the day he has put away three packs—all borrowed. He borrows the matches, too.

Confessor — Like a reformed drunk, this fellow is compelled to brag to one and all about how awful he used to be before he saw the light and changed his ways. "I was a four pack a day man," he says, holding on to your lapel. "But I finally shook it. Haven't had one since 5:33 p.m. yesterday."

Switch Artist—He gave up cigarettes, and took up pipe smoking. "I don't seem to have the hang of it," he moans. "In the last week I've burned holes in two of my best suits."

Substituter — After cigarettes went out of his life, sweets came in. He went from one candy bar a day to six, then went on to malted milks. In a month he gained 15 pounds. Plumadore said the action was prompted by the federal advisory committee's report warning that smoking endangers health.

Business Mirror Reflections

Bid for More Credit Due To Hike Interest Costs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that businessmen have convinced themselves that 1964 is going to be bigger and better they're going to be seeking more credit. And that's likely to mean nigher interest costs.

Anyway that's how many New York bankers see it. And they reason that the government won't object too much unless credit gets too tight for faster economic growth.

Rates Rising Elsewhere

For one thing, basic interest rates have been rising in a number of European countries, always a temptation for idle American funds to go overseas. This Washington doesn't want because it adds to the U.S. deficit in its balance of payments, which last year apparently was somewhere near the 1962 level of $3.5 billion despite all efforts to lower the surplus of outflowing dollars over returning ones.

Better Than Tax

If interest rates go up here, bankers contend, this will hold the funds at home and maybe even attract more from Europe. Bankers argue that an interest rate rise would do this much more effectively than the proposed tax on American purchases from foreigners of foreign securities.

Federal Reserve banks last summer raised their charge for loans to member banks to 3½ per cent from 3 per cent. But short-term loan rates have often been above that of late, making it possible for a bank to borrow from the Fed and lend to others at a profit. The banks' prime rate which they charge large borrowers with top credit ratings has stayed at 4½ per cent since the middle of 1960.

Financial circles are talking again of a possible rise in the Fed's discount rate from the present 3½ per cent, and perhaps soon thereafter a rise in both the short-term rates and the prime rate.

This depends, of course, on Washington's assessment of its foreign and domestic monetary policies, and on the expected rise in demand by American business for more credit.

Trend Many Decide

Bankers seem surer of the latter than of the change in official policies, where even more cross-currents are involved. The trend in other leading financial nations may play a big part in the decision. At the moment the trend is toward higher interest charges, chiefly to curb the threat of further inflation in several European nations.

If 1964 turns out as good as it is billed now, bankers figure that rising personal incomes and consumer demands will team up with business expansion to revive the demand for business credit which has been on the light side for many months.

Rising demand can lead to higher interest charges, and this can spread all along the line to the large and small borrower alike.

Human Rights Unit Sets Poughkeepsie Hearing

The Poughkeepsie public meeting which the State Commission for Human Rights originally scheduled for December 3, has been rescheduled for 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, Jan. 28, at the Jewish Community Center, Poughkeepsie.

The broadened housing jurisdiction of the Commission, under the Metcalf-Baker Amendment which became effective September 1, 1963, will be discussed by Commissioner J. Edward Conway, liaison commissioner for the Hudson Valley area.

The meeting will be one of a series held throughout the state to provide all segments of the housing industry and community leaders with an opportunity to acquaint themselves fully with the provisions of the Law as amended.

3 Rug Executives Killed in Plane Dive

MEMPHIS (AP) — Three young rug industry executives were killed when a twin-engine Comanche dived into a vacant field near thickly populated suburbs south of here Wednesday.

Victims were the pilot, Jerome Kraut, 36, of Northridge, a Los Angeles suburb; Robert L. Fisher, 36, of Los Angeles; and James R. Drohan, 29, of Skokie, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

Cause of the crash hasn't been determined.

The plane was owned by Tac-Trac, Inc., a carpet stripping firm in Los Angeles.

Trial for 'Mercy Killing'

LIMBURG, Germany (AP) — A mastermind of the Nazi "mercy killing" program goes on trial here Feb. 18, accused of murdering 100,000 mental patients and Jews.

Ross heartened those of us who returned to smoking by disclosing yesterday Roswell Park's intention to inaugurate "failure clinics." He gave no details but said they would be for those volunteers who failed in the experiment and still wanted to quit smoking.

Sports Committee To Hear About Smoking, Fitness

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Joint Legislative Committee on Sports and Physical Fitness will conduct a hearing Feb. 4 on the effects of smoking on physical fitness.

The committee chairman, Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore, R - Saranac Lake, said Wednesday the hearing would cover "the effects of smoking on the physical well-being of youth (and) its detrimental effects on the physical fitness of adults and athletes."

Plumadore said the action was prompted by the federal advisory committee's report warning that smoking endangers health.

Business Mirror Reflections

Bid for More Credit Due To Hike Interest Costs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that businessmen have convinced themselves that 1964 is going to be bigger and better they're going to be seeking more credit. And that's likely to mean nigher interest costs.

Anyway that's how many New York bankers see it. And they reason that the government won't object too much unless credit gets too tight for faster economic growth.

Rates Rising Elsewhere

For one thing, basic interest rates have been rising in a number of European countries, always a temptation for idle American funds to go overseas. This Washington doesn't want because it adds to the U.S. deficit in its balance of payments, which last year apparently was somewhere near the 1962 level of $3.5 billion despite all efforts to lower the surplus of outflowing dollars over returning ones.

Better Than Tax

If interest rates go up here, bankers contend, this will hold the funds at home and maybe even attract more from Europe. Bankers argue that an interest rate rise would do this much more effectively than the proposed tax on American purchases from foreigners of foreign securities.

Federal Reserve banks last summer raised their charge for loans to member banks to 3½ per cent from 3 per cent. But short-term loan rates have often been above that of late, making it possible for a bank to borrow from the Fed and lend to others at a profit. The banks' prime rate which they charge large borrowers with top credit ratings has stayed at 4½ per cent since the middle of 1960.

Financial circles are talking again of a possible rise in the Fed's discount rate from the present 3½ per cent, and perhaps soon thereafter a rise in both the short-term rates and the prime rate.

This depends, of course, on Washington's assessment of its foreign and domestic monetary policies, and on the expected rise in demand by American business for more credit.

Trend Many Decide

Bankers seem surer of the latter than of the change in official policies, where even more cross-currents are involved. The trend in other leading financial nations may play a big part in the decision. At the moment the trend is toward higher interest charges, chiefly to curb the threat of further inflation in several European nations.

If 1964 turns out as good as it is billed now, bankers figure that rising personal incomes and consumer demands will team up with business expansion to revive the demand for business credit which has been on the light side for many months.

Rising demand can lead to higher interest charges, and this can spread all along the line to the large and small borrower alike.

Human Rights Unit Sets Poughkeepsie Hearing

The Poughkeepsie public meeting which the State Commission for Human Rights originally scheduled for December 3, has been rescheduled for 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, Jan. 28, at the Jewish Community Center, Poughkeepsie.

The broadened housing jurisdiction of the Commission, under the Metcalf-Baker Amendment which became effective September 1, 1963, will be discussed by Commissioner J. Edward Conway, liaison commissioner for the Hudson Valley area.

The meeting will be one of a series held throughout the state to provide all segments of the housing industry and community leaders with an opportunity to acquaint themselves fully with the provisions of the Law as amended.

3 Rug Executives Killed in Plane Dive

MEMPHIS (AP) — Three young rug industry executives were killed when a twin-engine Comanche dived into a vacant field near thickly populated suburbs south of here Wednesday.

Victims were the pilot, Jerome Kraut, 36, of Northridge, a Los Angeles suburb; Robert L. Fisher, 36, of Los Angeles; and James R. Drohan, 29, of Skokie, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

Cause of the crash hasn't been determined.

The plane was owned by Tac-Trac, Inc., a carpet stripping firm in Los Angeles.

Hoffa Jubilant About Pact for Nation Truckers

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Hoffa's International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the nation's truckers reached agreement on an unprecedented master contract early today affecting more than 400,000 workers, averting a strike for last midnight.

Hoffa said the contract, which he described as the first national labor agreement reached without a major strike, would bring more than 400,000 teamster members and 400 locals into one single bargaining unit.

One of Finest

"This is one of the finest contracts ever negotiated in the United States," Hoffa said at an early morning news conference. "Everything is fine," he said of negotiations with the Trucking Employes, Inc. "All you have to be is patient."

The three-year contract, which expires March 31, 1967, provides for a 28-cent pay increase spread over the contract period. Truckers' salaries will increase 10 cents the first year, 8 cents the second year and 10 cents the third year.

The average industrywide pay for Teamsters' truckers now is about $3.17 per hour.

Must Be Ratified

The contract still must be ratified by the rank and file membership of the Teamsters.

Negotiations became snarled earlier this week when the truck lines' negotiating team, headed by C. G. Zwingle of Oakland, Calif., insisted on a 10-8-8 salary table.

Hoffa said that the wage-fringe benefit package would total 45 cents per hour. Zwingle agreed that Hoffa's estimate was "reasonably close," but did not elaborate.

Welfare Attorney Post Is Abolished By Dutchess Board

Dutchess County's Democratic-controlled Board of Supervisors on Wednesday by a vote of 17 to 13 abolished the job of county welfare attorney, an office created last month by the Republican-controlled board.

Democratic leaders had expressed the opinion that the county attorney, George Whalen a Democrat, and his two assistants, should be able to handle County Welfare Department cases, the same as they did for years under the Republicans.

Serving in the welfare attorney post for about a month was Edward J. Filipowicz, Republican committeeman, who served as an assistant county attorney from 1955 until last Dec. 31.

Not So, Fisher Says of Money Demand on Liz

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher denies he is holding up the divorce sought by his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, by demanding a large financial settlement.

The singer, appearing in Las Vegas, issued this statement Wednesday night through his New York attorney, Louis Nizer:

"Any story that I have asked for a cent of Elizabeth's property is no more true than that she has asked for mine. It is as false as her charge that I 'abandoned' her.

"I do not wish to remain married to her financially any more than any other way."

Miss Taylor filed for divorce earlier this week in Mexico, charging Fisher abandoned her. She is seeking her freedom to marry actor Richard Burton, her constant companion for months.

Baby Beef on Line

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)— About 130 farm children put a year's worth of dreams and hard work on the line today in the 4-H baby beef competition at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The youngsters will lead their pampered Angus, Herefords and Shorthorns before the critical eye of the judges in the emotional climax of the 48th annual show.

The winner will be put up against the open class champion steer for the best of show honors. But win or lose against the adults, the 4-H blue ribbon winprobably will draw another record price for its lucky owner.

Hoffa Jubilant About Pact for Nation Truckers

CHICAGO (AP) — James R. Hoffa's International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the nation's truckers reached agreement on an unprecedented master contract early today affecting more than 400,000 workers, averting a strike for last midnight.

Hoffa said the contract, which he described as the first national labor agreement reached without a major strike, would bring more than 400,000 teamster members and 400 locals into one single bargaining unit.

One of Finest

"This is one of the finest contracts ever negotiated in the United States," Hoffa said at an early morning news conference. "Everything is fine," he said of negotiations with the Trucking Employes, Inc. "All you have to be is patient."

The three-year contract, which expires March 31, 1967, provides for a 28-cent pay increase spread over the contract period. Truckers' salaries will increase 10 cents the first year, 8 cents the second year and 10 cents the third year.

The average industrywide pay for Teamsters' truckers now is about $3.17 per hour.

Must Be Ratified

The contract still must be ratified by the rank and file membership of the Teamsters.

Negotiations became snarled earlier this week when the truck lines' negotiating team, headed by C. G. Zwingle of Oakland, Calif., insisted on a 10-8-8 salary table.

Hoffa said that the wage-fringe benefit package would total 45 cents per hour. Zwingle agreed that Hoffa's estimate was "reasonably close," but did not elaborate.

Welfare Attorney Post Is Abolished By Dutchess Board

Dutchess County's Democratic-controlled Board of Supervisors on Wednesday by a vote of 17 to 13 abolished the job of county welfare attorney, an office created last month by the Republican-controlled board.

Democratic leaders had expressed the opinion that the county attorney, George Whalen a Democrat, and his two assistants, should be able to handle County Welfare Department cases, the same as they did for years under the Republicans.

Serving in the welfare attorney post for about a month was Edward J. Filipowicz, Republican committeeman, who served as an assistant county attorney from 1955 until last Dec. 31.

Named Potentate Of Cyprus Temple

DR. ROBERT. W. GALE

At the annual meeting of Cyprus Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Albany held in Albany Masonic Temple Saturday, Dr. Robert W. Gale, Albany dentist, was elected Potentate for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected were Erwin W. Milstrey Sr., chief rabban; Sewall E. Smith, assistant rabban; Chester A. Hogan, high priest and prophet; Charles E. Fiester, oriental guide; Harold E. Hartman, treasurer; Rollin H. Thomas, recorder.

About the Folks

Mrs. Jennie Miller, a lifelong resident of West Shokan, will celebrate her 76th birthday Saturday, Jan. 18, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mavis Shurter of West Shokan with whom she makes her home. Last year Mrs. Miller observed her 75th birthday with open house.

Not So, Fisher Says of Money Demand on Liz

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher denies he is holding up the divorce sought by his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, by demanding a large financial settlement.

The singer, appearing in Las Vegas, issued this statement Wednesday night through his New York attorney, Louis Nizer:

"Any story that I have asked for a cent of Elizabeth's property is no more true than that she has asked for mine. It is as false as her charge that I 'abandoned' her.

"I do not wish to remain married to her financially any more than any other way."

Baby Beef on Line

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)— About 130 farm children put a year's worth of dreams and hard work on the line today in the 4-H baby beef competition at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The youngsters will lead their pampered Angus, Herefords and Shorthorns before the critical eye of the judges in the emotional climax of the 48th annual show.

The winner will be put up against the open class champion steer for the best of show honors. But win or lose against the adults, the 4-H blue ribbon winprobably will draw another record price for its lucky owner.

Tony Curtis Pushes Anti-Smoke Crusade

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two film colony views of the smoking crisis—

"I can cure anyone of smoking," says Tony Curtis, the Carrie Nation of cigarettes.

Well, almost anyone. He started with himself a year ago—"before it was so fashionable to quit smoking."

How did he do it?

Stopped After 15 Years

"One day I decided I wasn't feeling as good as I should," he recalled. "That was on a Sunday. On Monday morning I stopped smoking. I kept telling myself: 'Look, you've gone six hours without a cigarette after 15 years of smoking. Don't you feel good?'

"And I did feel good. By Monday night I was so elated that I wouldn't think of smoking a cigarette. A pipe or a cigar now and then, Yes. But I never think about cigarettes. I never ask people not to smoke in front of me. I never worry about the smell of the smoke getting to me. I'm through, finished."

He doesn't just let it lie there. He has become a zealot to the cause, turning the "Sex and the Single Girl" set into daily meetings of smokers anonymous.

"So far I've got about 12 people on the set to quit entirely—my stand-in, a prop man, an electrician, two girl stand-ins, etc.," he reported gleefully.

The Curtis method?

Just Needs 20 Minutes

"Twenty minutes is all I need. I give them 20 minutes of talk that is a combination of persuasion, hypnosis and plain old-fashioned bull."

He follows the initial treatment with daily consultations, progress reports and back-pattings and claimed that none of his patients have backslid.

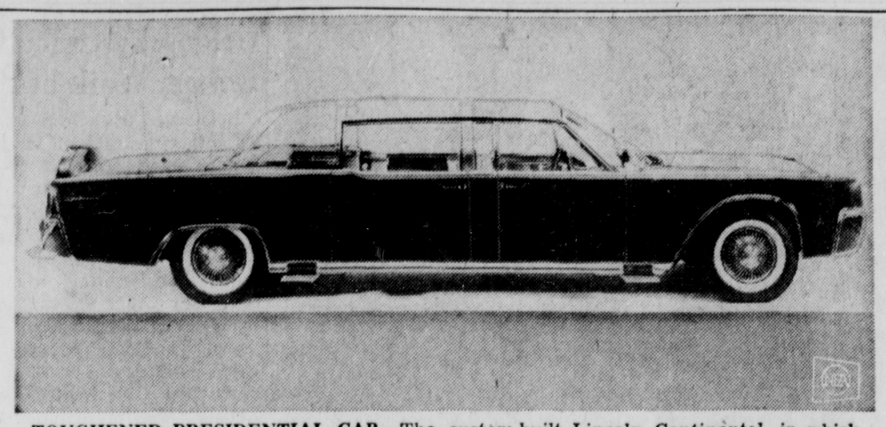

Meanwhile, in another part of the same movie lot, Bette Davis was smoking cigarettes at her usual clip—roughly one every seven minutes.

"The government's report is not exactly new," said the actress, who is making "Where Love Has Gone," "But it does put the facts in official form, and I think it was a very courageous and worthy thing to do.

"Me give up smoking? No, I tried it twice in my life, both time for a month, and it was miserable. For one thing, smoking gives me pleasure. For another, I am not a deep inhaler.

"And I've been smoking so long that I'd probably die sooner by giving it up than I would by continuing."

So saying, she lit up another.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you sing, dance, tell jokes or walk a slack wire? Are you a riot at parties? Do your friends all tell you that you should be on television?

This then may be your big chance. CBS announced Wednesday that it would soon resume regular auditions for variety-show talent.

The auditions were stopped five or six years back, but from them emerged several bright stars, including Carol Burnett, Don Knotts and George Gobel.

Vice President Michael Dann, announcing the project, said the auditions would be held in New York and attended by producers of all the network variety shows made in Hollywood and the East.

NBC, after two postponements now plans to broadcast two related "White Paper" programs about the Cuban situation on Feb. 4 and Feb. 9. The repeated shifts in the scheduling documentary specials—one on the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion and the second on the missile crisis — were caused by the death of President Kennedy. The administration policy during the period is subjected to pro and con analysis.

While there has been considerable speculation about whether "Bonanza's" Adam would wind up marrying a comely widow woman, this is a highly unlikely turn of events. The romance was written into the NBC hit as a device to write the character out of the series at a time when co-star Pernell Roberts was unhappy with his lot.

At the time they were planning to bring in another regular character who would play Ben Cartwright's younger brother.

Now Roberts is going to stay and the "younger brother" has become a cousin — and will turn up in only a few episodes. And the romance will be but a passing fancy.

Wanda Landowska (1877-1959), Polish pianist and harpsichord player, was the first front-rank pianist who recognized the possibilities of the harpsichord in the concert hall. Her vivid renderings of Bach and Handel on that instrument were a revelation to audiences and an inspiration to other musicians.

Paltz College Has Dutch Exhibition; Posters, Designs

An exhibition of contemporary Dutch posters and typographical designs opened this week at the State University College, New Paltz, according to Dr. Peter J. Bohan, Director of the Art Gallery.

Located on the first floor of the new Fine Arts Building, the display will remain until January 27, and the general public is invited to view it at any time.

According to Dr. Bohan, the exhibition reflects the surge of experimentation in graphic design in the years immediately following the First World War, whereby accepted classical standards were supplemented by new forms produced by revolutionary art movements. The influence of Dada art, Expressionism, and Die Stijl group in the Netherlands, he said, is evident in the unconventional treatment of composition, lettering and color in posters and the printed page.

Pioneering designers such as Piet Zwart and W. Sandberg, as well as a number of important young artists, are represented by the 66 works on display. The exhibition was prepared under the auspices of the Ministry of Culture of the Netherlands and is circulated by the American Federation of Arts.

COMING TO KINGSTON — Fanya Franck, (l-r) Robert Harris, Colgate, Salsbury, Lois Kibbee, and Robert Donley in the New York Drama Critics' Prize Play "A Man for All Seasons" by Robert Bolt. Produced by National Performing Arts Inc., in arrangement with Robert Whitehead, Roger L. Stevens and H. M. Tennent, Ltd. Staging and design by Paul Morrison. The play will be staged at Community Theatre on Monday, March 2 with curtain at 8:30 p. m.

'Man For All Seasons' Opens Here March 2; Tickets Available From Newspaper Guild

"A Man for All Seasons," Robert Bolt's powerful dramatic play which has been elaborately praised by critics on three continents, winner of the New York Critics' Circle Award and five Antoinette Perry (Tony) Awards as The Best Foreign Play, will be brought to Kingston on Monday, March 2 at the Community Theatre.

The performance will be sponsored by the American Newspaper Guild, Kingston Unit. Arrangements have been completed with Dick Weaver, producer.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, president of the Kingston Newspaper Guild said today: " . . . members of the Kingston Newspaper Guild feel privileged indeed to be able to present this masterpiece. This play has enjoyed a two year run on Broadway and was just recently rescheduled for another run. It is written and performed as colorful, humorous, meaningful theatre in the grand and universal style."

Mrs. Narel also said that choice orchestra seats are now available from members of the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

Top English Actor

Robert Harris, distinguished English actor, who, incidentally, will be making his local debut here, will be seen in the role of Sir Thomas More. Also starring in the play are Robert Donley as The Duke of Norfolk, Dick O'Neill as The Common Man, and Jeff Morrow has the coveted role of Thomas Cromwell.

Others who have important roles are Paul Milikin, Lois Kibbee, Richard Branda, Colgate Salsbury, John Scanlan, Vanya Franck, Mercer McLeod, Jack Gianino, Amelia Romano and Bernard Hiatt.

Based On History

"A Man for All Seasons" is the story of the famous Chancellor of England, Sir Thomas More, who stood up to King Henry VIII. He refused to condone his King's disdain for vows — to marriage and church. It is the story of a man's passionate conviction that the world may take from him everything, but he must remain faithful to his conscience even to death.

"A Man for All Seasons" was first performed on July 1, 1960 in London. It opened in New York at the ANTA Theatre on November 22, 1961.

Prior to that time, Sir Thomas More was known to some as a martyr and saint, to others as a lawyer-statesman, and to most as the author of "Utopia."

The profound effect of this modern play on audiences in London and New York was something the author could have hoped for, but no one could have predicted. The exciting struggle of wits between one who represents morality and conscience and the other, lust and promiscuity, brought audiences of both theatre capitols to their feet cheering.

Prime orchestrra seats for this top rate production are now available from members of the Kingston Newspaper Guild. Steering activities is the Guild's Committee On the Arts which is composed of Mrs. Narel, Miss Joan Woinoski, member of the Freeman staff in the uptown office; Mrs. Jean F. Dolan, member of the editorial staff in the main office; Robert Saehlof and Henry Eighmey, Freeman advertising salesmen.

Areas covered by the Guild at-large include the members:

WOODSTOCK — Charles J. Tiano, Freeman Sports Editor, and Charles Douglas, member of the editorial staff;

LAKE KATRINE — Charles M. McCarthy, member of the editorial staff;

SAUGERTIES — Albert J. Cawein, member of the editorial staff and John W. Davis, display advertising;

SUNSET PARK — Irwin J. Thomas, assistant city editor;

TILLSON — Mrs. Jean F. Dolan, member of the editorial staff;

POUGHKEEPSIE and HYDE PARK — Edward Palladino, assistant sports editor;

KINGSTON AREA — Walter Clark, editorial member, Henry Eighmey, Robert Saehlof, Rose Costello, Joan Huber, Rose Bruno, Agnes Campbell, Sherwood Lasher, Craig Plough, Patricia Brady, Elaine Rodden, John Schrader, Chester Beesmer, Walter Brandt and Ward B. Ingalsbe;

CONNELLY and PORT EWEN — Virgina Reis and Jessie Wolfersteig;

STONE RIDGE — Milton Wagenfohr;

BINNEWATER — Burt Beesmer.

Those making early reservations with the Guild will receive their tickets in next week's mail.

Proceeds derived from the sale of tickets will enable the Kingston Newspaper Guild, a tax exempt organization, to continue its Children's Vacation Fund and Scholarship Fund.

Goldovsky Grand Opera Theatre to Present Rossini Work at Paltz College Jan. 23-24

Acknowledged by leading musical authorities through 148 years is "the finest flower of the old Italian musical comedy," Rossini's riotous opera "The Barber of Seville" will be brought to the State University College, New Paltz, in its entirety when the Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater takes over the College Auditorium here on Thursday and Friday, January 23 and 24. This production is the Winter Quarter Artists Series presentation.

Under the artistic and stage direction of Boris Goldovsky himself—known to millions as "Mr. Opera" for his trenchant intermission commentaries on the weekly Saturday matinee broadcasts from the Metropolitan Opera House—"The "Barber of Seville" will be performed here in English.

The January 23 and 24 local presentation of the bubbling operatic farce will employ a company of 50—including principal singers, full chorus and orchestra—and will be fully staged, with the atmosphere of 18th century Seville colorfully recreated in newly designed sets by Aristides Gazetas, utilizing a specially designed acoustical ceiling.

The performance will be conducted by Edward Alley, one of the outstanding graduates of The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater's Leadership Training Program, who scored a cross-country success conducting this year's Goldovsky tour of Puccini's "Tosca."

The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater presenting "The Barber of Seville" here is actually the national touring unit of the Goldovsky Opera Institute, founded by Mr. Goldovsky in Boston in 1946 and widely acclaimed as "a refreshing new breath of life in the operatic world" for its pioneering of major new techniques in operatic production.

Dedicated to proving that the lyric masterpieces of Mozart, Verdi, Puccini and Rossini, among others, can be valid and absorbing theater rather than mere displays of vocal pyrotechnics, the Company has thus far produced 35 operas in its home city and its 10 previous national tours have offered more than 400 performances of 9 operas in the leading cities of more than 40 states.

Concerning the vehicle for the current Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater tour, Beethoven, meeting Rossini 6 years after the "Barber of Seville" premiere, said, "I congratulate you! Your excellent opera buffa will be played as long as Italian opera exists!" The 19th century author Stendhal applied superlative adjectives to its effervescent music when he wrote: "What fire! What lightness! What wit!" In more recent times, the New York Herald Tribune critic Paul Henry Lang has described "The Barber of Seville" as "fun and nothing but fun."

Composing over 38 operas during the years before his self-imposed retirement at the age of 38, Rossini never again equalled the spontaneity and sparkle of his "Barber," which he dashed off in 13 days and for which he was paid 1200 francs, plus "a nut-colored coat with gold buttons."

Tickets may be obtained at the College Bookstore.

Italian Style Shows Features Handwoven Fabrics

ROME (AP)—Fashion shows in Rome ran today from lingerie to furs.

On this second day of Italian openings for spring and summer, the collections of specialists—accessory firms and non-couture houses, such as knitwear designers—had the center of the stage.

They showed collectively, and a new Italian knitwear producer, Mariselaine, walked off with the honors.

The Mariselaine debut began with a spectacular bat-winged cotton jersey playsuit in chevroned Roman stripes. It ended on the same high note, with a lacy boucle silk knit wedding dress.

The long-sleeved gown was simply cut: low at the bosom and flaring out gently to a brief train. It was worn with an elaborate "nun's" coif of the same knit fabric.

Miranda is a boutique specializing in handwoven fabrics. Brilliant, soft mohairs and heavy linenes were the basis for her show.

Miranda showed many slim redingote and sleeveless shift costumes. When the dress was in contrast coat collars were open almost to the waist to show the color.

Though not quite in season with everything else this morning, Assunta's furs had more immediate meaning for winter-wrapped buyers and journalists.

Very special in a show that was all beautiful was a reversible jacket in black mink and Gobelin tapestry. A wrapped black and white pony coat was bordered all round with black sable, and a gray broadtail redingote had gray crystal-bead embroidery on its wide, round collar.

URSULA LIBRARY BENEFIT PLANNED—Members of the committee for the "Hearts and Flowers" dance given annually for the benefit of the St. Ursula School Library acquaint themselves with the facilities available to students at the Academy. This year's dance will be given on Saturday, Jan. 25 at the Academy, 26 Grove Street, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. with music by Wendell Scherer and his Orchestra. Italian Style Shows Features Handwoven Fabrics

ROME (AP)—Fashion shows in Rome ran today from lingerie to furs.

On this second day of Italian openings for spring and summer, the collections of specialists—accessory firms and non-couture houses, such as knitwear designers—had the center of the stage.

They showed collectively, and a new Italian knitwear producer, Mariselaine, walked off with the honors.

The Mariselaine debut began with a spectacular bat-winged cotton jersey playsuit in chevroned Roman stripes. It ended on the same high note, with a lacy boucle silk knit wedding dress.

The long-sleeved gown was simply cut: low at the bosom and flaring out gently to a brief train. It was worn with an elaborate "nun's" coif of the same knit fabric.

Miranda is a boutique specializing in handwoven fabrics. Brilliant, soft mohairs and heavy linenes were the basis for her show.

Miranda showed many slim redingote and sleeveless shift costumes. When the dress was in contrast coat collars were open almost to the waist to show the color.

Though not quite in season with everything else this morning, Assunta's furs had more immediate meaning for winter-wrapped buyers and journalists.

Very special in a show that was all beautiful was a reversible jacket in black mink and Gobelin tapestry. A wrapped black and white pony coat was bordered all round with black sable, and a gray broadtail redingote had gray crystal-bead embroidery on its wide, round collar.

SHARING CHAMPAGNE WITH TABLE COMPANIONS

Q: My husband and I have just returned home from a cruise. We were assigned to a table on board ship with another couple who were complete strangers to us and we sat with them throughout the cruise. We found them very congenial table companions. On the last night out my husband ordered a bottle of champagne with dinner. He did not offer any of it to the other couple, which I thought was very impolite.

When I brought this to his attention later, he said it was not at all necessary to do so as they were not our guests. Even so, I think it was impolite to sit there drinking champagne and not offering them some of it. What is your opinion on this?

A: Having sat with this couple throughout the cruise and enjoyed their company at table, it was very impolite not to offer them some of your champagne. It is very likely they would have refused, but your husband should have at least made the offer.

The Salutation of a Letter

Q: I have just taken a job as secretary. My employer, who is a woman, often begins her letters, "My dear So and So." I think this is much too personal for business correspondence and that the salutation should be "Dear So and So." I always thought the "My" was reserved for personal friends. Am I right about this?

A: I'm sorry, to say you are not right. Strange as it may seem, "My dear So and So" is actually more formal than "Dear So and So."

Eating Hot Soup

Q: When eating hot soup, is it considered bad table manners to blow on the first few spoonfuls before putting it into the mouth?

A: Blowing gently on the first few spoonfuls of hot soup is permissible.

Rose McDonough Is Installed as Head Of St. Mary's Group

New officers of St. Mary's Altar-Rosary Society were installed on Monday, Jan. 6. They are Rose McDonough, president; Dorothy Fitzgerald, vice president; Lena Bouchard, secretary; and Sue Benicase, treasurer.

It was announced that all past presidents will receive a past president's pin at the February 3 meeting. The occasion will also mark the 40th anniversary of the Society.

Proceeds from a special project to be held in conjunction with the annual Valentine dinner, will enable the Society to purchase vestments for St. Mary's Church in memory of the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea. Reservations for the dinner may be made by contacting Mary Morello.

At the Christmas party, the Rev. James Cunningham, moderator, paid tribute to the outgoing officers and presented Rita Brazee, outgoing president, with a gift.

Arrangements for the social held after the meeting were directed by chairman Mary Keating, Alica Zates, Patty Bruck and Millie Furnari.

Also assisting were Joseph Stenson, William Whitney and Edward Conger, members of the Holy Name Society.

We found them very congenial table companions. On the last night out my husband ordered a bottle of champagne with dinner. He did not offer any of it to the other couple, which I thought was very impolite.

When I brought this to his attention later, he said it was not at all necessary to do so as they were not our guests. Even so, I think it was impolite to sit there drinking champagne and not offering them some of it. What is your opinion on this?

A: Having sat with this couple throughout the cruise and enjoyed their company at table, it was very impolite not to offer them some of your champagne. It is very likely they would have refused, but your husband should have at least made the offer.

The Salutation of a Letter

Q: I have just taken a job as secretary. My employer, who is a woman, often begins her letters, "My dear So and So." I think this is much too personal for business correspondence and that the salutation should be "Dear So and So." I always thought the "My" was reserved for personal friends. Am I right about this?

A: I'm sorry, to say you are not right. Strange as it may seem, "My dear So and So" is actually more formal than "Dear So and So."

Eating Hot Soup

Q: When eating hot soup, is it considered bad table manners to blow on the first few spoonfuls before putting it into the mouth?

A: Blowing gently on the first few spoonfuls of hot soup is permissible.

Among the proposed new display features will be sports, travel trailers, mobil homes and many more pleasure craft.

Members and interested advertisers may contact Chairman Reynolds at the armory.

Superintendents Ask That Green Be Reappointed

Reappointment of Roland H. Green as Ulster County superintendent of highways was requested in a resolution unanimously approved at a recent meeting of Ulster County Association of Town Superintendents of Highways.

The resolution was forwarded to Ulster County Board of Supervisors and directed to Robert A. Snyder, clerk.

Green's term of appointment expired and at the organizational meeting of the Board of Supervisors January 7, the post was left vacant for future appointment.

The resolution states that the association in business meetings and as individuals has received unstintingly of his (Green's) professional advice and that his 26 years of experience with highway department affairs has greatly increased the efficiency of the Town Superintendents of this county. The resolution continues, "We do feel that this experience so passed along to us is perhaps one of the greatest means of the public receiving, the most value out of the highway tax dollar."

Two Hurt as Car Hits Utility Pole

Two persons were injured at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday when their car went out of control and crashed into a utility pole off Route 9W about two miles north of the Saugerties village line.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston sub-station, reported the car was driven by Catherine McKenna, 36, of Grahamsville, in a southerly direction when she lost control and the vehicle hit a pole on the right side of the highway.

The driver received head injuries, troopers said. John McKenna, 40, a passenger, sustained lacerations of the left hand. Both were treated at Benedictine Hospital.

'67 Target for Site

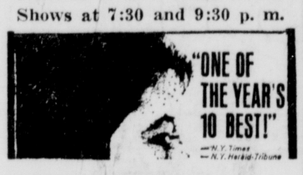

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Scranton administration has set a late 1966 or early 1967 as the target date for completion of a new $17 million State Office Building.

The General State Authority approved construction of the 13-story building Wednesday.

Richard Hornbeck, secretary of property and supplies, said later that he hoped construction might get underway late this year. If so, the building could be finished by 1967 at the latest, he said.

An hour later the same voice, again in earnest, pleading tones:

Voice—Arthur dear!

Young Man—Well, what do you want? Anything wrong in the house?

Voice—No, Arthur dear, but you have been wheeling Clara's doll all afternoon. Isn't it time for the baby to have a turn?

When she could not find it in the aisle, she cautiously pulled aside the curtains of the lower berth.

To her surprise, she found the occupant of the berth, a middle-aged man, wide awake and staring at her. The girl stammered,

Girl—I-I-I'm sorry, but I was looking for my mule.

Without saying a word, the occupant of the berth, grinned, raised both hands to the side of his head, tilted the fingers and brayed seductively.

An hour later the same voice, again in earnest, pleading tones:

Voice—Arthur dear!

Young Man—Well, what do you want? Anything wrong in the house?

Voice—No, Arthur dear, but you have been wheeling Clara's doll all afternoon. Isn't it time for the baby to have a turn?

Boosts Cure Rates Up to 80 PC

Early Detection, Surgery Vital for Breast Cancer

Strong words of hope for women with breast cancer and a reaffirmation of surgery as the best treatment for the disease were given today by the president of the New York State Division of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Glenn H. Leak said that "in early cases, where the woman finds a lump, goes promptly to a physician and gets treatment, one can expect cure rates up to 80 per cent."

Hope Is Policy

He emphasized the importance of early detection, saying that "the more metatases (spreading) even to the local glands, the less is the cure rate. It behooves one to get to the doctor before this occurs."

Dr. Leak made his remarks with reference to a discouraging report on breast cancer surgery made by Dr. Edward F. Lewison, chief of the Johns Hopkins Hospital Breast Clinic, Baltimore, Md.

"The American Cancer Society's policy for many years," Dr. Leak said, "has been to give a measure of hope to victims of cancer, not to discourage them, because statistics show that if breast cancer is detected early, we are curing more every day.

"Failures in treating breast cancer are very often due to negligence and delay in seeking medical advise. But these cases are lumped in all the statistics on breast cancer."

Dr. Leak said that "at the last National Cancer Conference (which is attended by cancer authorities from all over the world) the consensus, based on statistics, showed that radical mastectomy (surgery) produced the most survivals in breast cancer."

He added "there even is evidence that radical mastectomy in the elderly—women over 70—is adding survivals in this group that we didn't have previously, using lesser procedures."

Fear Worst Aspect

Dr. Leak continued: "The worst thing you can do for a woman with a lump in the breast, is to spread fear. If one does this to women, they will tend not to be examined and treated because of their fear.

"The American Cancer Society has as its symbol the Sword of Hope because there is hope. Women having breast cancer can live comfortably for many years with combined forms of therapy.

"That's why the American Cancer Society has had a policy of public and professional education for many years, and we are seeing the results of it. We are seeing more early lesions."

Dr. Leak urged that all women see the American Cancer Society film, "Breast Self-Examination", examine themselves regularly as instructed and be examined by a physician at least once a year.

"These are the women who can be cured."

Many bridge players feel the same way about a five-card suit. It's there and must be bid.

When your five-card suit is spades it really takes a lot of fortitude, or maybe just some good old horse-sense, to keep from mentioning it and North did not have this restraint.

He responded one spade to his partner's opening heart.

South rebid to two hearts and North had bid himself right into a quandary. He did have pretty good heart support but at this point a heart raise would almost surely lead to a game contract and North only held eight high card points. Finally, North decided to pass.

South had no trouble making four hearts. He won the diamond opening and played a heart. West ducked and dummy's queen held the trick. Then South led three ronuds of clubs in order to ruff his club loser. He could have played a second round of trumps, but he did not know that they were divided 2-2 and it was far safer to make the club play first.

South really could not afford a stronger rebid than two hearts. The spade response had weakened his hand. A simple raise to two hearts would have improved the South hand to the extent that he could have jumped right to game.

Liberty Captures 56-52 DUSO Decision From Kingston

Visitors Tally 13 Straight in Final Quarter

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Liberty Central poured 13 straight points through the hoop in the first four minutes of final quarter to come from behind and nip Kingston, 56-52, in a DUSO thriller before a crowd of less than 300 last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

The Indians from Sullivan County trailed 52-48, as the last session started. Within that four minute stretch, the visitors moved ahead for keeps. A combination of a full court press and some cold shooting on the part of the home club enabled Liberty to post its first circuit decision.

A long jump shot by Larry Armstead as the buzzer sounded ending the third period shot the KHS cagers to a 43-38 margin. They trailed by three points, 27-24, at halftime and Armstead led them on the comeback trail with four buckets in the third stanza.

Tied at 6:40

High scoring Jim Tanous and John Elliott started the final eight minutes with deuces and then Jeff Grund's foul shot with 6:40 to play knotted the score.

Grund came back with a lay-up after swiping a pass at mid-court. Bob Dibble tapped in a rebound, Tanous converted a free throw and hit from outside and Grund canned another charity toss. The scoreboard now read 51-43, in favor of Liberty and half the quarter had been played.

Mills Breaks Famine

Len Mills finally put his club on the board with a long jumper and Chip Ennis followed with two free throws, slicing the lead to four points, 51-47, with 2:20 to play.

The Indians weren't to be denied. Grund's foul made it 52-47. Big Jim Plunket, who was outstanding all evening long for Coach John Gilligan's cagers, made a pair of foul tosses and it was still a game, 52-49, with 1:45 remaining.

Ennis converted one of two chances at the foul line to make it, 52-50, but the Indians had the ball and there were only 59 seconds left.

Shaved to One Point

Tanous was fouled with 43 seconds to go and he made one of his attempts. A layup by Plunket with 35 seconds left made it a nail biter, 53-52. However, the locals had to foul in an attempt to get the ball. Tanous made a pair and Elliott one to widen the gap.

Both sides pulled ahead in the first half but the Indians put on a late spurt which carried them into their three point margin at the interim.

With ace Larry Marcus on the sidelines because of an injury, the Maroon cagers were shorthanded. Reserve Brian Bach was bedded with the flu.

Plunket rimmed 17 points and pulled down 18 rebounds to pace Kingston. Steady Armstead countered with 13. Tanous sank 18 and Grund 13 for the Indians, who scored their second straight victory at the Field House.

Kingston is now 2-2 in league play and will travel to Newburgh for a Friday meeting with the league leading Goldbacks.

Beacon Ski Jump

Arnold Berge, former ski jumping champion, has invited all members of the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club and the general public to a ski jumping tournament sponsored by the Mount Beacon Ski Club, Beacon, Saturday at 2 p. m.

RVC Tops Tri Valley By 56-46

Rondout Valley Central staged a strong second half to defeat Tri-Valley Central of Grahamsville, 56-46, Wednesday night on the Rondout boards. It was the 7th win in 10 starts for Coach Chick Meehan's Golden Ganders.

Cliff Schoonmaker, who led both teams with 24 points, sparked the second half comeback after the Ganders found themselves trailing their hosts, 29-19 at the half. Rondout outscored the visitors 37-17 after intermission.

Schoonmaker potted 10 baskets and four free throws. Dick Dickerman led Tri-Valley with 18.

Rondout travels to Wallkill Friday night for a showdown battle for UCAL supremacy.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Got a couple of bucks, a free Saturday and no place to go? We suggest a trip to West Point where a two dollar bill (yes, they're still on the market)) will give you an afternoon of entertainment unmatched anyplace within miles.

Of course, we are talking mostly about the Army basketball team, which plays its games at the huge field house overlooking the Hudson River.

But, if it's not basketball you're interested in but track, lacrosse, squash, pistol, or ice hockey, West Point is the place to go. In fact, on a given Saturday, you might get to see three or four of your favorite sports.

YOUNG COACH, HUSTLING CLUB

We caught our first glimpse of the 1963-64 Cadet cage team last Saturday against Syracuse and the results were very satisfying.

Not only did Army win a pulsating, 69-68, decision, but the Cadets impressed us as a solid, well-coached club, one that might receive another bid from the NIT selection committee.

Coaching this club, which has every starter back next season, is 26-year-old Taylor (Tates) Locke, who was promoted from the plebe coaching ranks at the conclusion of last season.

At first glance, you might imagine Locke to be a Cadet himself. He wears his blondish hair on the short side, is built like he were going through daily drills at the historic military school and jumps up and down like a cheerleader.

UNBEATEN PLEBE TEAM

In fact, Silliman is almost a sure-bet to make many All-American teams before the end of his junior year. He's a 6-6, 19-year-old cager from Louisville, Kentucky. For his size, Mike is very good at dribbling, shooting, rebounding and playing defense.

Syracuse, which had lost by only two points the previous night to rugged LaSalle, thought so much of Silliman that coach Fred Lewis had his boys play a zone defense but defensed Silliman one-on-one.

The Cadets, much to the delight of the more than 3,600 in attendance, played exceptionally well in the first half and went off the floor with a commanding, 37-27, lead. Silliman not only scored but he rebounded and fed his teammates to set up other baskets.

With 9:30 left, Army still had that 10 point margin, 56-46. It had been a 16 point lead only minutes earlier but the visitors started to untrack themselves.

Though Syracuse finally lost by only one point, Army never relinquished the lead in the second half. Those who watched Locke operate, might have patterned him after a striptease in a night club.

JACKET OFF, TIE UNKNOTTED

The energetic coach started the game with a nifty suit, completely on. By the end of the nail biter, he had the jacket on the bench and his necktie unknotted.

After every Cadet basket, Tate would jump up with a solid cheer. When Syracuse scored or when the home side threw a pass away or missed an easy shot, the coach would just bury his face in the palms of his hands.

Twice he disagreed with a call by the officials. The first time, he kicked the bench so hard it wouldn't have surprised us if he broke his toe. The second time, a white towel went flying into the air and a whistle went off in the officials mouth, signifying a technical foul on Locke.

A TOUGH SCHEDULE

Army is flying high with eight victories in 10 starts. Seton Hall, a top Eastern independent, is at the Field House this Saturday at 8 o'clock. Before the season is concluded, Fordham, NYU, Rutgers, St. John's, Penn State and Navy will have made an appearance at the Cadet gym.

With Locke at the helm, basketball fortunes at West Point are definitely on the rise. The home schedule makes the football home slate look pale by comparison.

If you like your basketball big league college style, take a drive to West Point. From Kingston, take the Thruway to Newburgh and then go via Route 9W. The price is right and the basketball is good, exciting and colorful. Locke makes sure of that.

If the distaff buffs are interested, they will not only see a good game but can catch a glimpse of more than 1,000 Cadets, smartly dressed in the uniform of the school.

The 50 Club got a 36-point barrage from Wally Lukaszewski to drub Hudson Cement, 93 to 55, last night and extend its unbeaten YMCA "B" League winning streak to five straight.

Hub Delicatessen, which has won all of its four games to date, was idle. In the other "B" contest, Schaller's Texaco rallied to nip Mid-City Lanes for its 4th win in five starts.

Bags 16 Baskets

Lukaszewski, a hot hand in recent outings, bagged 16 fields and four free throws for his 36 cluster. Ricky Broberg assisted with 20. Jim Uhl's 15 points led Hudson Cement, which trailed 41-19 at the half.

With Bill Boice doing heavy duty, Mid-City Lanes led Schaller's 26-23 at halftime but slowly but relentlessly bowed to Schaller pressure after the recess. Boice emerged as high scorer with 25 points. Rich Nagele dunked 19 for the winners.

Predict Record Score in Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's National Pro-golfing's most unpredictable events—opened today with conditions ripe for a tournament record score.

A field of 174 pros teed off in the $60,000 competition. Each was paired with an amateur in the concurrent best-ball pro-am battle.

Predictions of good weather through at least Saturday heightened chances that Billy Casper's tournament record of 277 might fall. A field including most of golf's top names further increased the record possibility.

Al Geiberger, among the hottest professionals in late 1963 and early 1964, predicted it will take under 280 to win if the weather holds good.

The field was split in thirds—one group each at Cypress Point, Pebble Beach and the Monterey Peninsula courses. All are par-72 layouts dotted with many traps, sand dunes and shot-wasting tangles of rough.

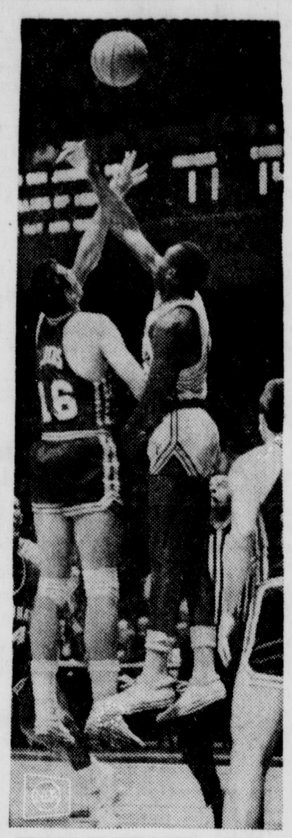

285 Won in 1963

Despite good weather last year, Casper's winning score was only 285. He set his record in 1958 and only once since then has the winning total dipped below 282.

Much attention was focussed on the 1964 debut of Jack Nicklaus, 1963 PGA and Masters king who delayed his start to get a rest. Arnold Palmer was trying to erase memories of the 1963 Crosby when he played one stretch of seven holes seven-over-par and finally was disqualified for erroneously playing a provisional ball after rapping a tee shot into a tide pool.

Gary Player is the only member of golf's Big Three not on hand. He stayed in South Africa for the arrival of his fourth child. Art Wall and Paul Harney, winners of 1964's other tournaments and 1963 Open champion Julius Boros also drew attention.

The field will rotate around the three courses for the first three rounds. The 50 low pro-am teams and pros in money competition play Sunday's final round at Pebble Beach before a national television audience.

Marlboro Routs VC

Marlboro Central enjoyed a big first half lead and beat Valley Central, 66-48, for its third basketball victory of the season, Wednesday at Marlboro.

Rich Aurigemma was top man with 23 points and two others hit in double figures, as Marlboro winged to a 40-22 half time lead. Vin Caserto added 18 and Henry Bell hit 12.

Charles Delmonico was the whole show for Valley Central with 22 points.

Marlboro's Jayvees nipped Valley Central in the prelim, 47-46. Rich Faulk hit 210 and Dave Schishazy 10 for the winners. Guy Bartell led VC with 14.

Marlboro plays at Onteora Central Friday night.

Fourth Loss to Date

Cincinnati's Regime Is Drawing to Close

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The end of an era seems at hand for Cincinnati in college basketball.

For six straight years, starting with the advent of Oscar Robertson, "the Big O," the Bearcats have swept all before them in the tough Missouri Valley Conference and last March just missed an unprecedented third straight national championship by losing in overtime to Chicago Loyola.

Robertson graduated after the 1960 season and Coach George Smith moved up to director of athletics. But the triumphant parade continued under new Coach Ed Jucker whose teams won a fantastic 82 of 89 games the last three years. Included were winning streaks of 27 and 37 straight.

Now, however, the Bearcats already have lost four games, the most in five years, and the hardest part of their MVC schedule still is ahead. UC still is dangerous and eighth-ranked nationally with nine wins against major opposition, but the Bearcats can't afford any more slips.

The Bradley Braves administered UC's fourth defeat Wednesday night, 87-77 and in the process ended the 'Cats winning streak of 41 on their home court. In fact it was the first MVC game the Bearcats have lost in the fieldhouse.

Strawder Hits 33

Joe Strawder, with 33 points, and Levern Tart, with 24, broke the game wide open for Bradley in the second half. All-America Ron Bonham threw in 25 for Cincinnati, but missed his last seven shots from the field.

The fifth-ranked unbeaten Davidson Wildcats, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Wednesday, came through with their 14th straight triumph, a weird 52-49 decision over Richmond.

The Wildcats, ahead 48-45, didn't shoot from the field for the last 13 minutes of play as they went into a deep freeze. Their last four points came on free throws, the last after the final whistle.

Hardin Simmons registered the upset of the night by downing Oklahoma City 87-74 behind Nate Madkins' 28 points. Bud Koper, Oklahoma City star, tossed in 23 before he suffered a cut over his eye late in the game.

Bill Cunningham's 27 points and good defensive work by Bryan McSweeney on Larry Lakins sparked North Carolina to a 79-71 victory over N.C. State while West Virginia and Xavier of Ohio both exploded in the second half to defeat Penn State 84-63 and Louisville 80-79, respectively.

College Five In Exhibition

Because of a mixup in scheduling, the Ulster Community College Senators' trip to Rockland County last night was reduced to the status of an informal contest. The hosts won it, 83-70.

When Ulster Community arrived "unscheduled" according to Rockland, a game was hurriedly thrown together, but some of the Rockland big guns were missing. Bill Pendleton's 26 points made the trip worthwhile for the Senators.

Coach Tom Bernardini's cagers play at Oneonta State Jayvees Friday. The next home game is Jan. 27 against State University (New Paltz) Jayvees.

KHS Jayvees Score, 38-24

Scoring 18 points in the final session, the Kingston High jayvee team cruised to a 38-24 victory over Liberty last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

Coach Mike Rienzo's hoopsters notched their fifth win in seven outings after leading by only a point, 12-11, at the half.

Liberty Captures 56-52 DUSO Decision From Kingston

Visitors Tally 13 Straight in Final Quarter

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Liberty Central poured 13 straight points through the hoop in the first four minutes of final quarter to come from behind and nip Kingston, 56-52, in a DUSO thriller before a crowd of less than 300 last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

The Indians from Sullivan County trailed 52-48, as the last session started. Within that four minute stretch, the visitors moved ahead for keeps. A combination of a full court press and some cold shooting on the part of the home club enabled Liberty to post its first circuit decision.

A long jump shot by Larry Armstead as the buzzer sounded ending the third period shot the KHS cagers to a 43-38 margin. They trailed by three points, 27-24, at halftime and Armstead led them on the comeback trail with four buckets in the third stanza.

Tied at 6:40

High scoring Jim Tanous and John Elliott started the final eight minutes with deuces and then Jeff Grund's foul shot with 6:40 to play knotted the score.

Grund came back with a lay-up after swiping a pass at mid-court. Bob Dibble tapped in a rebound, Tanous converted a free throw and hit from outside and Grund canned another charity toss. The scoreboard now read 51-43, in favor of Liberty and half the quarter had been played.

Mills Breaks Famine

Len Mills finally put his club on the board with a long jumper and Chip Ennis followed with two free throws, slicing the lead to four points, 51-47, with 2:20 to play.

The Indians weren't to be denied. Grund's foul made it 52-47. Big Jim Plunket, who was outstanding all evening long for Coach John Gilligan's cagers, made a pair of foul tosses and it was still a game, 52-49, with 1:45 remaining.

Ennis converted one of two chances at the foul line to make it, 52-50, but the Indians had the ball and there were only 59 seconds left.

Shaved to One Point

Tanous was fouled with 43 seconds to go and he made one of his attempts. A layup by Plunket with 35 seconds left made it a nail biter, 53-52. However, the locals had to foul in an attempt to get the ball. Tanous made a pair and Elliott one to widen the gap.

Both sides pulled ahead in the first half but the Indians put on a late spurt which carried them into their three point margin at the interim.

With ace Larry Marcus on the sidelines because of an injury, the Maroon cagers were shorthanded. Reserve Brian Bach was bedded with the flu.

Plunket rimmed 17 points and pulled down 18 rebounds to pace Kingston. Steady Armstead countered with 13. Tanous sank 18 and Grund 13 for the Indians, who scored their second straight victory at the Field House.

Kingston is now 2-2 in league play and will travel to Newburgh for a Friday meeting with the league leading Goldbacks.

RVC Tops Tri Valley By 56-46

Rondout Valley Central staged a strong second half to defeat Tri-Valley Central of Grahamsville, 56-46, Wednesday night on the Rondout boards. It was the 7th win in 10 starts for Coach Chick Meehan's Golden Ganders.

Cliff Schoonmaker, who led both teams with 24 points, sparked the second half comeback after the Ganders found themselves trailing their hosts, 29-19 at the half. Rondout outscored the visitors 37-17 after intermission.

Schoonmaker potted 10 baskets and four free throws. Dick Dickerman led Tri-Valley with 18.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Got a couple of bucks, a free Saturday and no place to go? We suggest a trip to West Point where a two dollar bill (yes, they're still on the market)) will give you an afternoon of entertainment unmatched anyplace within miles.

Of course, we are talking mostly about the Army basketball team, which plays its games at the huge field house overlooking the Hudson River.

But, if it's not basketball you're interested in but track, lacrosse, squash, pistol, or ice hockey, West Point is the place to go. In fact, on a given Saturday, you might get to see three or four of your favorite sports.

YOUNG COACH, HUSTLING CLUB

We caught our first glimpse of the 1963-64 Cadet cage team last Saturday against Syracuse and the results were very satisfying.

Not only did Army win a pulsating, 69-68, decision, but the Cadets impressed us as a solid, well-coached club, one that might receive another bid from the NIT selection committee.

Coaching this club, which has every starter back next season, is 26-year-old Taylor (Tates) Locke, who was promoted from the plebe coaching ranks at the conclusion of last season.

At first glance, you might imagine Locke to be a Cadet himself. He wears his blondish hair on the short side, is built like he were going through daily drills at the historic military school and jumps up and down like a cheerleader.

UNBEATEN PLEBE TEAM

Last year, Locke coached the first undefeated plebe team in the history of the school. Two of his players — Mike Silliman and Bill Helkie are starters on the varsity.

In fact, Silliman is almost a sure-bet to make many All-American teams before the end of his junior year. He's a 6-6, 19-year-old cager from Louisville, Kentucky. For his size, Mike is very good at dribbling, shooting, rebounding and playing defense.

Syracuse, which had lost by only two points the previous night to rugged LaSalle, thought so much of Silliman that coach Fred Lewis had his boys play a zone defense but defensed Silliman one-on-one.

The Cadets, much to the delight of the more than 3,600 in attendance, played exceptionally well in the first half and went off the floor with a commanding, 37-27, lead. Silliman not only scored but he rebounded and fed his teammates to set up other baskets.

With 9:30 left, Army still had that 10 point margin, 56-46. It had been a 16 point lead only minutes earlier but the visitors started to untrack themselves.

Though Syracuse finally lost by only one point, Army never relinquished the lead in the second half. Those who watched Locke operate, might have patterned him after a striptease in a night club.

JACKET OFF, TIE UNKNOTTED

The energetic coach started the game with a nifty suit, completely on. By the end of the nail biter, he had the jacket on the bench and his necktie unknotted.

After every Cadet basket, Tate would jump up with a solid cheer. When Syracuse scored or when the home side threw a pass away or missed an easy shot, the coach would just bury his face in the palms of his hands.

Twice he disagreed with a call by the officials. The first time, he kicked the bench so hard it wouldn't have surprised us if he broke his toe. The second time, a white towel went flying into the air and a whistle went off in the officials mouth, signifying a technical foul on Locke.

A TOUGH SCHEDULE

Army is flying high with eight victories in 10 starts. Seton Hall, a top Eastern independent, is at the Field House this Saturday at 8 o'clock. Before the season is concluded, Fordham, NYU, Rutgers, St. John's, Penn State and Navy will have made an appearance at the Cadet gym.

With Locke at the helm, basketball fortunes at West Point are definitely on the rise. The home schedule makes the football home slate look pale by comparison.

If you like your basketball big league college style, take a drive to West Point. From Kingston, take the Thruway to Newburgh and then go via Route 9W. The price is right and the basketball is good, exciting and colorful. Locke makes sure of that.

If the distaff buffs are interested, they will not only see a good game but can catch a glimpse of more than 1,000 Cadets, smartly dressed in the uniform of the school.

The 50 Club got a 36-point barrage from Wally Lukaszewski to drub Hudson Cement, 93 to 55, last night and extend its unbeaten YMCA "B" League winning streak to five straight.

Hub Delicatessen, which has won all of its four games to date, was idle. In the other "B" contest, Schaller's Texaco rallied to nip Mid-City Lanes for its 4th win in five starts.

Bags 16 Baskets

Lukaszewski, a hot hand in recent outings, bagged 16 fields and four free throws for his 36 cluster. Ricky Broberg assisted with 20. Jim Uhl's 15 points led Hudson Cement, which trailed 41-19 at the half.

With Bill Boice doing heavy duty, Mid-City Lanes led Schaller's 26-23 at halftime but slowly but relentlessly bowed to Schaller pressure after the recess. Boice emerged as high scorer with 25 points. Rich Nagele dunked 19 for the winners.

Predict Record Score in Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's National Pro-golfing's most unpredictable events—opened today with conditions ripe for a tournament record score.

A field of 174 pros teed off in the $60,000 competition. Each was paired with an amateur in the concurrent best-ball pro-am battle.

Predictions of good weather through at least Saturday heightened chances that Billy Casper's tournament record of 277 might fall. A field including most of golf's top names further increased the record possibility.

Al Geiberger, among the hottest professionals in late 1963 and early 1964, predicted it will take under 280 to win if the weather holds good.

The field was split in thirds—one group each at Cypress Point, Pebble Beach and the Monterey Peninsula courses. All are par-72 layouts dotted with many traps, sand dunes and shot-wasting tangles of rough.

285 Won in 1963

Despite good weather last year, Casper's winning score was only 285. He set his record in 1958 and only once since then has the winning total dipped below 282.

Much attention was focussed on the 1964 debut of Jack Nicklaus, 1963 PGA and Masters king who delayed his start to get a rest. Arnold Palmer was trying to erase memories of the 1963 Crosby when he played one stretch of seven holes seven-over-par and finally was disqualified for erroneously playing a provisional ball after rapping a tee shot into a tide pool.

Gary Player is the only member of golf's Big Three not on hand. He stayed in South Africa for the arrival of his fourth child. Art Wall and Paul Harney, winners of 1964's other tournaments and 1963 Open champion Julius Boros also drew attention.

The field will rotate around the three courses for the first three rounds. The 50 low pro-am teams and pros in money competition play Sunday's final round at Pebble Beach before a national television audience.

Rich Aurigemma was top man with 23 points and two others hit in double figures, as Marlboro winged to a 40-22 half time lead. Vin Caserto added 18 and Henry Bell hit 12.

Charles Delmonico was the whole show for Valley Central with 22 points.

Marlboro's Jayvees nipped Valley Central in the prelim, 47-46. Rich Faulk hit 210 and Dave Schishazy 10 for the winners. Guy Bartell led VC with 14.

Fourth Loss to Date

Cincinnati's Regime Is Drawing to Close

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The end of an era seems at hand for Cincinnati in college basketball.

For six straight years, starting with the advent of Oscar Robertson, "the Big O," the Bearcats have swept all before them in the tough Missouri Valley Conference and last March just missed an unprecedented third straight national championship by losing in overtime to Chicago Loyola.

Robertson graduated after the 1960 season and Coach George Smith moved up to director of athletics. But the triumphant parade continued under new Coach Ed Jucker whose teams won a fantastic 82 of 89 games the last three years. Included were winning streaks of 27 and 37 straight.

Now, however, the Bearcats already have lost four games, the most in five years, and the hardest part of their MVC schedule still is ahead. UC still is dangerous and eighth-ranked nationally with nine wins against major opposition, but the Bearcats can't afford any more slips.

The Bradley Braves administered UC's fourth defeat Wednesday night, 87-77 and in the process ended the 'Cats winning streak of 41 on their home court. In fact it was the first MVC game the Bearcats have lost in the fieldhouse.

Strawder Hits 33

Joe Strawder, with 33 points, and Levern Tart, with 24, broke the game wide open for Bradley in the second half. All-America Ron Bonham threw in 25 for Cincinnati, but missed his last seven shots from the field.

The fifth-ranked unbeaten Davidson Wildcats, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Wednesday, came through with their 14th straight triumph, a weird 52-49 decision over Richmond.

The Wildcats, ahead 48-45, didn't shoot from the field for the last 13 minutes of play as they went into a deep freeze. Their last four points came on free throws, the last after the final whistle.

Hardin Simmons registered the upset of the night by downing Oklahoma City 87-74 behind Nate Madkins' 28 points. Bud Koper, Oklahoma City star, tossed in 23 before he suffered a cut over his eye late in the game.

Bill Cunningham's 27 points and good defensive work by Bryan McSweeney on Larry Lakins sparked North Carolina to a 79-71 victory over N.C. State while West Virginia and Xavier of Ohio both exploded in the second half to defeat Penn State 84-63 and Louisville 80-79, respectively.

College Five In Exhibition

Because of a mixup in scheduling, the Ulster Community College Senators' trip to Rockland County last night was reduced to the status of an informal contest. The hosts won it, 83-70.

When Ulster Community arrived "unscheduled" according to Rockland, a game was hurriedly thrown together, but some of the Rockland big guns were missing. Bill Pendleton's 26 points made the trip worthwhile for the Senators.

Rangers Hold on To Defeat Leafs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's timekeeper claims third periods in Maple Leaf Gardens are 20 minutes long just like everywhere else in the National Hockey League.

But it felt more like 49 for New York Coach Red Sullivan sweated it out as the Rangers all but tossed away a 5-0 lead and held on for a 5-4 victory over the Leafs in Wednesday's only NHL game.

Everything came up roses for the Rangers in the first two sessions as they peppered Leaf goalie Don Simmons, who let almost as many shots get by as he managed to stop. Simmons had 13 saves as New York had a 5-1 lead after two periods.

Suddenly the tide changed as three Leaf goals in 8½ minutes of the third period had Sullivan gasping. But the Rangers held on and escaped with their first victory in Toronto this season and only their second in the last 22 games at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The victory moved the Rangers within five points of the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings and left Toronto still tied with Montreal for second place, three points behind league-leading Chicago.

Warriors Scalp Pistons in Old Fashioned Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who says the National Basketball Association has a bunch of score-happy teams?

You couldn't prove it by San Francisco and Detroit—at least not by their game Wednesday night. The game, won by San Francisco 89-79, was the lowest scoring games of the season.

But it was the second quarter that perhaps started people thinking the teams were trying to revolutionize the professional game. Each team scored only 11 points in that 12-minute span a feat as rare as NBA players under six feet tall.

Both teams recovered slightly after halftime, with the Warriors getting the better of the increased scoring the rest of the way.

The total point output for Detroit was its lowest at home in more than seven years.

Wilt Chamberlain paced San Francisco in scoring with 32 points. Bailey Howell had 21 for Detroit.

Two Normal Games

In a couple of more normal games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 111-109 and Boston kept its slate clean against Baltimore 113-108.

Elgin Baylor's twisting flip shot from close in gave the Lakers their victory in the contest that was tied 30 times.

Cliff Hagan led all scorers with 39 points while Jerry West finished with 36 for Los Angeles.

Baltimore, which now has lost five in a row to Boston, came within three points of the Celtics at 111-108 with 40 seconds to play. But Sam Jones clinched the Boston triumph with a shot from the corner.

All eight Boston players scored in double figures. Baltimore's Rod Thorn and Terry Dischinger tallied 23 each.

Western Michigan Ace Averaging 33 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Manny Newsome of Western Michigan tossed in 35 points against Central Michigan Tuesday and became college basketball's leading individual scorer.

Newsome moved ahead of (Butch) Komives of Bowling Green, who managed 29 points against Kent State the same night.

The weekly statistics for major colleges, released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show Newsome on top with an average of 33.5 on 435 points in 13 games. Komives, No. 1 the last two weeks, now is second at 32.7 with 294 in nine games.

Danny Schultz of Tennessee continued the top foul shooter with 42 of 43 for a pct. of .977 and Paul Silas of Creighton retained the rebound leadership with 304 in 13 games for an average of 23.4. Jim King of Oklahoma State took over first in field goal percentage with a .640 on 48 of 75 attempts.

Emergency Measures To Save Olympic Games

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Organizers of the 1964 Winter Olympics battled thaw, rain and lack of snow today in a heroic effort to save the games from disaster.

An emergency force of nearly 3,000 officials, army engineers, infantrymen and civilian volunteers were hunting for snow in far-off mountain regions and lugging it onto the Olympic sites.

Machines sprayed artificial snow on the bob sled and toboggan courses to stop the ice from melting in the balmy air.

Organizers are determined not to change the program, but they admit they may be forced to unless the weather changes for the games Jan. 29-Feb. 9.

LBJ Welcomes Davis Cuppers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson welcomed the Davis Cup back to the United States, gave the tennis players who won it a grand tour of the White House and learned he has a tennis court in the back yard.

With the large, 63-year-old silver trophy gleaming on a table in the Cabinet room, Johnson told the young men Wednesday their victory proved they have "the desire for the pursuit of excellence."

On hand for the ceremony were Chuck McKinley and his wife, Dennis Ralston, Marty Riessen, nonplaying captain Bob Kelleher and his son Jeff, and Edward A. Turville, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Johnson said he was pleased that the players—who captured the Cup from Australia last month—were from all parts of the country, especially the two who are products of Trinity University in San Antonio.

This was a reference to McKinley and Frank Froehling, another team member recovering from an operation and not at the White House, who both attended the Texas school. The fifth member of the team, Gene Scott also was unable to attend.

During the tour, McKinley asked the President: "Do you have a tennis court here?"

"I don't think so," he replied, "although right out yonder is where President Eisenhower practiced some golf shots."

Mrs. Pauline Betz Addie, former U.S. and Wimbledon women's tennis champion who accompanied the Davis Cup team to the White House, told the President there was indeed a cement court out there "somewhere under the snow."

"It could be," the President said, grinning. "I've only been here 50 days and I'm not sure just what's in this place."

Oakland Raiders Sign Susquehanna Player

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders announced today signing of Don Green, 6-foot 200-pound back from Susquehanna University and fifth draft choice of the American Football League club.

Green is the sixth rookie among the Raiders top 10 draft choices to sign up. The club has signed seven rookies altogether. The 21-year-old from Harrisburg, Pa., was a quarterback in college. The Raiders said he will be tried as defensive safety or quarterback.

Lady finger pans are available; they come with six or 12 compartments.

Paavo Sees Anzac Olympic Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — Paavo Nurmi, the old Flying Finn whose running feats had the track world agog in the 1920s, expects great things of Anzac runners in the 1964 T kyo Olympics. And he doesn't think the Russians ever will be dominant in distance running.

It's a matter of physique, training methods and living conditions as well as desire to win.

Nurmi, who ran about 53 or 54 indoor races in America in the 1920s and won most of them, is in the United States for the first time since 1940. He came here to attend sports dinners honoring old-time Olympic stars in Boston Jan. 21 and New York Jan. 25.

Despite his dislike for travel and a tiring flight from Finland, he seemed to be having the time of his life as he recalled his Olympic and American triumphs at a press conference. He talked a lot more freely than he did when he was here as a runner. But he was dead serious when he discussed modern runners and modern training.

"For the 1,500 meters Peter Snell of New Zealand would be my choice because of his condition," Nurmi said in discussing Olympic runners. "Michel Jazy of France might win. For the 5,000 meters maybe Jazy, though your Jim Beatty has a good chance. He's an excellent runner for a short man. For the 10,000 some East European or this new Australian."

Paavo couldn't remember the name, but he referred to Ron Clarke, who broke the world records for six miles and 10,000 meters last month.

Although runners from Iron Curtain countries have taken many distance records in recent years, Nurmi thinks Americans and Australians have great potential as runners "because they're taller and have longer muscles." What might hold them back is easy living conditions and disinclination for the effort and sweat required to train for distances.

Rangers Hold on To Defeat Leafs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's timekeeper claims third periods in Maple Leaf Gardens are 20 minutes long just like everywhere else in the National Hockey League.

But it felt more like 49 for New York Coach Red Sullivan sweated it out as the Rangers all but tossed away a 5-0 lead and held on for a 5-4 victory over the Leafs in Wednesday's only NHL game.

Everything came up roses for the Rangers in the first two sessions as they peppered Leaf goalie Don Simmons, who let almost as many shots get by as he managed to stop. Simmons had 13 saves as New York had a 5-1 lead after two periods.

Suddenly the tide changed as three Leaf goals in 8½ minutes of the third period had Sullivan gasping. But the Rangers held on and escaped with their first victory in Toronto this season and only their second in the last 22 games at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The victory moved the Rangers within five points of the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings and left Toronto still tied with Montreal for second place, three points behind league-leading Chicago.

Warriors Scalp Pistons in Old Fashioned Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who says the National Basketball Association has a bunch of score-happy teams?

You couldn't prove it by San Francisco and Detroit—at least not by their game Wednesday night. The game, won by San Francisco 89-79, was the lowest scoring games of the season.

But it was the second quarter that perhaps started people thinking the teams were trying to revolutionize the professional game. Each team scored only 11 points in that 12-minute span a feat as rare as NBA players under six feet tall.

Both teams recovered slightly after halftime, with the Warriors getting the better of the increased scoring the rest of the way.

The total point output for Detroit was its lowest at home in more than seven years.

Wilt Chamberlain paced San Francisco in scoring with 32 points. Bailey Howell had 21 for Detroit.

Two Normal Games

In a couple of more normal games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 111-109 and Boston kept its slate clean against Baltimore 113-108.

Elgin Baylor's twisting flip shot from close in gave the Lakers their victory in the contest that was tied 30 times.

Cliff Hagan led all scorers with 39 points while Jerry West finished with 36 for Los Angeles.

Baltimore, which now has lost five in a row to Boston, came within three points of the Celtics at 111-108 with 40 seconds to play. But Sam Jones clinched the Boston triumph with a shot from the corner.

All eight Boston players scored in double figures. Baltimore's Rod Thorn and Terry Dischinger tallied 23 each.

Western Michigan Ace Averaging 33 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Manny Newsome of Western Michigan tossed in 35 points against Central Michigan Tuesday and became college basketball's leading individual scorer.

Newsome moved ahead of (Butch) Komives of Bowling Green, who managed 29 points against Kent State the same night.

The weekly statistics for major colleges, released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show Newsome on top with an average of 33.5 on 435 points in 13 games. Komives, No. 1 the last two weeks, now is second at 32.7 with 294 in nine games.

Danny Schultz of Tennessee continued the top foul shooter with 42 of 43 for a pct. of .977 and Paul Silas of Creighton retained the rebound leadership with 304 in 13 games for an average of 23.4. Jim King of Oklahoma State took over first in field goal percentage with a .640 on 48 of 75 attempts.

Emergency Measures To Save Olympic Games

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Organizers of the 1964 Winter Olympics battled thaw, rain and lack of snow today in a heroic effort to save the games from disaster.

An emergency force of nearly 3,000 officials, army engineers, infantrymen and civilian volunteers were hunting for snow in far-off mountain regions and lugging it onto the Olympic sites.

Machines sprayed artificial snow on the bob sled and toboggan courses to stop the ice from melting in the balmy air.

Organizers are determined not to change the program, but they admit they may be forced to unless the weather changes for the games Jan. 29-Feb. 9.

LBJ Welcomes Davis Cuppers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson welcomed the Davis Cup back to the United States, gave the tennis players who won it a grand tour of the White House and learned he has a tennis court in the back yard.

With the large, 63-year-old silver trophy gleaming on a table in the Cabinet room, Johnson told the young men Wednesday their victory proved they have "the desire for the pursuit of excellence."

On hand for the ceremony were Chuck McKinley and his wife, Dennis Ralston, Marty Riessen, nonplaying captain Bob Kelleher and his son Jeff, and Edward A. Turville, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Johnson said he was pleased that the players—who captured the Cup from Australia last month—were from all parts of the country, especially the two who are products of Trinity University in San Antonio.

This was a reference to McKinley and Frank Froehling, another team member recovering from an operation and not at the White House, who both attended the Texas school. The fifth member of the team, Gene Scott also was unable to attend.

During the tour, McKinley asked the President: "Do you have a tennis court here?"

"I don't think so," he replied, "although right out yonder is where President Eisenhower practiced some golf shots."

Mrs. Pauline Betz Addie, former U.S. and Wimbledon women's tennis champion who accompanied the Davis Cup team to the White House, told the President there was indeed a cement court out there "somewhere under the snow."

"It could be," the President said, grinning. "I've only been here 50 days and I'm not sure just what's in this place."

Oakland Raiders Sign Susquehanna Player

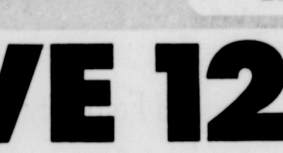

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders announced today signing of Don Green, 6-foot 200-pound back from Susquehanna University and fifth draft choice of the American Football League club.

Green is the sixth rookie among the Raiders top 10 draft choices to sign up. The club has signed seven rookies altogether. The 21-year-old from Harrisburg, Pa., was a quarterback in college. The Raiders said he will be tried as defensive safety or quarterback.

Lady finger pans are available; they come with six or 12 compartments.

Paavo Sees Anzac Olympic Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — Paavo Nurmi, the old Flying Finn whose running feats had the track world agog in the 1920s, expects great things of Anzac runners in the 1964 T kyo Olympics. And he doesn't think the Russians ever will be dominant in distance running.

It's a matter of physique, training methods and living conditions as well as desire to win.

Nurmi, who ran about 53 or 54 indoor races in America in the 1920s and won most of them, is in the United States for the first time since 1940. He came here to attend sports dinners honoring old-time Olympic stars in Boston Jan. 21 and New York Jan. 25.

Despite his dislike for travel and a tiring flight from Finland, he seemed to be having the time of his life as he recalled his Olympic and American triumphs at a press conference. He talked a lot more freely than he did when he was here as a runner. But he was dead serious when he discussed modern runners and modern training.

"For the 1,500 meters Peter Snell of New Zealand would be my choice because of his condition," Nurmi said in discussing Olympic runners. "Michel Jazy of France might win. For the 5,000 meters maybe Jazy, though your Jim Beatty has a good chance. He's an excellent runner for a short man. For the 10,000 some East European or this new Australian."

Paavo couldn't remember the name, but he referred to Ron Clarke, who broke the world records for six miles and 10,000 meters last month.

Although runners from Iron Curtain countries have taken many distance records in recent years, Nurmi thinks Americans and Australians have great potential as runners "because they're taller and have longer muscles." What might hold them back is easy living conditions and disinclination for the effort and sweat required to train for distances.

Sub-Zero Pocket Holds Mercury At Low Readings

A pocket of frigid air hung over most of the northwestern portions of Ulster County this morning registering sub-zero mercury readings as low as 10 below zero while many selections of the county reported temperatures above the zero mark.

The official temperature at Blue Mountain Reservoir early this morning was -10, only three degrees warmer than yesterday's low reading reported by Saugerties Water Superintendent Mandeville Diaz.

Above Zero Here

The official Kingston temperature reported by the City Engineers Office was at two above zero at 6:45 a. m. This was the overnight low. However, uptown sections of the city reported -3 at 6 a. m.

The Zena Filter Plant of Kingston's Water Department reported an overnight low of -6 at 7 a. m. today.

The Ashokan Reservoir Gatehouse reported an official low reading of -4 this morning. Woodstock and Saugerties villages reported unofficial zero readings, Tillson 4 above and Ellenville 5 above zero.

Minus six was the low in the Catskill area reported by Leeds state police barracks. Rhinebeck across the river had -4.

The Associated Press reported fairly mild winter weather greeted most New Yorkers today after a rough three days for many.

Albany Has -6

Overnight low temperatures were mainly above zero, although Albany recorded -6, Rome -4 and Syracuse -2. The Weather Bureau predicted Friday would be generally a little colder, with continued scattered snow flurries.

The body of another man was found Wednesday in a snowdrift, and coroner said he had died of exposure in sub-zero temperatures earlier this week. He was Frank Sankner, about 70, of Cooks Falls, Delaware County. Fire had destroyed the house where he lived alone. The body was near the ruins.

State Toll Now 25

The state's death toll from Monday's blizzard and the cold this week had been 25, including two men frozen to death.

Today's overnight lows took an odd pattern, as Buffalo and Massena both recorded 23 above, and Watertown's 21 above matched LaGuardia Field's. Other readings ranged mostly through the teens down to 1 above at Oneonta.

Dutchess Records 1st '64 Deaths

Dutchess County's first two highway fatalities of 1964 were recorded on Tuesday following an automobile accident on the Taconic Parkway near Bogardus Road, Town of East Fishkill.

Troopers identified the victims as Sig Buchmayr, owner of a chain of ski and sporting goods stores, and Mrs. Irmfried Ferenti, 42, of Manchester, Vt., a citizen of Austria.

Authorities said the car, driven by Mrs. Ferenti, left the parkway on a straight stretch and hit a tree. The pavement was dry and clear at the time.

Buchmayr and Mrs. Ferenti apparently were returning to New York City. Both wore ski clothes. Buchmayr was an internationally known ski promoter and enthusiast.

Hold Highland Man On Burglary Charge

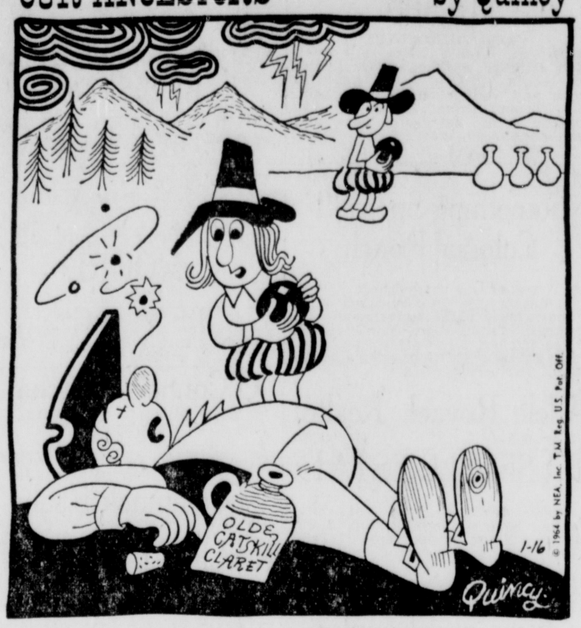

State police investigation of a burglary at the home of James Casaburo on New Paltz Road, Highland, on Jan. 10, resulted in the arrest on Wednesday of Byron Purdy, 23, of Highland.

Sergeant E. E. Winkky said BCI Investigator P. M. Luongo took Purdy in custody and charged him with burglary third degree. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Philip Schunk, Town of Lloyd, the defendant waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action.

Troopers reported Purdy is accused of entering the Casaburo home through a second floor window and stealing articles including a valuable camera.

Winter Slams Anew At Southeast U.S.

ATLANTA (AP) — Another winter storm brought snow and ice to the central portion of the Southeast today. It was the fourth snow storm of the winter in a region where snow once a year is the rule.

The snow and freezing rain moved across the region from the Southwest. The storm developed over the northwest Gulf of Mexico and is following a pattern set by earlier winter storms.

The Weather Bureau issued a critical weather warning including a wide area from parts of southwest and central Texas through east central and northeast Texas, southeast Oklahoma, southern Arkansas, northern Louisiana, portions of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and southern Tennessee.

Cold weather dealt Florida a damaging blow Wednesday. The state's winter vegetable crop was damaged, but there was little damage to the citrus crop.

Florida temperatures are not expected to dip below freezing in the aftermath of the current storm as has happened in earlier storms.

Heavy snow fell in north central and northeastern Texas and spread into northern Louisiana and southern Arkansas. Five inches snow fell in a six-hour period in Dallas and four inches in Fort Worth. Rain and some sleet pelted south central and southeastern Texas and southern Louisiana.

Generally dry and clear weather was reported in most other parts of the nation.

Erhard, Home Vow Cautious Search To Ease Tension

LONDON (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard said he and Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home agreed today to search cautiously for ways to ease tension with the Soviet Union.

Erhard told newsmen that his discussions during the two-day visit with the British "ended in full harmony." The German leader said the status quo should not be changed in Germany and Berlin in a sense negative to the Western world.

"There are no questions on which we had genuine differences," Erhard said. "Of course, one some points there was a difference in shading."

Erhard told a news conference the problem of German reunification will be further discussed by the allied ambassadors' steering committee in Washington.

He and the British prime minister agreed on the idea of a visit by Queen Elizabeth II to West Germany to help kill any lingering animosities from two world wars. Details, however, were not fixed.

Thanked for Meeting

VATICAN CITY (AP) — An emissary from Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople (Isbul) called on Pope Paul VI today to thank him for meeting the Orthodox spiritual leader in the Holy Land.

Metropolitan Athenagoras, Orthodox archbishop of Britain, was received by the Roman Catholic ruler in the Apostolic Palace.

Planners Meet 20th

Due to the blizzard, the regular January 13 meeting of the Ulster County Planning Board has been postponed one week, to the evening of January 20.

Highland Bank To Have Branch At New Paltz

The First National Bank of Highland has received approval for the establishment of branch banks at New Paltz and in the area near Newburgh. Announcement of the two branches was made at the annual meeting held Wednesday.

Officers elected are Clarence E. Tompkins, president; Joseph Alfano, executive vice president; George Alfano, vice president and cashier; William A. Coy, vice president. Coy was named to succeed the late Cluett Schantz.

Directors renamed are Stewart T. Schantz, Clarence E. Tompkins, Joseph Alfano, George Alfano, George H. Sutton, Mrs. Florence E. Pratt and William A. Coy.

Students Escape Injury in Crash

Thirty Marlboro school pupils escaped injury shortly after 3 p. m. Wednesday, when a school bus and a car were involved in a collision at the intersection of Route 9W and the Milton Turnpike.

Highland state police reported the bus, owned by the Diamond D Bus Lines Inc., was operated at the time by Mabel L. Visconti, 30, of Western Avenue, Marlboro. The car was driven by James W. Stuckman, 38, of Highland.

According to an accident report filed by Highland troopers, the operator of the bus stopped for a flashing light and then proceeded to cross Route 9W when the accident occurred. The Diamond D Bus Lines is under contract for transportation of pupils in the Marlboro School District, troopers said.

8 Candidates Might Sew Up 350 Votes

If Favorite-Son Crop Keeps Up Rocky, Barry Could Fall Short

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are stacking up a near-record crop of favorite son aspirants who might sew up as many as 350 votes in early convention presidential nomination balloting.

If all eight presently discussed home-state candidacies materialize, such active seekers of the nomination as Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller could find themselves substantially short of the necessary 655 votes when the San Francisco convention opens July 13.

A sweep in the presidential primaries could alter this situation by collapsing some of the favorite son movements.

For practical purposes, however, the number of primaries influencing delegate votes where contests are likely has been reduced to 10, with a total of 299 convention votes. These include New Hampshire, Maryland, District of Columbia, West Virginia, Florida, Indiana, Illinois, South Dakota, Oregon and California.

Direction of Votes

Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania have been eliminated from the primary lists by favorite son arrangements. Wisconson Republicans plan to give their 30 votes to Rep. John W. Byrnes, Ohio's 58 will go to Gov. James A. Rhodes, and Pennsylvania's 64 to Gov. William W. Scranton. Michigan, without a primary, will cast its 48 votes for Gov. George Romney.

Scranton, who is looked upon by many as a potential major candidate, got a hint Wednesday that he might become an early ballot beneficiary of New Jersey's 40 convention votes. That state has a primary, but major contenders may avoid it.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., the state's top Republican office holder, listed Scranton as a "very attractive possibility" for the nomination. He said the governor is "very hot at the moment."

To Make Decision

Colorado Republicans who have leaned toward Goldwater in the past expect to make some decisions at a meeting in Denver this weekend on whether they will back Sen. Gordon Allott as a favorite son.

If Colorado puts its 18 votes in the pot for Allott, the senator's friends hope Idaho will follow suit with its 14 and Wyoming with its 12.

Kentucky Republicans may designate either Sen. Thruston B. Morton or his colleague, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, as a favorite son to hold the state's 24 votes.

In Minnesota, former Rep. Walter H. Judd has agreed to let his name go on the list. That state delegation will cast 28 votes.

If Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, should announce Jan. 27 that she will become a presidential candidate, most of her friends think Maine Republicans would be happy to designate her as their "favorite daughter" and give her 14 votes on the first ballot.

The possibility of favorite son support for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the 1960 vice presidential nominee, is likely to be considered in Massachusetts, if Lodge's friends make any headway toward getting him in the race.

Massachusetts, which has a primary, has 34 convention votes.
